U. S. MUST SET PEACE EXAMPLE, SAYS WILSON

President Greeted by 4000—Aim is Good of Humanity—Man May be Too Proud to Fight, He Says

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—President Wilson gave to a gathering of 4000 naturalized Americans last night the first intimation of the course which the United States government probably will pursue in the situation resulting from the loss of more than a hundred lives on the British liner Lusitania. He spoke by implication, but his hearers interpreted his remarks as meaning that while the United States would remain at peace, it would seek to convince Germany of the injustice to mankind of the tragedy of last Friday.

"America," said the president, "must have the consciousness that on all sides it touches elbows and touches hearts with all the nations of mankind. The

AIR RAID NEAR PARIS

German Aeroplane Drops Bombs—Report Germany and Austria Have Declared War on Italy

PARIS, May 11, 9.45 a. m.—A German aeroplane of the Taube type, New over St. Denis, a suburb of Paris, this morning and dropped two bombs. One missile wounded five persons, while the other fell on a building without causing damage.

ONLY FOUR OF BOMBS DROPPED ON SOUTHEAST WERE EXPLOSIVE

SOUTHEAST, England, May 11, 3.25 a. m.—Only four of the bombs dropped by Zeppelin airships in their raid here early yesterday were explosive. The remainder were incendiary. The former weighed about 100 pounds each, but the latter only 10 pounds.

REPORT IN PARIS THAT GERMANY AND AUSTRIA HAVE DECLARED WAR ON ITALY

PARIS, May 11.—It is being persistently rumored in Paris that Germany and Austria-Hungary already have declared or are about to declare war on Italy in anticipation of such action on her part directed against themselves. This report, however, has received no confirmation of any kind.

Another rumor which made its appearance on the bourse today is that the Italian government has signed an agreement with the allies, Great Britain, France and Russia to take part in the war not later than May 26. This rumor also is without confirmation.

French observers of the political situation in Italy infer from the audience yesterday between King Victor Emmanuel and former Prime Minister Giolitti that the non-intervention party in Italy has determined to withdraw all opposition to the war. Consequently the Italian parties would be united in the support of a war policy in the judgment of French observers, based on two fundamental considerations, namely that wrongs have been done to Serbia and Belgium and that the racial aspirations of the Italians on the eastern shore of the Adriatic and the Mediterranean now can be satisfied.

FEATURES OF LAST NIGHT'S EUROPEAN WAR NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

French continue their gains north of Arras, capturing 2000 Germans. Germany admits allies took trenches between Carancy and Neuville. Austro-German armies pursue Russians eastward in Galicia.

Sir John French reports British repulsed five attacks east of Ypres. Russians claim Turks are driven back in the Caucasus and near Tabriz. Germans suffer reverse near Mitau, capital of Courland, on the Baltic.

NO GENERAL CANCELLATIONS FOLLOW LOSS OF LUSITANIA

More Bodies Washed Ashore—Heavy Toll Due to Scarcity of Lifebelts—London Times Says Germany is so Confident of Victory That it Does Not Care What U. S. May Say or Do

NEW YORK, May 11.—No general cancellations of the sailings of steamers or of passages engaged from New York to European ports has followed the sinking of the Lusitania, according to agents of steamship lines here. They say, however, that there has been an increase in the popularity of vessels flying neutral flags. The fact that the American life has stopped booking third class passengers for the St. Louis, which is due to leave here May 15, was cited as an evidence of this.

No Sailings Cancelled

The agent of the French line said that the sinking of the Lusitania would not prevent them from sending their steamers across as usual. At the offices of the Scandinavian-American and Holland-American lines it was stated that no sailings had been cancelled.

Olympic to Sail May 14

Agents of the White Star line said the Olympic would sail from New York for Liverpool next Friday, May 14, according to schedule. Forty cabin and 300 steerage passengers already are booked for that steamer.

The Cunard Liners

At the offices of the Cunard line it was said that no instructions have been received from Liverpool regarding the sailings of its steamers and there have been no cancellations.

2385 in War Zone

It was estimated that 2385 passengers are on board the various steamers from American ports bound for destinations that will take them within range of German submarine activity.

LONDON TIMES COMMENT

Says Sinking of Lusitania Means Germany is so Confident of Victory That It Does Not Care What U. S. May Do

LONDON, May 11.—The principal features of editorial discussion in the newspapers continue to be advocacy of drastic treatment for Germany in Great Britain and curiosity as to what action the United States will take in reference to the Lusitania disaster.

Sir Valentine Chilcote writing in the Times attributes the German submarine activity entirely to Albert Ballin, director general of the Hamburg-American steamship line, who for years has been one of Emperor William's most trusted advisers in all questions of maritime policy. Sir Valentine declares Herr Ballin dissuaded Germany's rulers from going to war in 1914 over Agadir because the German submarine was not then developed to a point where it could exact effective reprisals from the British mercantile marine.

Discussing the attitude of the United States toward Germany the Times says it "does not complain" because of the lack of vigorous action at Washington but says:

"We are concerned only to make the British people understand that they must not look to the United States for any other external factor but must rely on themselves and their allies. What ever prompted the sinking of the Lusitania it means the German nation is so confident of ultimate victory that it does not care in the least what the United States may say or do."

ATTITUDE OF WILSON

Paris Papers Think United States Should Expel German Ambassadors

PARIS, May 11, 3.15 a. m.—While the press continues to display intense interest in the sinking of the Lusitania, the discussion in editorial columns is now turning more towards the political side of the tragedy and the probable attitude of President Wilson. Much curiosity is displayed as to what will be the decision of the Washington government. The Matin believes the least the United States could do would be to expel the German ambassador.

MURDER ON HIGH SEAS

Conference of Australian Premiers Discuss Sinking of Lusitania—Favor Trial for Those Responsible

SYDNEY, N. S. W., May 11.—"The deep indignation felt throughout Australia at the sinking of the Lusitania should find expression in increased participation in the war," was a statement contained in a resolution adopted yesterday at the conference of Australian premiers. The conference also agreed to the suggestion of Premier Holman of New South Wales that a recommendation be made to the Imperial government that Great Britain shall not agree to any peace terms which do not guarantee that officers of the German navy responsible for the orders given, submarines be handed over for trial before British judges charged with murder on the high seas.

UNIDENTIFIED BODIES

The Body of Albert Thompson, of Toronto, Found Drifting Near Coast—Hope Others May Be Found

QUEENSTOWN, May 11.—The body of Albert Thompson, of Toronto, brought in by an admiralty trawler last night, was found drifting with wreckage near the coast not far from the scene of the Lusitania disaster, which leads to the hope that additional bodies may be found in that vicinity. Seven unidentified bodies also were landed at Baltimore, 47 miles northwest of Cork, but the weather conditions are such that it is not considered probable many more will be found in that immediate vicinity and all hope of finding further survivors now has been abandoned.

Bodies Washed Ashore

A current of from two and one-half to three knots races around Old Head, Kinsale, and this has been augmented by a stiff east wind which at the end of eight or nine days may carry bodies ashore around Cape Clear on the west Irish coast.

The Canadian S. S. Co. has sent a tug to the scene of the disaster with instructions to run into the nearest cove and inform Cunard officials here if even a single body is found.

Scarcity of Life Belts

There are indications that the heavy death toll among the American men in the first cabin was due to a scarcity of life belts, many of them having given the life preservers they had obtained to helpless women. There is a preponderance of testimony that no American man got into a boat until after he had been thrown into the water.

Wobbi Wade, secretary to Alfred G. Vanderbilt, has not yet been able to arrange with the authorities to comply with his request that all necessary tugs be chartered at the expense of the Vanderbilt family to search for other bodies as well as that of Mr. Vanderbilt. Until he heard the story of Dr. Kenan of New York Mr. Wade believed his employer had entered one of the boats smashed against the side of the ship, but Dr. Kenan's story is so definite that it is accepted generally as the correct version of Mr. Vanderbilt's last moments aboard the ship. When the Lusitania was in her death throes there was no cooler group than that composed of Mme. Marie Depage, Herbert S. Stone, T. Lyndon W. Bates, Jr. and Dr. J. T. Houghton. The last named was the only survivor of the party. This little band guided women and children, supplied life belts, bound up the wounds of other passengers and then plunged hopelessly into the sea, having given up their own life preservers.

Another throng of anxious friends and relatives arrived here last night, but the chances of identifying more of the dead are remote as great pits in the cemetery are filled with those buried as unknown, while other bodies which come ashore soon will be beyond identification.

TWO LOWELL WOMEN ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED

Were Pinned Under Overturned Auto Near Point of Pines—Mrs. E. C. Dunbar at Hospital

Mrs. Eugene C. Dunbar is at the Lowell General hospital suffering from various injuries, including a broken shoulder, the result of an automobile accident near Point of Pines yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Lydia M. Stevens of 48 Highland street was with Mrs. Dunbar when the accident occurred and she, too, was injured but not as seriously as Mrs. Dunbar. They are not very sure as to the cause of the accident. They were driving toward Lynn when the machine overturned at Northern circle on the boulevard, near Point of Pines. Either the axle or a wheel collapsed, throwing the car over and pinning the women under it.

Arthur C. Pendergast, a tax collector of Revere, who was driving by, raised the car with the help of other men and lifted the women out. He took them in his own automobile to the park station, where their injuries were treated by a physician. Mrs. Dunbar had a cut over the left eye from the broken glass of the windshield, her right shoulder was broken and her right hip was injured if not fractured. Seven stitches were taken in her head after she was removed to the hospital. Mrs. Stevens, who had been driving, escaped with bruises to the head and arms. It was stated at the hospital this morning that Mrs. Dunbar had passed a fairly comfortable night. The accident was not due to fast driving as the auto was going at moderate speed when the crash came.

GERMANY FORCED TO IT

Official Statement Places the Responsibility for Loss of Lusitania on British Government

BERLIN, via London, May 11.—The following despatch has been sent by the German foreign office to the German embassy at Washington:

"Please communicate the following to the state department:

"The German government desires to express its deepest sympathy at the loss of lives on board the Lusitania. The responsibility rests, however, with the British government, which through its plan of starving the civilian population of Germany has forced Germany to resort to retaliatory measures.

"In spite of the German offer to stop the submarine war, in case the starvation plan was given up, British merchant vessels are being generally armed with guns and have repeatedly tried to ram submarines, so that a previous search was impossible.

"They cannot, therefore, be treated as ordinary merchant vessels. A recent declaration made to the British parliament by the parliamentary secretary in answer to a question by Lord Charles Beresford said that at the present practically all British merchant vessels were armed and provided with hand grenades.

"Besides it has been openly admitted by the British press that the Lusitania on previous voyages repeatedly carried large quantities of war material. On the present voyage, the Lusitania carried 6400 cases of ammunition, while the rest of her cargo consisted chiefly of contraband.

"If England, after repeated official and unofficial warnings, considered herself able to declare that that boat ran no risk and thus light-hearted assumed responsibility for the human life on board a steamer which, owing to its armament and cargo, was liable to destruction, the German government, in spite of its heartfelt sympathy for the loss of American lives, cannot but regret that Americans felt more inclined to trust of English promises rather than to pay attention to the warnings from the German side.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, barks and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

SURVIVORS OF LUSITANIA

DR. PEARL WAS SAVED WITH HIS WIFE AND TWO OF THEIR CHILD-REN—TWO CHILDREN LOST

QUEENSTOWN, May 11.—Dr. P. Warren Pearl of New York, who was a surgeon major in the United States army during the Spanish-American war and was on the Lusitania bound for Belgium on Red Cross work, was saved with his wife, who has a broken arm, and two of their children. Two other children and two nurses employed by Dr. Pearl are missing. In the rush to the deck one of the nurses and two of the children were separated from the remainder of the family. Dr. Pearl left his wife in the care of Herbert S. Stone and Lyndon W. Bates, Jr., of New York, while he searched the ship for the missing members of the family.

Mrs. Pearl says that she saw Mr. Stone and Mr. Bates go down when a wave washed over the port side of the ship.

"I was lunching with Mr. Stone, Mr. Bates, Madame De Page and Doctor Houghton when I felt a shock," said Dr. Pearl. "On my way to the deck I saw Charles Frohman distributing life belts. Mr. Frohman evidently did not expect to escape as he said to a woman passenger: 'Why should we fear death? It is the greatest adventure man can have.'"

"When I reached the deck I found that one nurse and two of my children were missing. I discovered later that they got into a boat which was launched safely on the starboard side. I returned to the port side and jumped overboard just before the ship went down.

"I saw no signs of panic. Officers and crew apparently were doing everything possible to save the passengers but the explosion rendered the engines useless and it was impossible to slow down the ship.

"I did not know whether any of my family was safe until I got ashore, after three hours in the water in which I floated in the greatest ease on my lifebelt. When I reached the land I found my wife at Admiral's house, suffering with a broken arm. I soon brought two of our children to her. Two are gone but thank God that so many of my family were saved, especially when I recall that whole families have perished. I saw a father, mother and three daughters, all dead, clasped in each others' arms."

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Noble Grand William T. Hutton presided at the regular meeting of Loyal Integrity lodge, 6530, I. O. O. F., M. U., held last evening in Odd Fellows hall. Two candidates were initiated and applications for membership were received and acted upon. Next Monday evening the gold degree will be worked and the following week the blue degree will be executed. It was announced that the last event in the card tournament between Integrity and Wamsit lodges was won by Wamsit lodge 116 to 93. Integrity won out in the tournament by the total score of 331 to 334.

The players and their scores were as follows: Integrity lodge: Silk and Boutiller, 29; Lynch and Bailey, 24; Hutton and Hosty, 19; Gadnols and Henderson, 11; Rallie and Freeman, 10. Wamsit lodge: Humphries and Adams, 27; Smith and Atkinson, 25; McKinley and Brooks, 21; Lees and Bowden, 21; Mitten and Corbett, 22. The resignation of P. P. G. M. Edward T. Mackley from both staff and lodge was accepted as the condition of his health will not allow him to fill the duties of the office. Mr. Mackley has served as P. P. G. M. for 15 years and it was with sincere regret that his resignation was accepted.

Remarks of appreciation, eulogy and regret were made by N. G. William Hutton, P. S. Chadwick and others. President Boutiller called for a rising vote of thanks for P. P. G. M. Mackley's long and faithful service. Mr. Mackley spoke fittingly and said that he is ready and willing to assist at any time possible when he feels able to be present. Among the other speakers were President Boutiller and Brother Fletcher.

PEACE, SAYS WILSON

example of America must be a special example. And must be an example, not merely of peace, because it will not fight, but because peace is a healing and elevating influence of the world and strife is not.

"There is such a thing as a man being too proud to fight. There is such a thing as being so right that it does not need to convince others by force that it is right."

Lusitania not Mentioned

These remarks precipitated a tumult of applause and patriotic enthusiasm ending by the waving of thousands of small American flags. The president made no direct reference to the Lusitania tragedy, but the audience did not hesitate to read the application of his statement.

The sentiment expressed in the president's speech was epitomized later by one of his closest advisers as "humanity first." While it had not yet been determined, he said, exactly what steps would be taken by the United States in the present crisis, the idea uppermost in the president's mind was to show that whatever course is adopted—no matter how vigorous—it will have as its objective the good of humanity.

Introduced by Mayor Blankenburg, who, in distinctly German accent, spoke a welcome and an appeal for a single allegiance to the United States, the president carried forward the idea of the welding of foreign blood in the make-up of America by pointing out the true goal of right American citizenship to be loyalty, not to the country of one's birth, but to the land of one's adoption.

"While you bring," he said, "all countries with you, you come with a purpose of leaving all other countries behind you—bringing what is best of their spirit, but not looking over your shoulder or seeking to perpetuate what you leave in them. I would not certainly be one who would suggest that a man cease to love the place of his origin. It is one thing to love the place where you were born and another thing to dedicate yourself to the place where you go.

Think First of Humanity

"You can't be an American if you think of yourself in groups. America does not consist of groups. A man who considers himself as belonging to a national group is not yet an American.

"My advice to you is to think first not only of America, but think first of humanity, and you do not love humanity if you seek to divide humanity in jealous camps."

The president was constantly interrupted by outbursts of applause. He spoke clearly, and so quiet was his large audience that he could be heard distinctly in all parts of the great hall. Everywhere the American flag and red, white and blue bunting were displayed, and a band during the evening played patriotic airs.

Some of the passages in his speech which caused the greatest enthusiasm were these: "I am sorry for the man who seeks to make personal capital out of the passions of his fellow man. He has lost touch and ideal of America, for America was created to unite mankind by the passions that lift, and unite, and not by the passions that separate and debase mankind."

Striking at Nation's Heart

"The man who seeks to divide man from man, group from group, interest from interest in the United States, is striking at its very heart."

"I was born in America. You dreamed of what America was to be, and I hope you brought the dreams with you."

"No man who does not see visions will ever realize any high hopes or undertake any great enterprise."

In his peroration, the president said that he had felt that he ought not to be away from Washington, but after counting he found that the gathering had renewed his "spirit as an American."

"In Washington," he said, "men tell you so many things every day that are not so, and I like to come and stand in the presence of my fellow citizens and drink out of the common fountain with them, feeling the sense of their support."

There was a tremendous ovation as the president finished his speech. Afterward, he returned to the station and entered his private car.

Guarded by 750 Policemen

Because of the present status of international affairs, extraordinary precautions had been taken to guard the president during his stay in Philadelphia. Seven hundred and fifty policemen had been detailed for this duty.

Seven detectives acted as a personal bodyguard for Mr. Wilson and rode directly behind him through the streets. In addition, hundreds of policemen led the procession and brought up the rear. The City Troop acted as a guard of honor. This was the 45th time the troop has thus escorted a president.

On his return trip from the hall, the president rode for three miles along streets almost solidly lined with cheering people. Frequently he raised his hat and bowed. Automobile horns sounded a steady chorus. In the Broad street station of the Pennsylvania railroad, several thousand people cheered as the president stepped aboard his private car. He smiled and waved his hat to them. Soon afterward the president retired.

PUT TO DEATH

Falzone Executed This Morning for Murder of Lawrence Jeweler

BOSTON, May 11.—Penitent and fully reconciled to his fate, Biagio Falzone, who was 23 years old Saturday, was electrocuted in the state prison in Charlestown this morning.

The current was turned on at 4 minutes 23 seconds past 12, and at 12:32:24 he was officially pronounced dead.

The condemned man was led from his cell shortly after midnight and preceded by Rev. Michael J. Murphy, the Catholic chaplain, and Rev. Vito Gregori of the Sacred Heart church. North square walked to the electric chair. The prisoner showed no signs of weakness and walked with steady steps. Prayers were being read by the two priests as the prison officers adjusted the electrodes, and they remained to the end.

The execution was witnessed by Dr. George B. Magrath, medical examiner of Suffolk county; Dr. Joseph I. McLaughlin, prison physician; Surg. Gen. Frank P. Williams, Sheriff John R. Fairbairn of Middlesex county; Dr. Daniel J. Hurley of Charlestown, Chief of Police James J. Pollard of Wakefield; Warden N. D. Allen, Deputy Warden William Hendry; Fred I. Warden, representing the Associated Press, and Rev. William Bradley Whitney, Protestant chaplain.

Yesterday Falzone made the following statement in Italian and it was given out as translated by Fr. Gregori:

"I, Biagio Falzone, about to die, wish to say that from the bottom of my heart, I forgive all who have taken any part in this case, especially those who testified against me. I earnestly ask my relatives and friends not to interpret or make any use of those who were associated with me. I ask God's forgiveness and beg my friends to pray for me."

Falzone was one of three men concerned in the murder last winter of Maurice A. Albertson of Lawrence, a jewelry salesman, whose body was found in a shack in Wakefield. Ignazio Merella is now serving life imprisonment and Luigi Grassadonia, who turned state's evidence, is serving a five-year sentence in state prison.

The electrocution was the first under the administration of Warden Nathan D. Allen and the 20th in Charlestown.

THREE YOUNG BANDITS

ROBBED A BOY OF 90 CENTS AFTER CUNNINGLY FINDING HE HAD THE MONEY

Three boys, between the ages of 8 and 13 years, will appear in the juvenile court Friday as a result of a hold-up in an alley off Middle street early last evening.

Ernest Auerbach, aged 10 years, reported to the police that he was robbed of 90 cents by three young bandits whom he could identify. He said he met the boys on the street yesterday and one tried to start an argument by saying he had more money than the victim. Young Auerbach agreed with him but when the stranger accused the lad of being "dead broke" this was more than he could endure and he displayed 50 cents in change. As soon as the eager eyes of the three lads spied the money they lured Ernest to Middle street and there pounced upon him, taking the whole amount and making a quick get away. A report was made to the police and last evening Inspector Walsh captured the alleged guilty trio and put them through the third degree.

SUPPORT YOUR PRESIDENT

Not since the dark days of Abraham Lincoln has an American president stood more in need of the unanimous support of the American people than now. For nine months or more our chief executive has had to wrestle with some of the gravest international problems that ever confronted the country—problems that in their solution will have a bearing on American history for all time. Many of these war questions have been so delicate and complicated that experts in international law have differed as to their solution, and on such solution the peace of the nation has hinged. Thus far our administration has been prudent, patient and wise beyond all expectation, but the gravest of all the war problems now clamors for immediate attention.

During these days of trial the ruling power in Washington is President Wilson. The secretary of state has undoubtedly a great moral force which he has occasionally exercised in the furtherance of ideals of peace and justice, but in all the intimate dealings with foreign governments, belligerent and neutral, the mind and hand which has shaped the American policies have been those of President Wilson. How heavy the load has been, we cannot now estimate, but history will surely give an exalted place to the man who in his quiet but masterful statesmanship has done everything possible to safeguard American liberties and stand for American rights without plunging us into the hellish struggle of Europe—a struggle which, beyond question, the most fearful blight that has afflicted the world since the dawn of creation.

Not long ago, our government declared after grave deliberation that it would demand a strict accounting of any government that might injure American persons or property in the progress of the war. The time for such an accounting has arrived, and without passion or intemperance of thought or action, our government must carry out its announced policy. In their righteous indignation, the American people must do nothing that would embarrass their chosen representative or his advisers, but they must be ready to support him in any action that he may take. This is a time when all partisanship must be sunk, and when all patriotic Americans must give their absolute support to those at Washington who are face to face with an almost unprecedented responsibility.

It would be very easy for the administration at this time to take extreme aggressive action against the German government, with the approval of the American people. Many notable persons and influential papers have openly declared in favor of such a policy, but it would be inconceivably rash and premature. It is a time for patience and caution, and all who have any influence in shaping public opinion should recognize their awful responsibility to refrain from embarrassing their government by ill-considered appeals to passion. We may and we must voice the feeling of indignation which has swelled from shore to shore; we must express the natural feelings of sympathy that well up in our hearts on the recital of the wrong, but above all we must keep our heads at this most trying time. The nation's chief executive will in due time speak officially for the American people, and we must stand ready to support him in the wise course which he will undoubtedly take.

It has been announced from Washington that there will be no special session of congress. This means that the deliberations of the president and his cabinet will not be disturbed by the violent views of agitators on both sides of the question. It is intimated, however, that the calling of a special session of congress will depend on the possible answer of Germany to the protest which will undoubtedly be sent from this country. The administration must receive messages on the loss of the Lusitania with its precious American lives from both Germany and England, before acting, and it must also weigh well the possibility that any rash or radical action would be playing into the hands of a hostile government. By refraining from violence and hasty decisions, we may be a far more potent influence for restoring the peace of the world than by taking any action that would endanger the peace of this nation. The right attitude for the American people to assume is one of unbounded confidence in our powerful and patriotic directors—being ready while to stand as a unit behind President Wilson when he ultimately voices the government's decision.

HIGH SCHOOL SITES

It has been announced more than once recently that the city officials will soon select a site for a new or enlarged high school, and the fear has been expressed that publication of the plan would deluge our officials with offers from real estate dealers and private individuals with available land. While undoubtedly a call for possible sites would entail some work of selection and rejection on those who are to decide, undue privacy must have far greater dangers. It is for the best interests of Lowell that such an intention be given the widest publicity and that the high school problems be thoroughly and openly discussed before any official action be taken.

In the first place, the educational interests of our children and the convenience of the public must be taken into consideration. We now suffer from undesirable congestion and crowding, and any adopted scheme of improvement should remedy this. Our new high school should be near the transportation centre of the city if possible, and should be accessible to the pupils without undue hardship. If a second building is contemplated, it might well be erected at some distance from the present high school. Indeed, it might be necessary to erect it in the Highlands or some other comparatively distant point.

It is easy to sound public opinion on these questions and they are serious enough to warrant a publication of preliminary plans so that Lowell citizens and taxpayers may signify their approval or disapproval. If an unpopular site be selected, criticism will surely be general, and unless the public approve, it is useless to formulate elaborate plans.

Then again, in the selection of sites, it is necessary that we have full publicity so that all available sites may be considered with a view to getting the most suitable at a reasonable price. We must have a site within the financial resources of the city and secrecy in selection will not encourage competition. This is a matter which affects all of our people, and every site which is in any way suitable should be considered before a final selection is made. Publicity is imperative, both on the ground of economy and for the protection of the public from the machinations of a few dealers or the mistaken judgment of a few officials.

In the interest of Lowell, its school and the threats of Germany can no longer be taken lightly. The English government does not seem to have made adequate preparation to meet the menace, especially in the case of the Lusitania, which was permitted to go into hostile waters unaccompanied, though a few days before at least two vessels had been torpedoed in that very locality. The revelations of the present war surely justify President Wilson's views that we should not plunge into any feverish naval preparations until time has demonstrated what is the most effective type of modern battleship. At present, many will allow that the submarine is the most efficient invention of naval warfare, and that nothing has as yet been done to limit its efficacy.

HONOR THE HEROES

If there is any ray of comfort in the sad tidings from Europe, relative to the loss of the Lusitania, it is afforded by stories to the heroism displayed during the last moments of the doomed vessel. One survivor declared that he saw Alfred G. Vanderbilt give his life to a woman and the incident does not stand alone. Every story told by those who escaped the tragedy reflects the spirit of lofty service that actuated many of the passengers and crew, and it is evident that everything possible was done to save those on board, especially the women and children. Unfortunately many passengers seemed to rely on the alleged safety of the vessel which had been declared unsinkable, but with the calm sea, the sight of the beautiful Irish coast and the sunshine that shone over all, it was easy to hope for final rescue. Once again it is shown to the world that the day of the unsinkable ship is not here, and it is also shown that even in the presence of death, man will rise superior to his surroundings. The names of many heroes of the massacre will never be known, but it will enable all men to reflect on such self-sacrifice at a time that tried the souls of the bravest. There is a tendency to criticize men of wealth as heartless, but young Vanderbilt, worth $70,000,000, was so considerate for his fellows in the face of threatened death that he handed over to a woman the life belt that would have placed him among the survivors. It was a brave, a noble, a heroic act.

LADY LOOKABOUT

I am forced to believe that the cause of much of the criticism aimed by men at our head-gear may be laid safely at the door of Luther Burbank. At the lecture on Mr. Burbank's methods, held at the Middlesex Women's club last week we were shown white black-berries, blue roses, and black grapes and many mysteries were cleared up. The products of his wizard-mind are a boon to the milliner. No longer need she confine herself to nature's paint-pot for "new effects." Mr. Burbank produces in the shortest time, things that Dame Nature never thought of, and apparently his products are immediately snapped up as models for each season brings us flowers and fruits wonderfully made and colored. Long life to him. He came in a good time—just when the ladies needed him most to think up new things for their bonnets. He is a valuable man!

Auto Hand Signals

It is surprising to see how many automobile operators are indifferent to the language of hand signals. Just about half of them extend the left hand when they are turning to the right, and vice versa. It seems a very simple thing to remember, that the right hand must be extended when the machine is turning to the right, and the left hand when it is turning to the left. A wrong signal is much worse than no signal. They can make anything out of these hand signals and for all practical purposes they had better be dropped than maintained in such an idiotic manner as at present.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

The pleasant little tablets do no good that calomel does, but have no bad after effect. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They don't take hold of the tongue and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "biliousness" and that icky feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "tummy" and heavy. Note how they "perk up" the spirits. At 25c and 50c per box. All druggists.

that Japan has modified its demands on China and that China has consequently accepted them. If such be the case, it indicates that China acquiesced more or less unwillingly in a situation that she could not well oppose. At a time of normal world relations, Japan would scarcely dare to make such pressing claims, and China would not show such a spirit of helpless subservience, but all great powers have present problems on hand which keep them from interfering in Oriental matters. Still, this nation and all interested nations will insist that the open door be maintained in China, and in this policy of the open door rests the germ of Chinese liberty. We cannot act hastily or openly oppose any power at this time, but if grave injustice has been done it will have to be undone at the dictation of world opinion when more pressing problems are settled. It may be the consciousness of this that has kept China so calm at a time when her most sacred rights were menaced and all her aspirations threatened.

BUSINESS LOOKING UP

Says the Springfield Union, referring to the improvement of business in all parts of the country:

The increase of the volume of bank clearings shown by the returns for April will be accepted as a further indication of an improvement of business, taking the country as a whole. The figures make the best showing thus far exhibited in the present year, running slightly larger than a year ago and 5 per cent. in excess of the amount in the corresponding month of 1913. For this favorable comparison with the two previous years the credit must be given to New York City, whose stock market boom doubtless was the main factor involved. But for the Metropolitan the total clearings would have been 2-1-2 per cent. less than last year, and slightly less than in April, 1913. On the other hand, a falling off from last year in Boston is more than offset by a gain in general other New England cities, so that New England as a whole shows an advance. The most striking increase is in the city of New Haven, which for last month were 34 per cent. greater than in April of last year, while Hartford and New Haven, which apply to large orders from abroad for firearms, report increases of 27 per cent. and 17 per cent. respectively.

Coincident with this report comes the encouraging indication of an exceptionally large yield of wheat and excellent crops. When the stock market, bank clearings, farm reports and trade journals that deal with manufactured products reflect such prosperity, it is hard to deny that prosperity is upon us.

was to listen to Gov. Walsh when he addressed the Lowell Teachers' organization at the Normal school Tuesday evening, the plan for the extension of education must have made its appeal, and I cannot help feeling that if the governor's plan were more widely known, it would receive the sanction it so well deserves. We, of Massachusetts, are prone to point with pride to our system of public schools, both elementary and secondary. We love to boast that we have no child who is not free, but compulsory education, and furnish all text books and supplies without cost. But in all our pride and all our boasting, we forget that great army of boys and girls, who by force of circumstances, are compelled to leave school as soon as they are of working age. We overlook the fact that our so-called free public schools are free only to those who can afford to avail themselves of it.

These facts were brought forcibly to the attention of Governor Walsh when he visited the great correspondence school of Scranton, Pa. He found that from Massachusetts alone, there are enrolled 86,000 students—men, women and children—who are free of the greater and better work that they now are doing. They are paying this private concern from their wages, often meagre, for the education which they were obliged to forego in their own state by reason of circumstances which will readily suggest themselves.

It is in this condition which Governor Walsh aims to correct in his bill soon to come before the legislature. It would seem that every member of the general court who has the proper regard for his neighbor—I use the word in its broadest sense—will give the bill his support.

Vile Perfumery

If I were a man and patronized a barber shop for my shave, I would object strongly to the heavy perfume most barbers use on their customers' faces. Sometimes in a closed car, the odor of this perfume has come to me so strongly from a freshly shaved man, that I have been made positively ill by its strong, heavy sweetness, suggestive of tubercles and frostbite. I fail to see the necessity of it anyway. It certainly does not add to the effect of a good shave, as far as I can see. Some women of course use perfumery to a nauseating extent and thereby make themselves ridiculous. In some cases the good, strong, "healthy" smell of onions is less offensive.

Speaking of shaving, the next time you see a freshly shaved man with many tiny cuts adorning his countenance, just ask him the cause. Invariably he will answer without a suggestion of a smile, "I did it with my safety razor," and he is absolutely unconscious of the humor of the situation.

Worthy Neighbors

There are the makings of some good citizens in the Boston Newsboys' club. These lads, many of whom have a first hand acquaintance with want and poverty, have unanimously voted to forego their annual banquet, and use the money to charity in the Memorial Day observance. True charity involves sacrifice on the part of the donor. Surely these boys are making a sacrifice to give this treat to the crippled poor children of their city, and they deserve all the compliments and commendations their act is receiving from the press of the country.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

TO WASH FINE LINENS

"Look at that centrepiece," almost sobbed Marjorie as Marie dropped in one morning. "It is ruined and I tried so hard to wash it carefully."

"Perhaps you didn't do it right," comforted Marie. "You should never put fine linens, dollies, centrepieces, etc., into the regular wash. Don't wash these fancy linens without removing stains first. Fruit and berry stains can be removed by pouring boiling hot water through the linen. Tea, coffee, and claret stains will also yield to the boiling water. Salt and lemon juice will take out peach and melon stains."

"Do not iron embroidered articles without first making a heavy pad of Turkish toweling or old blankets to lay underneath them. Always use a piece of thin muslin between the iron and the dolly and iron the wrong side. Do not iron lace trimmed articles until you have ironed the lace first. Otherwise you will wrinkle the lace and find it hard to iron."

"Do not fold your napkins the same way every time or they will wear out on the fold. Change the manner of folding now and then. The same holds true of tablecloths. Get a flat dolly holder for your fancy linens. This you can make by covering two rounds of cardboard with odd bits of cretonne, linen or silk which you have in the piece bag."

"Well, what about these curtains?" queried Marjorie. "They look all pulled out of shape and so terribly stiff."

"Try having your curtains and over-curtains laundered without starching. They will hang in straight, natural folds without the rakish strut that starch gives them," advised Marie.

"If your curtains are short, do not drape your curtains back, but let them fall straight over the windows to the lower sill. If windows are unusually high the awkward length of the curtains may be lessened by draping them back a little below half-way down."

"Curtains at French windows and doors should not be allowed to hang loose, but should be run on rods at top and bottom of the glass pane, just as glass door curtains are arranged. If curtains are taken down and thoroughly brushed occasionally they will not require laundering so often," Marie replied.

FIRST QUARTERLY CONFERENCE

There were seventeen members present at the first quarterly conference of the year held at St. Paul's M. E. church last evening. The business session was presided over by Rev. George B. Dean, district superintendent, and a former pastor of the church. The recently appointed pastor, Rev. A. C. Skinner, was in attendance and spoke of the favorable impression he had formed of his new field, expressing optimism in the work of the church and presaging many years of success. There were reports by various committees and departments on the work of the last quarter.

WILLIAM E. LIVINGSTON CO.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Twenty-five years ago Thursday of this week, the late James W. Bennett, then a well known contractor, began the work of tearing down the old St. Peter's church at the corner of Gorham and Appleton streets to make room for the present post office, the site of which at that point had been decided upon after a long-drawn-out but interesting controversy, the late Rev. Fr. Roman, pastor of St. Peter's, having presented the location to the government without cost.

When St. Peter's parish decided to part with the old structure, at Fr. Roman's suggestion, one member of the parish raised decided objections to leaving the old edifice, his motives being based on sentimental grounds. He had been married there, had worshipped there every Sunday and holy day; his children had been baptized there and had been instructed in the principles of the faith within its walls; and there, too, had been held solemn services over the remains of some of his dearest friends and he did not want to give up the dear old church for a new edifice. He admitted that the new and more splendid church undoubtedly would be soon forthcoming to succeed the old place of worship, but to him it would be the loss of a home, the loss of the old brick structure, about to be demolished. There were others who had similar feelings but they had placed confidence in their pastor and agreed to the demolition of the old structure.

McClough Wouldn't Give Up

But there was one other man named McClough who held up the proceedings by persistently refusing to give up his pew. He held a lease of the pew for a year and defied the church authorities to evict him by law. He refused to consider compensation for his claim. The newspapermen made several visits to his house in West Hampden street trying to get him to discuss the matter but he steadfastly refused until one evening one of the reporters "got his goat" to use a modern expression, and immediately he broke his silence, and probably would have broken the reporter's neck, had the latter not beat a hasty retreat.

There had been opposition to the offering of the church property to the government by the parish, and when Mr. McClough persisted in his opposition, it occurred to one of the reporters that the old gentleman might be acting in the interest of the other site-owners, and he decided to put his suspicion before the man. Accordingly accompanied by a couple of other newspapermen he went to Mr. McClough's house one evening and after the old gentleman had repeated that he had nothing to say on the matter, the reporter finally burst forth with:

"Is it true Mr. McClough that you are being paid by certain persons to object to giving up your pew?"

Rushing for a huge poker that resided beside the kitchen range the irate old gentleman cried out: "Get out of my house, ye blackguards," and he made a rush for the scabbies that for speed was exceeded only by that of the latter in getting down a flight of stairs into the street.

The allegation probably had the desired effect on the old gentleman for a short time afterward when the late Fr. Roman went to see him again, he withdrew his opposition and the work of demolishing the old church proceeded. St. Peter's parish was organized in 1841 by Bishop Fenwick on the suggestion of Rev. Fr. McDermott, then pastor of St. Patrick's, at that time the only Catholic parish in the city. At a meeting those in favor of building a new church were asked to subscribe towards its cost, and $800 was pledged at that meeting. In August, 1841, the land at the corner of Gorham and Appleton streets was secured from the Hamilton company, and a building was erected thereat at a cost of $22,000. On Christmas day, 1841, the first services were held in the unfinished church but it was not dedicated until October 6, 1842, and Rev. Fr. Conway, curate at St. Patrick's, was appointed its first pastor.

By prearrangement the original subscribers to the building fund had the prior right to the auctioning of the seats. A deed for each pew was issued by Bishop Fenwick's name, and the work of tearing down the old St. Peter's church at the corner of Gorham and Appleton streets to make room for the present post office, the site of which at that point had been decided upon after a long-drawn-out but interesting controversy, the late Rev. Fr. Roman, pastor of St. Peter's, having presented the location to the government without cost.

Painting of Crucifixion

Few of the present parishioners of St. Peter's, especially among the younger generation, appreciate the value as a work of art and a relic of the great painting of the Crucifixion which in the present edifice is located in the vestibule on the left side as you enter at the stairway leading to the basement. This picture dates back to the founding of the parish and has an interesting history. Through the assistance of Mr. Charles Gilliani, an Italian resident of this city, and his brother, who at the time resided in Italy, the picture was contracted for when the parish was started in the early '40s. It was not placed in position in the church for some time later. Money was collected for it but when it was found that the picture could not be delivered, at one time the money was placed in the building fund to be taken out when the arrival of the picture demanded it. This did not occur until after or just before Fr. Conway's successor, the late Fr. Cruden was appointed.

It is not known who the artist was but when the painting was removed from the old edifice by Harry J. Rock, a well known local artist of a quarter of a century ago, and the first artist to furnish pictures and cartoons for the old Sun, he found indications that the picture was much older than was generally supposed. He found upon it the inscription: "Pupil of Michele Jerome, Rue-Furber and 'Restored 1843'." Mr. Rock said the painting had every appearance of being a work of one of the old masters. Its size is 9x12 and it represents the Savior's death on the cross. At the foot of the cross are three women, Mary, the mother of Jesus, Mary Magdalene and another. The ravages of time had destroyed the flesh thus leaving a dull white bone color, but there remained much in the drawing and general coloring to show that the work was one of more than ordinary merit. Michele Jerome is supposed to have been the artist of that 18th century. The painting according to Mr. Rock, at that time, was over a century old, although he expressed the opinion that it might have been only restored 100 years before. It was restored for St. Peter's church in 1843.

Another quarter of a century has elapsed since the above description of the painting was published yet it stands today in St. Peter's in comparatively good condition, apparently impervious to the effacing influence of time.

The Doves of St. Peter's Such mourning the old St. Peter's church was a tower that was the favorite rendezvous of a large number of doves, and throughout the process of demolition the frightened birds hovered about the ruins and when all was gone but a few spars of the framework they perched on these as if to deplore the loss of their home. The pitiful plight of the doves suggested the following lines written in The Sun quarter of a century ago by Edward J. Gallagher, the present editor of The Sun:

LAMENT OF THE HOMELESS DOVES

Alas! for our home, St. Peter's church dome.

For our beautiful home 'neath the cross;

It is ruined and gone.

Yet the birds still work on.

Disregarding our terrible loss.

From the earth to the sky

All around and around it in woe,

As we see our loved tower,

Growing less every hour.

And the roof-tree appearing below.

There we lived many years

Just above the St. Peter's church chapel, they flew and were free.

And we forth flew at will

Over valley and hill—

Far away on the wings of desire.

And wherever we'd roam

The gold cross on our home

Always beckoned us back by its sheen.

But alas! it is gone

And the spire works on

Neither tower nor cross now are seen.

Ah! how oft the sweet strain

Of the organ's refrain.

Brought us joy at the close of the day.

On the Sabbath all bright,

What a source of delight

Was the melody floating away.

Nevermore can we rest

In our holy nest.

Near the altar with incense perfumed;

Nor shoot upward with prayer

To the realm of air.

By the sunlight of heaven illumed.

Dear loved tower farewell.

When St. Peter's church bell

Calls the faithful to worship elsewhere.

In a church vastly higher With an elegant spire, We'll be there, if alive, we'll be there.

Homeless now is each dove From the haunts of its love, On a treacherous world outcast; Whether now shall we fly, Must we perish or die? Not a shelter from storm or blast.

Then alas for our home In St. Peter's church dome, For our beautiful home 'neath the cross;

Anniversary of C. M. A. C.

The C. M. A. C. which in its younger days was known as L'Association Catholique, is 26 years old, a flourishing and influential organization with Capt. Arthur St. Hilaire, of The Sun pressroom at its head. It observed its first anniversary on May 13, 1890, in modest manner with a May festival, which was reported by the old Sun as follows:

"The grand Fleurs de Mai festival of L'Association Catholique to celebrate the first anniversary of the formation of the society was held Tuesday evening and was a grand success. The attendance was so large that the hall at times was uncomfortably crowded, and the entertainment was of a very pleasing character. The association band was in attendance and played several selections during the evening. There was a chorus from the association choir; a recitation by Miss Lizette Skiffington; a song by Cyrille Constantineau; a performance on musical glasses by S. Lagasse; wire-walking by Arthur Vivien; club swimming by Mr. Carpenter and several tableaux. A medal that was sent from Rome was presented to Wilfred Barrette for the best work done for the society. The following are the tables with the names of the ladies in charge: Flower table, Mrs. Mongeau, Mrs. Jacques and Miss Jolie; apron and fancy work table, Miss V. Le Claire, assisted by Misses McCloud, Sweeney, Corsette and Guilford; fruit table, Misses Raymond, G. V. Vignault, Dunlop and Gosselin; candy table, Miss Landry, Landier, Lamoureux, Lanoue and More. The refreshment table was in charge of Miss Lucier."

Mr. Harris Ranked Highest

Says the old Sun: "Six applicants appeared before the civil service examiners Tuesday, four being for the higher and two for the lower clerical service. The ranks obtained ranged from 65.3 to 83.5. The highest rank was obtained by Henry H. Harris. Those examined were Henry H. Harris, Fred A. Wright, Fred W. Coburn, Guy Morey, Carrie E. Hadley and John G. Noble." Mr. Harris evidently didn't need recourse to the civil service for a position for subsequently he became a school teacher and at present is principal of one of Lowell's leading grammar schools, the Vermont. Fred Coburn and Guy Morey are associated at the C. B. Coburn company in Market street.

Reception to Departing Travelers

European travel was much safer quarter of a century ago than it is under existing conditions and there was considerable of it enjoyed by Lowell people in those days. The old Sun had the following to say:

"A reception was tendered Monday evening to the members of the Kirk Street church, who are going abroad for the summer. Their names are: Mrs. Jacob Rogers and the Misses Rogers. Miss Melvin and party consisting of Mrs. and Miss Kitson, Miss Minnie Cummock, Mrs. A. S. Lyon and son, Dr. and Mrs. Dana and their daughter, Miss Jennie Rose, Mrs. Frank Battles, Mrs. D. W. C. Farrington, and Mr. and Mrs. Stratton."

Capt. Worthen Met Old Comrade

Says the Sun of quarter of a century ago: "The annual competitive drill of the Mass. high school regiment took place at Wakefield on Saturday and was quite an important event for the young people. The Lowell battalion turned out in full numbers and was accompanied by Mayor Palmer, Principal Coburn, Assistant Sherburne and Irish School influence with the years and as they grew the conditions under which their members labored became improved. Today the Lowell mule spinners cannot be called the poorest paid in the United States.

Here's another interesting item from the old Sun:

"On Wednesday John F. Lynch, a letter-carrier on the Belvidere route delivered 2536 pieces of mail, which it is believed goes far above the average record."

On first thought it would seem impossible for one carrier to deliver that amount of mail in one day even quarter of a century ago when the letter carriers were fewer in number and did more work, going from early morning until late in the evening. Yet that record of quarter of a century ago doesn't compare with the records of today for it is a fact that nowadays one carrier has delivered about 1000 pieces of mail in one day.

Carriers in the down town district have much more mail to carry than those on the outskirts but the latter have much more walking to do than the other fellows and hence the work even itself up.

Speaking of labor matters, quarter of a century ago according to the old Sun, Cardinal Gibbons speaking on the question said he thought the labor problem will be solved first in this country, "for here we submit evidence of that nature to the test of reason, common sense and thorough criticism and truth is evolved from this full and free discussion of the social question."

THE LADY'S WORKBAG

Crepe de chine handkerchiefs are the last cry in that department of feminine accessories. Of course, one of the points which commends them is that they may be laundered in the wash liquid basin, since they need only be dried and shaken gently.

Clusters of dots in colors are at the corner of fine linen handkerchiefs such as ultra-smart dressers are wearing with shirt-waist costumes, also in colors. The border of the handkerchief matches either the shirt's stripe or its necktie, cuff links and belt.

Also, for mornings are handkerchiefs with inch-band borders of pale green, blue, mauve or tan. If one is very particular about the smaller accessories, these are embroidered with initials at one corner with colored floss. In the case of other very new monochromes the coloring—a green, pale blue or neutral toned ground—has a white border. Pale gray is considered very smart, indeed.

Darning stockings often becomes a problem when holes are large, and especially when one's eyesight has to be regarded. Why not patch them? Here is an easy way to do it: Place over the darned egg a piece of a discarded stocking, hold firm with your left hand, now slip the torn stocking over this, let the egg of the stocking run in same direction as the part you hold over the wooden egg, cut the raw edges from the hole and sew to the covered egg. Use silk as this doesn't cut the weave.

Now remove, turn and trim away the patch all but one-half to one inch. Slip over the darned egg again and sew the edges to the stocking good and firm. A little pressing with the iron will make the darning job. This patch will not hurt a tender foot and if well matched in color will not be noticed.

Silk stockings are always more expensive if purchased already embroidered, but plain ones can be obtained and given a touch of hand-work by the home needlewoman. Almost any spray, wreath or scroll pattern could be arranged with very good effect.

One can buy in the various stores initials by the yard, worked in red or blue outline stitch on narrow stripes of linen tape, three-eighths or a half-inch wide. These letters are used for marking plain underclothing, etc. They are of great use to the mother with a large family, who has neither money nor time to spare on embroidery, and who finds it necessary to have some distinguishing mark on the clothing, especially when there are two children the same size.

The letters are cut off from the strip when needed and overcast on the inside of the garment, any place where it will be invisible when worn. When this system is used even stockings are easily paired. Sew each child's initials at the top of the stocking of the first pair, use a blue cross stitch on the second, yellow on the third, etc.

It is an easy matter to sort even a large pile of stockings; two M's with red crosses—a pair for Mary; two M's with green crosses, another pair; while two J's with blue crosses are a pair of stockings belonging to Jack. If two children have the same initials

SLEEPYTIME TALES

FOR THE LITTLE READERS OF THE SUN

NORA AND THE FORGET-ME-NOT

Once upon a time, a great many, many years ago, a little girl lived with her parents in a small cottage near some deep woods. One day Nora, that was the little girl's name, went for a walk into the woods. After she had walked some ways she saw a beautiful little blue flower growing among some moss. She stopped to look at it for she had never seen such a flower before and, just as she was going to pick it to carry home, she heard a great rumbling noise and, looking up, saw a stone roll away from a cave in some rocks.

She was so eager to see what was in the cave that she forgot the flower and, ran inside. There she found great piles of gold and some beautiful jewels so she took off her apron and filled it with the gold and jewels and turned to go out and run home to her parents.

As she did so the two stones rolled together and caught fast her apron with all of the gold and jewels. She was glad it was only her apron and not her that was caught between the stones and she started to run home and tell her mother about her adventure when, all at once, she heard a little voice say: "Don't forget me," and as she turned to look there she saw her little flower that she had thought so lovely.

Nora picked the flower very carefully and wrapped it in some of the moss, and ran back to her home. When she told her mother what she had seen her mother said: "We must be very, very thankful that it was only your apron that was caught. I think you were a very lucky little girl to get back home safe."

Nora went out into the yard and very carefully planted her little flower and in a few weeks it had grown into a big plant and had many more blossoms. Nora called it "Forget-me-not" and that is how the little blue flower was named.

KEITH'S CLOSING SHOW

WHILE NOT AN EXPENSIVE ATTRACTION MADE HIT OF SEASON

Keith's theatre closed its vaudeville season last week with the most talked about and best attended attraction of the entire season and thereby hangs an interesting story relative to the fickleness of vaudeville audiences.

Everybody who attended last week's show when asked about it expressed the same opinion: One of the best vaudeville bills I ever saw.

Others said: "Now if the Keith people would spend the money and get good people all the time they'd draw packed houses every week." Now as a matter of fact last week's bill was one of the least expensive bills as far as cost to the management is concerned of the entire season. Frequently Manager Pickett has presented bills that have cost him double what last week's attraction cost, and some of these expensive bills that demand big money because of their general drawing ability didn't draw at all in Lowell and weren't even considered good acts.

Manager gain from the standpoint of a manager or promoter, last week's bill was not strong, as it had too much sameness, there was a similarity of acts that precluded the variety that a vaudeville bill must have to make it popular, and yet the Lowell audiences simply "ate it up."

Having studied his audiences Manager Pickett has tried to impress the booking agencies that it was a bill like Lowell—a bill with good, big class slinging acts; a bill with plenty of laughter. He got what he wanted for the closing week and the receipts of the house for that week will convince the Keith "higher-up" officials that the local manager knows his audiences and incidentally his business. Many people stopped Manager Pickett during the week to assure him that that bill would fill the theatre for a second week but he informed them all that they are all booked elsewhere and could not be secured, though they may return later.

Of course the fact that a talented little Lowell girl, Miss Ethel Sharrow, was on the bill helped some in drawing the crowds but in the main the fact that each act was pleasing to all was what got the people going.

Manager Pickett is now going in for pictures and he says he thinks, he

NIGHTLY BEAUTY RULES

Sometimes a bath at night is found to be too relaxing or exhilarating, and accordingly a woman must determine this in accordance with its effect upon herself. While massaging the face one may rest the roots of the hair at the same time by taking out the pins and shaking it over the shoulders.

Under no circumstances, unless illness prevents, should a woman retire without washing or creaming her face. This is especially true where powder is used, for when this is used, the pores and encourage pimples.

Cleanse the face, neck, arms and hands with your favorite soap or prepared meal. The amount of soil and grime that it is possible to accumulate in a single day is surprising, especially when part of the time is spent in the city or traveling on trains.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Hotel Register Bill Hits Snag—Rep. Jewett in Speaker's Chair—Other Matters

BOSTON, May 11.—During the temporary absence of the Hon. Channing H. Cox of Boston, speaker of the house of representatives, Mr. Victor F. Jewett, of Lowell, was called to the chair yesterday, to preside over the deliberations of the assembly. Representative Jewett wielded the gavel with the same dignity and regard for strict parliamentary procedure that marked his tenure as president of the common council in 1910 and received the congratulations of his colleagues at the end of the debate.

The sinking of the Lusitania and the situation which President Wilson faces as a result, was the subject of a formal speech by Speaker Cox.

"Not since Fort Sumter was fired upon has public sentiment in this country been so inflamed as it is today," he said.

"The United States stands face to face with a grave situation, more grave perhaps than we realize. It is the hour when men of all faiths and beliefs should stand as one man behind President Wilson and rally to our confidence in him, and to our belief that he will cause an official inquiry to be made as to the responsibility for the slaughter of innocent Americans on the high seas and that then he will perform his full duty."

But as men having influence in this old commonwealth, may I urge you to impress upon all your fellow men the danger that may arise from unbridled speech, and for the substitution of passion for reason. It is the hour when each of us should show by speech and by action that our first duty lies in

STOMACH TROUBLES DUE TO ACIDITY

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of Ligerette's Magnesia, the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after every eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity, in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper agent, such as Ligerette's Magnesia, which can be obtained at Ligerette's Pharmacy from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. BIG SEA FIGHTERS ON REVIEW IN NEW YORK HARBOR AS NATION FACES CRISIS

1. FLEET GOING UP NORTH RIVER. 2. SAILOR SIGNALING ON WYOMING. 3. ADMIRAL FLETCHER. 4. BIG GUNS ON WYOMING.

NEW YORK, May 11.—When the armada assembled in New York harbor for review everybody seemed to realize that in case the United States was called upon to assert its rights the Atlantic fleet would be the right arm of the government, and there was much speculation as to how Uncle Sam's warships would acquire themselves in time of need. Needless to say, the consensus was that the big fighters and their men would show themselves worthy of the glorious traditions of the American navy. This occasion is quite different from that of three years ago when the fleet was reviewed by President Taft. Then the mobilization was just a great, big, wonderful show, but this time it comes when half of the world is at war and at a moment when the country is horror-stricken as a result of the frightful marine disaster, a disaster due to war and not to an accident, as was the case of the Titanic.

DEMANDS OF ITALY

WANTS ALL OF TRENT, TRIESTE, AND ISTRIA—WILL GIVE AUSTRIA COMMERCIAL GUARANTEE

PARIS, May 11, 1.40 a. m.—Another version of the territorial concessions Austria is said to have proposed to Italy has been printed by the Matin of Naples and telegraphed to the Havas agency by its Rome correspondent. According to this report, Austria is willing to cede part of the province of Trent to Italy together with a strip of territory in the region of the Isone river which empties into the Gulf of Trieste. Trieste itself is absolutely excluded as well as Istria and Pola. The Italian cabinet is said to have considered these concessions insufficient and made a counter proposition demanding all of Trent up to Brenner (a mountain pass of Tyrol on the railroad line connecting Innsbruck with Bozen, and offering the shortest route between central Germany and Italy) together with Trieste and Istria, including Pola. Italy, the paper asserts, will insist upon obtaining Trieste but is ready to give Austria commercial guarantees.

The Havas correspondent says he is able to state that the Italian government has demanded of Vienna a definite answer with a fixed time. He adds that in the best informed circles there is no real hope of a peaceful settlement although Pope Benedict has sent Emperor Francis Joseph an autograph letter asking him to yield in order to avoid another war.

SWAM FOR THEIR LIVES

FOUR MEN JUMPED FROM BURNING MOTOR BOAT IN LAKE MASCOUIC

Four well known young men of this city, who occupy a camp on the shores of Lake Mascoptic on the road to Willow Dale, narrowly escaped drowning Sunday afternoon, when the motorboat in which they were riding over the lake caught fire. Fortunately all the occupants of the craft were saved, but the boat and its engine were completely destroyed.

The young men, Romeo Hubert, Joseph Roussel, Ludwig Ouellette and Willie Rousseau with others spent the afternoon at the camp. In the latter part of the afternoon they boarded the motorboat and started on a cruise across the lake. When the boat reached a point about the middle of the lake, the gasoline engine backfired and in a few moments the craft was enveloped in flames. The excursionists did all in their power to extinguish the flames, but the efforts proved fruitless. Finally when they saw there was no more hope of saving the craft, they all jumped into the water.

A few minutes later the gasoline tank exploded and the engine of the craft flew in pieces. In the meantime the four young men were struggling for their lives in the water and had it not been for the assistance of parties who came to their aid the quartet would have drowned. Pierre Bourgeois and others got hold of row boats and rushed to the rescue of their companions. It was some time before the four young men were pulled safely ashore, but the attempt was successful. The boat was completely demolished while the engine which was badly wrecked by the explosion is at the bottom of the lake. The boat was the property of Joseph Roussel of Riverside street.

FLIES DANGEROUS FOES

LONDON, May 1.—Flies are considered so dangerous a foe that a staff of entomologists have been engaged to inaugurate an anti-fly campaign at the British front. It is feared that the insects will carry the germs of epidemics from the eastern theatre of war to the western unless prompt measures are taken to exterminate the larvae. The army will be ordered to clear up and burn or destroy all rubbish near the camps, which might serve as fly breeders.

"Duffy's a Lasting Benefit"

Her husband relieved of stomach trouble of 12 years standing, Mrs. Zink wrote us over two years ago as follows:

"My husband suffered with stomach trouble for over 12 years, during which time he doctored with three doctors who gave him no relief. He kept growing worse, had to be very careful as to what he ate, as things always soured on his stomach, but thank God, after taking three bottles of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey he was entirely cured. He still takes it as a tonic and we would never be without it. He now looks fine and weighs 150 pounds. I can highly recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach trouble."—Mrs. Fred F. Zink.

She now writes that Duffy's is keeping them both in health:

"I am glad to say that my husband and I are still using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. He is as healthy as can be, and says that Duffy's is a flesh builder remedy that can be guaranteed to make any thin person stout. It is certainly increasing my weight fine."—(Signed Mrs. Fred F. Zink, 2228 Saratoga Street, New Orleans, La.)

ALLIES GAIN GROUND AIR RAID NEAR PARIS

Turks Lost 45,000 — Russian Victories — Italy Calls Officers for Duty — Soon to Join Allies

Berlin Admits Reverse

The newly inaugurated offensive movement of the allies over a long section of the front in Belgium and northwestern France has developed a general engagement of considerable intensity. The official statement from Berlin today concedes that the allies have won ground between Carey and Neuville but attacks elsewhere are said to have been repelled. The Germans announce the capture of French trenches over a width of nearly one-fourth of a mile in the vicinity of Berry Au Bac.

Allies Made Gains

The Paris war office states that the allies made gains yesterday in Belgium, near Arras, France, and at several other points and that German attacks were beaten back.

German Report Advances

Russian claims to victories in the Carpathians are offset by the German war office report that further striking gains have been made. It is said that attempts of the Russians to halt the pursuit of the Austro-German forces were defeated with heavy losses to the Russians.

Italy Ready to Enter

Italian officers and men in Switzerland up to the age of 34 were ordered yesterday to rejoin their regiments immediately. Austrian and Bavarian forces are concentrating in the Tyrol. War between Italy and the Austro-Germans is now believed to be almost unavoidable. There is said to be only a slender chance that an agreement may be reached between these countries. Opposition to the war in Italy is dying away.

In Paris it is rumored Germany and Austria have declared war on Italy but so far as is known there is no basis for such reports. A Milan despatch gives what purports to be an offer of territorial concessions from Austria described as unacceptable to Italy inasmuch as it excludes Trieste and Istria.

3000 Men Annihilated

Heavy fighting has been in progress on the Gallipoli peninsula during the last few days, although accounts of the results are in complete contradiction. An official statement issued at Constantinople says the French and British troops made four attacks near Ay Bun on Sunday but were driven back with heavy losses. It is asserted three battalions or about 3000 men were annihilated.

Turks Lose 45,000

A press despatch from Athens to London says that the allies made important advances on Friday and Saturday and that the Turkish losses in the fighting were estimated at 45,000 men.

Russian Victories

Victory in several engagements along the Carpathian front is reported in an official Russian statement. Despatches to Switzerland say the Russians have begun a strong offensive at Tarnow, reported to have been captured last week by the Austrians, as well as in the Baltic provinces to the north.

REPORT IN PARIS THAT GERMANY AND AUSTRIA HAVE DECLARED WAR ON ITALY

PARIS, May 11.—It is being persistently rumored in Paris that Germany and Austria-Hungary already have declared or are about to declare war on Italy in anticipation of such action on her part directed against themselves. This report, however, has received no confirmation of any kind.

Another rumor which made its appearance on the bourse today is that the Italian government has signed an agreement with the allies, Great Brittain, France and Russia to take part in the war not later than May 26. This rumor also is without confirmation.

French observers of the political situation in Italy infer from the audience yesterday between King Victor Emmanuel and former Prime Minister Giolitti that the non-intervention party in Italy has determined to withdraw all opposition to the war. Consequently the Italian parties would be united in the support of a war policy in the judgment of French observers, based on two fundamental considerations, namely that wrongs have been done to Serbia and Belgium and that the racial aspirations of the Italians on the eastern shore of the Adriatic and the Mediterranean now can be satisfied.

ONLY FOUR OF BOMBS DROPPED ON SOUTHERN WERE EXPLOSIVE

SOUTHERN, England, May 11, 3.25 a.m.—Only four of the bombs dropped by Zeppelin airships in their raid here early yesterday were explosive. The remainder were incendiary. The former weighed about 100 pounds each, but the latter only 10 pounds.

GERMAN AEROPLANE DROPS BOMBS ON ST. DENIS, A SUBURB OF PARIS

PARIS, May 11.—A German aeroplane passed over St. Denis, a suburb of Paris, shortly after seven o'clock this morning and dropped a few bombs.

One bomb fell through the roof of an apartment occupied by Mme. Bolleker, bounced from the bed where her nine-year-old son, Andre, was sleeping and then struck the floor, where it exploded. Fragments of the bomb slightly wounded the boy.

Another missile on exploding wounded five men who were sleeping in a shed. Two other bombs damaged an apartment house.

BARNES-ROOSEVELT CASE

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 11.—Justice William Andrews, presiding in the supreme court in the trial of William Barnes' suit for libel against Theodore Roosevelt remarked in refusing today to strike from the record a testimony concerning Mr. Barnes the one hand and direct primaries legislation, race track legislation, franchise tax legislation and the opposition to Governor Hughes on the other that such evidence did not show any corruption or improbity on the part of Mr. Barnes and that it was allowed to remain in the record simply and solely to show the plaintiff's position in the republican party.

Justice Andrews added that he considered that some of the evidence might bear upon the election in 1911 of a United States senator to succeed Chauncey M. Depew and that it should remain for that reason also. He previously stated in a discussion of that election, that any combination between the leaders of opposite parties was improper.

The court struck out a stipulation to the effect that there was "rottenness" in many departments of the state government. This stipulation was formulated from a statement made by John A. Hennessy, who was investigator for former Governor William Sulzer. The court held that no evidence had been produced which in any way connected Mr. Barnes with the matter.

SAILING OF SISTER SHIP OF LUSITANIA CANCELLED

Many Steamers From U. S. Ports in War Zone—Pres. Wilson May Send Warning Direct to Kaiser — Many Bodies Washed Ashore—Scarcity of Lifebelts Caused Heavy Toll

LONDON, May 11.—The sailing of the Cunard line steamer Mauretania, sister ship of the Lusitania, advertised for May 20, has been cancelled.

SAILINGS FROM NEW YORK

No General Cancellations Here — 2355 Passengers on Steamers That Pass Through War Zone

NEW YORK, May 11.—No general cancellations of the sailings of steamers or of passages engaged from New York to European ports has followed the sinking of the Lusitania, according to agents of steamship lines here. They say, however, that there has been an increase in the popularity of vessels flying neutral flags. The fact that the American line has stopped booking third class passengers for the St. Louis, which is due to leave here May 15, was cited as an evidence of this.

No Sailings Cancelled

The agent of the French line said that the sinking of the Lusitania would not prevent them from sending their steamers across as usual. At the offices of the Scandinavian-American and Holland-American lines, it was stated that no sailings had been cancelled.

Olympic to Sail May 14

Agents of the White Star line said the Olympic would sail from New York for Liverpool next Friday, May 14, according to schedule. Forty cabin and 300 steerage passengers, already booked for that steamer.

The Cunard Line

At the offices of the Cunard line it was said that no instructions have been received from Liverpool regarding the sailings of its steamers and there have been no cancellations.

2355 in War Zone

It was estimated that 2355 passengers are on board the various steamers from American ports bound for destinations that will take them within range of German submarine activity.

WARNING TO KAISER

Wilson May Address Message in Person to Emperor on Lusitania — President Talks on Philadelphia Speech

WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Wilson said today that his speech in Philadelphia last night was not a declaration of policy in reference to the Lusitania disaster; that he was not thinking of any special matter but of the newly naturalized Americans in his audience. The president used the expression that he was thinking of the "Gala some people were trying to raise."

Not Referring to Lusitania

The president made it clear that he was expressing a personal attitude and not referring to any specific cases.

That led to the belief in many quarters that the president had not reached a decision in the Lusitania case and was speaking his personal feelings as to the ideal the United States should have in this situation as well as the other phases of the world-wide war. It was taken that he was endeavoring to explain broadly that the United States should seek to serve the cause of humanity by using its influence to secure an adherence to the rules and principles of international law wherever they have been contravened.

Decision Soon

The president said he would make a decision on the policy to be followed in the Lusitania case as soon as he had all the elements in mind. For the present he had nothing to add to his statement of Saturday night.

Although the general trend of comment was one of surprise at the limitation which the president placed today on his interpretation of his speech those who have followed his speeches closely pointed out that Mr. Wilson has frequently spoken implicitly rather than explicitly.

While his Philadelphia audience was impressed with the belief that the president was referring specifically to the Lusitania tragedy the president indicated by his remarks today that he meant his speech to be broader than a single incident and to cover the entire subject of foreign relations, as well as the subject of domestic solidarity with reference to the aliens who have become naturalized in America.

To End Submarine Warfare

The Philadelphia speech was interpreted by official Washington today as meaning that whatever course is pursued by the United States probably would endeavor to serve the cause of humanity by appealing to Germany to end her submarine warfare against unarmed merchant ships carrying non-combatants.

In some quarters the suggestion was made that whatever course is pursued by the United States probably would endeavor to serve the cause of humanity by appealing to Germany to end her submarine warfare against unarmed merchant ships carrying non-combatants.

LONDON TIMES COMMENT

Says Sinking of Lusitania Means Germany is Not Confident of Victory That It Does Not Care What U. S. May Do

LONDON, May 11.—The principal themes of editorial discussion in the newspapers continue to be advocacy of drastic treatment for Germany in Great Britain and curiosity as to what action the United States will take in reference to the Lusitania disaster.

Sir Valentine Chilcote writing in the Times attributes the German submarine activity entirely to Albert Ballin, director general of the Hamburg-American steamship line, who for years has been one of Emperor William's most trusted advisers in all questions of maritime policy.

$86,000 LOAN ORDER FOR PAWTUCKET BRIDGE

Plans for Dummer Street Extension—Big Paving Contract —Municipal Council Meeting

At the regular meeting of the municipal council today, Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, brought in a loan order for $86,000 for a new Pawtucket bridge, and Walter M. Denman, of the Litch Engineering company of Springfield, presented a preliminary plan and discussed estimates and costs. No action was taken on the order.

The council also adopted the order for $86,000 granite paving blocks as originally drawn. The paving contract had been objected to by Frank Maloney and there was talk at one time that the contract would be changed and the order redrafted, but the proposition went through today in its original form.

The council voted to borrow $8000 for sidewalk construction and put Commissioner Duncan's ordinance providing for the identification of automobiles belonging to the city of Lowell through all of the stakes necessary for its ordination. All of this was preceded by a meeting in the mayor's reception room at which bills were approved.

Mayor Murphy called the regular meeting to order at about 11.30 o'clock with all members present except Commissioner Carmichael who is attending the annual convention of fire chiefs, being held in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The first business before the meeting had to do with gasoline and garage licenses and the following petitions, ordered for a hearing today, were referred to Commissioner Carmichael and Fire Chief Saunders: Adair, A. J. Swan, garage; Ardella M. Sanders, garage.

Damage Claims Entered
The following claims for damage to property and bodily injuries were referred to the mayor and the city solicitor: Mrs. Mary Long, for damage to fence at 117 Third street.

Stephen Sabatino gave notice of having been injured by falling on the ice about opposite No. 387 Central street; said injury alleged to have been caused by defect in sidewalk.

For Street Improvements
The petition of Catherine E. Devno et al. to block pave Central street from Appleton street to Elm street, was referred to Commissioner Morse.

GERMANY FORCED TO IT

Official Statement Places the Responsibility for Loss of Lusitania on British Government

BERLIN, via London, May 11.—The following despatch has been sent by the German foreign office to the German embassy at Washington:

"Please communicate the following to the state department:

"The German government desires to express its deepest sympathy at the loss of lives on board the Lusitania. The responsibility rests, however, on the British government, which through its plan of starving the civilian population of Germany has forced Germany to resort to retaliatory measures.

"In spite of the German offer to stop the submarine war, in case the starvation plan was given up, British merchant vessels are being generally armed with guns and have repeatedly

SURVIVORS OF LUSITANIA

DR. PEARL WAS SAVED WITH HIS WIFE AND TWO OF THEIR CHILDREN—TWO CHILDREN LOST

QUEENSTOWN, May 11.—Dr. F. Warren Pearl of New York, who was a surgeon major in the United States army during the Spanish-American war and was on the Lusitania bound for Belgium on Red Cross work, was saved with his wife, who has a broken arm, and two of their children. Two other children and two nurses employed by Dr. Pearl are missing. In the rush to the deck one of the nurses and two of the children were separated from the remainder of the family. Dr. Pearl left his wife in the care of Herbert S. Stone and Lyndon W. Bates Jr., of New York, while he searched the ship for the missing members of the family.

Mrs. Pearl says that she saw Mr. Stone and Mr. Bates go down when a wave washed over the port side of the ship.

"I was lunching with Mr. Stone, Mr. Bates, Madam D. Page and Doctor Houghton when I felt a shock," said Dr. Pearl. "On my way to the deck I saw Charles Frohman distributing life belts. Mr. Frohman evidently did not expect to escape as he said to a woman passenger: 'Why should we fear death? It is the greatest adventure man can have.'"

"When I reached the deck I found that one nurse and two of my children were missing. I discovered later that they got into a boat which was launched safely on the starboard side. I returned to the port side and jumped overboard just before the ship went down."

"I saw no signs of panic. Officers and crew apparently were doing everything possible to save the passengers but the explosion rendered the engines useless and it was impossible to slow down the ship."

"I do not know whether any of my family was safe until I got ashore, after three hours in the water in which I floated in the greatest ease on my lifebelt. When I reached the land I found my wife at Admiralty House, suffering with a broken arm."

"I soon brought two of our children to her. They are gone but thank God that so many of my family were saved, especially when I recall that whole families have perished. I saw a father, mother and three daughters, all dead, clasped in each others' arms."

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Noble Grand William T. Hutton presided at the regular meeting of Loyal Integrity lodge, 6630, I. O. O. F., M. U., held last evening in Odd Fellows hall. Two candidates were initiated and applications for membership were received and acted upon. Next Monday evening the gold degree will be worked and the following week the blue degree will be executed. It was announced that the last event in the card tournament between Integrity and Wameet lodges was won by Wameet lodge 116 to 93. Integrity won out in the tournament by the total score of 231 to 334.

The players and their scores were as follows: Integrity lodge: Silk and Boutellier, 29; Lynch and Bailey, 21; Kuiton and Hostly, 19; Gadholis and Henderson, 17; Page and Freeman, 10. Wameet lodge: Humphreys and Adams, 27; Smith and Atkinson, 26; McKinley and Brooks, 21; Lees and Bowden, 21; Mitten and Corbett, 22.

The resignation of P. P. G. M. Edward T. Mackley from both staff and lodge was accepted as the condition of his health will not allow him to fill the duties of the office. Mr. Mackley has served as P. P. G. M. for 15 years and it was with sincere regret that his resignation was accepted.

Remarks of appreciation, eulogy and regret were made by N. G. William Hutton, P. S. Chadwick and others. President Boutellier called for a rising vote of thanks for P. P. G. M. Mackley's long and faithful service. Mr. Mackley spoke fittingly and said that he is ready and willing to assist at any time possible when he feels able to be present. Among the other speakers were President Boutellier and Brother Fletcher.

ICE TEAM BOILED

A lively runaway took place in upper Merrimack street yesterday when a pair of horses owned by the Daniel O'Connell Ice Co. and hitched to an ice wagon became frightened and dashed through the street. The horses were stopped before any serious damage was caused.

24 ALBANIANS

Party Got Off Here This Morning — Are Going North

A party of 24 Albanians, separated into three groups and led by three different leaders, stopped at the Boston & Maine depot in this city for a brief space early this morning waiting to enroute for Manchester, N. H., where they expect to secure work in the McElwain Shoe Co.

The party included three boys, who are feeling this country for the first time, while the majority of the older members have been here before, and have worked in various shoe shops throughout New England.

The men in the group were dressed about the same as the everyday foreigner one sees on the streets of this city, but the boys were dressed in their native costumes. All three wore long tight-fitting breeches caught up below the knee, heavy woolen stockings, odd fitting jackets and funny-looking round hats. They attracted considerable attention.

One of the leaders spoke English fairly well and told the writer that the party had been on the water 20 days, during which time no trouble or sickness had been experienced. He said he was taking some of them to Manchester, N. H., where he expected to secure work for them and said that a Haverhill firm would give employment to a number of them.

J. A. HALL DEAD

Ex-Treasurer of South-bridge Bank a Cancer Victim

SOUTHBRIDGE, May 11.—Word was received here last night of the death at Stockton, Calif., of J. A. Hall, once treasurer of the Southbridge Savings bank, whose absconding with the bank's funds and subsequent trial and conviction were a sensation five years ago. He was pardoned by the governor and council last December.

Mr. Hall was in his 47th year. Death followed an operation for what was supposed to be appendicitis, but proven to be cancer.

No defalcation of recent years caused the sensation or aroused such a commotion in the state as that of Hall in 1910. The Hall, respected and honored in the community in which he moved as a conspicuous figure, was pointed out as one of the philanthropists of the town and county, a trusted servant and a man whose character was above suspicion until early in January, 1910, when the bank directors discovered a discrepancy in the treasurer's accounts.

Hall, who who subsequently sentenced to a term of 12 years in state prison on a charge of the larceny of $104,000, disappeared within a few days after the discrepancies were discovered in his accounts, but within a week returned from New York and surrendered himself to the state police at Worcester.

His sudden disappearance, during which all sorts of rumors were in circulation and a reward was offered for his apprehension; his subsequent trial, his sentence to imprisonment and his "confession," created no less a stir in the commonwealth than did his unexpected pardon last December.

FOR STATE HIGHWAY

RESIDENTS OF CHELMSFORD VAIVE ALL CLAIMS FOR LAND DAMAGES—MEETING HELD

At a hearing given last evening by the selectmen of Chelmsford to the abutters on Gorham street, East Chelmsford and held at the East school, plans for the proposed state highway from Lowell to Billerica were discussed. The state has appropriated $200,000 for the construction of this highway, and is ready to award the contract as soon as the town of Chelmsford gives the state a release from all liability for land damages which may arise. The meeting was held for the purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the abutters towards the project, which was found to be unanimously in favor.

A special town meeting will be held in the near future at which it is expected the selectmen will be authorized to proceed according to law to adjust claims for land damages.

SWIMMING LESSONS

Starting today, special swimming lessons for boys have been arranged by the Young Men's Christian association. These swimming lessons will take place in the spacious Y. M. C. The response to the announcement of this valuable course was large for the advantages of it are readily apparent. Boys may register at any time. A large number were on hand today for the initial instruction.

U. S. MUST SET PEACE EXAMPLE, SAYS WILSON

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—President Wilson gave to a gathering of 4000 naturalized Americans last night the first intimation of the course which they will pursue in the situation resulting from the loss of more than a hundred lives on the British liner Lusitania. He spoke by implication, but his hearers interpreted his remarks as meaning that while the United States would remain at peace, it would seek to convince Germany of the injustice to mankind of the tragedy of last Friday.

"America," said the president, "must have the consciousness that on all sides it touches elbows and touches hearts with all the nations of mankind. The Conclusion on page five

TWO LOWELL WOMEN ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED

Mrs. Eugene C. Dunbar is at the Lowell General hospital suffering from various injuries, including a broken shoulder as the result of an automobile accident near Point of Pines yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Lydia M. Stevens of 48 Highland street was with Mrs. Dunbar when the accident occurred and she, too, was injured but not so seriously as Mrs. Dunbar. They are not very sure as to the cause of the accident. They were driving toward Lynn when the machine overturned at Northern circle on the boulevard, near Point of Pines. Either the axle or a wheel collapsed, throwing the car over and pinning the women under it.

Arthur C. Pendergast, a tax collector of Revere, who was driving by, raised the car with the help of other men and lifted the women out. He took them in his own automobile to the park police station, where their injuries were treated by a physician.

Mrs. Dunbar had a cut over the left eye from the broken glass of the windshield, her right shoulder was broken and her right hip was injured if not fractured. Seven stitches were taken in her head after she was removed to the hospital. Mrs. Stevens, who had been driving, escaped with bruises to the head and arms. It was stated at the hospital this morning that Mrs. Dunbar had passed a fairly comfortable night. The accident was not due to fast driving as the auto was going at moderate speed when the crash came.

The flowers were a pillow inscribed "Husband," from wife and a wreath inscribed "Brother," from the brothers. The bearers were William Graham, Irving Pease, James Stag and Robert Stanoff. Burial was in the Edison cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

PEACE, SAYS WILSON

example of America must be a special example. And must be an example, not merely of peace, because it will not fight, but because peace is a healing and elevating influence of the world and strife is not.

"There is such a thing as a man being too proud to fight. There is such a thing as being so right that it does not need to convince others by force that it is right."

Lusitania Not Mentioned

These remarks precipitated a tumult of applause and patriotic enthusiasm ending by the waving of thousands of small American flags. The president made no direct reference to the Lusitania tragedy, but the audience did not hesitate to read the application of his statement.

The sentiment expressed in the president's speech was epitomized later by one of his closest advisers as "humanity first." While it had not yet been determined, he said, exactly what steps would be taken by the United States in the present crisis, the idea uppermost in the president's mind was to show that whatever course is adopted—no matter how vigorous—it will have as its objective the good of humanity.

Introduced by Mayor Blankenburg, who, in distinctly German accent, spoke a welcome and an appeal for a single allegiance to the United States, the president carried forward the idea of the welding of foreign blood in the make-up of America by pointing out

Falzone Executed This Morning for Murder of Lawrence Jeweler

BOSTON, May 11.—Penitent and fully reconciled to his fate, Biagio Falzone, who was 23 years old Saturday, was electrocuted in the state prison in Charlestown this morning.

The current was turned on at 4 minutes 20 seconds past 12 and at 12:13:24 he was officially pronounced dead.

The condemned man was led from his cell shortly after midnight and, preceded by Rev. Michael J. Murphy, the Catholic chaplain, and Rev. Vito Gregori of the Sacred Heart church, North square walked to the electric chair.

The prisoner showed no signs of weakness and walked with steady steps. Prayers were being read by the two priests as the prison officers adjusted the electrodes, and they remained to the end.

The execution was witnessed by Dr. George B. Magrath, medical examiner of Suffolk county; Dr. Joseph J. McLaughlin, prison physician; Surg. Gen. Frank P. Williams, Sheriff John R. Fairbairn of Middlesex county; Dr. Daniel J. Hurley of Charlestown, Chief of Police James J. Pollard of Wakefield, Warden K. D. Allen, Deputy Warden William Hendry, Fred I. Green, representative of the Associated Press, and Rev. William Bradley Whitney, Protestant chaplain.

Yesterday Falzone made the following statement in Italian and it was given out as translated by Fr. Gregori:

"I, Biagio Falzone, about to die, wish to say that I am the bottom of my heart I forgive all who have taken any part in this case, especially those who testified against me. I earnestly ask my relatives and friends not to injure or molest in any way those who were associated with me. I ask God's forgiveness and beg my friends to pray for me."

Falzone was one of three men concerned in the murder last winter of Maurice J. Albertson of Lawrence, a jewelry salesman, whose body was found in a shack in Wakefield. Ignazio Merrellia is now serving life imprisonment and Luigi Grassadonia, who turned state's evidence, is serving a five-year sentence in state prison.

The electrocution was the first under the administration of Warden Nathan D. Allen and the 20th in Charlestown.

ROBBED A BOY OF 90 CENTS AFTER CUNNINGLY FINDING HE HAD THE MONEY

Three boys, between the ages of 5 and 13 years, will appear in the juvenile court Friday as a result of a hold-up in an alley off Middle street early last evening.

Ernest Auerbach, aged 10 years, reported to the police that he was robbed of 90 cents by three young bandits whom he could identify. He said he met the boys on the street yesterday and one tried to start an argument by saying he had more money than the victim.

Young Auerbach agreed with him but when the stranger accused the lad of being "dead broke" this was more than he could endure and he displayed 20 cents in change. As soon as the eager eyes of the three lads spied the money they lured Ernest to Middle street and there pounced upon him, taking the whole amount and making a quick get away. A report was made to the police and last evening Inspector Walsh captured the alleged guilty ones and put them through the third degree.

FOR PARDON OF ROSA
Man Serving Sentence for Bitterica Hold Up May Have Term Reduced

A hearing will be given next Wednesday before the pardon committee of the executive council on the petition of Peter Rosa, now serving a sentence of from 15 to 25 years for holding up two men in Bitterica in February, 1908, and assault with intent to murder two policemen who attempted to capture him afterward. Rosa had been in this country but three months when the crime was committed and claims that he was induced to go forward in the robbery by his companions. He now speaks the English language fluently.

FIRE IN BLACKSMITH'S SHOP
A slight fire in Desmond's blacksmith shop on Postoffice avenue, caused a telephone alarm about 10 o'clock last night. The blaze was discovered by Patrolman Noonan, who summoned the fire department. The damage was slight.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Twenty-five years ago, Thursday of this week, the late James W. Bennett, then a well known contractor, began the work of tearing down the old St. Peter's church at the corner of Gorham and Appleton streets to make room for the present post office, the site of which at that point had been decided upon after a long drawn out but interesting contest between the late Rev. Fr. Roman, pastor of St. Peter's, and the city.

When St. Peter's parish decided to part with the old structure, at Fr. Roman's suggestion, one member of the parish raised decided objections to leaving the old edifice, his motives being based on sentimental grounds. He had been married there, had worshipped there every Sunday and holy day; his children had been baptized there and had been instructed in the principles of the faith within its walls; and there, too, had been held solemn services over the remains of some of his dearest friends and he did not want to give up the dear old church for a new edifice. He admitted that a new and more splendid church undoubtedly would be soon forthcoming to succeed the old place of worship, but to him it would have none of the hallowed memories of the old brick structure, about to be demolished. There were others who had similar feelings but they had implicit confidence in their pastor and agreed to the demolition of the old structure.

McCullough Wouldn't Give Up

But there was one other man named McCullough who held up the proceedings by persistently refusing to give up his pew. He held a lease of the pew for a year and defied the church authorities to evict him by law. He refused to consider compensation for his claim. The newspapers made several visits to his house in Williams street trying to get him to discuss the matter but he steadfastly refused until one evening one of the reporters "got his goat" to use a modern expression, and immediately he broke his silence, and probably would have broken the reporter's neck, had the latter not beat a hasty retreat.

There had been opposition to the offering of the church property to the government by members of the parish who were interested in other sites, and when Mr. McCullough persisted in his opposition, it occurred to the reporters that the old gentleman might be acting in the interest of the other site-owners, and he decided to put his suspicion before the man. Accordingly accompanied by a couple of other newspapersmen he went to Mr. McCullough's house one evening and after the old gentleman had repeated that he had nothing to say on the matter, the reporter finally burst forth with: "Is it true, Mr. McCullough, that you are being paid by certain persons to object to giving up your pew?"

"Nothing for a huge poker that reposed beside the kitchen range, the irate old gentleman cried out: 'Get out of my house, ye blackguards,' and he made a rush for the serbies that for speed was exceeded only by that of the latter in getting down a flight of stairs into the street.

The allegation probably had the desired effect on the old gentleman for a short time afterward when the late Fr. Roman went to see him again, he withdrew his opposition and the work of demolishing the old church proceeded.

St. Peter's parish was organized in 1841 by Bishop Fenwick on the suggestion of Rev. Fr. McDermott, then pastor of St. Patrick's, at that time the only Catholic parish in the city. At a meeting those in favor of building a new church were asked to subscribe towards its cost, and $3000 was pledged at that meeting. In August, 1851, the land at the corner of Gorham and Appleton streets was secured from the Hamilton company and a building was erected there at a cost of $22,000. On Christmas day, 1854, the first services were held in the unfinished church but it was not dedicated until October 6, 1852, and Rev. Fr. Conway, curate at St. Patrick's, was appointed its first pastor.

By prearrangement the original subscribers to the building fund had the prior right to the auctioning of the seats. A deed for each pew was issued in Bishop Fenwick's name and was held as any piece of personal property. A collection was immediately taken up for an organ and one was specially built while an excellent choir was organized by John Quinn and a Mrs. Smith, a non-Catholic was engaged as the soloist.

Painting of Crucifixion

A few of the present parishioners of St. Peter's, especially among the younger generation, appreciate the value as a work of art and a relic of the great painting of The Crucifixion which in the present edifice is located in the vestibule on the left side as you enter at the stairway leading to the basement. This picture dates back to the founding of the parish and has an interesting history. Through the assistance of Mr. Charles Gillman, an Italian resident of this city, and his brother, who at the time resided in Italy, the picture was contracted for. The parish was started in the early '40s. It was not placed in position in the church for some time later. Money was collected for it but when it was found that the picture could not be delivered at once the money was placed in the building fund to be taken out when the arrival of the picture demanded it. This did not occur until after the death of Fr. Conway's successor, the late Fr. Cruden, who was appointed.

It is not known who the artist was but when the painting was removed from the old edifice by Harry J. Rock, a well known local artist of quarter of a century ago, and the first artist to furnish pictures and carvons for the old Sun, he found indications that the picture was much older than was generally supposed. He found upon it the inscription: "Pupil of Michele Jerome, Rue-Paris and Restored 1843." Mr. Rock said the painting had every appearance of being a work of one of the old masters. Its size is 8x12 and it represents the Savior's death on the cross. At the foot of the cross are three women, Mary, the mother of Jesus, Mary Magdalene and another. The ravages of time had destroyed the flesh thus leaving a dull white body color, but there remained much in drawing and general coloring to show that the work was one of more than ordinary merit. Michele Jerome is supposed to have been the artist of that name who died near the close of the 18th century. The painting according to Mr. Rock, at that time, was over a century old, although he expressed the opinion that it might have been only restored 100 years before. It was restored for St. Peter's church in 1842.

Another quarter of a century has elapsed since the above description of the painting was published yet it stands today in St. Peter's in comparatively good condition, apparently impervious to the effacing influence of time.

The Doves of St. Peter's

Surmounting the old St. Peter's church was a tower that was the favorite rendezvous of a large number of doves, and throughout the process of demolition the frightened birds hovered about the ruins and when all was gone but a few spars of the framework they perched on these as if to deplore the loss of their home. The pitiful plight of the doves suggested the following lines written in The Sun quarter of a century ago by Edward J. Gallagher, the present editor of The Sun:

LAMENT OF THE HOMELESS DOVES

Alas! for our home
In St. Peter's church dome,
For our beautiful home 'neath the
It is ruined and gone,
Yet the speller works on,
Disregarding our terrible loss.

From the earth to the sky
In our sorrow we cry—
All around and around it was,
As we gaze our loved tower,
Growing less every hour,
And the roof-tree appearing below.

There we lived many years
Free from danger and fears,
Just above the St. Peter's church choir;
And we forth flew at will
Over valley and hill,
Far away on the wings of desire.

And wherever we'd roam
The old cross on our home
Always beckoned us back by its sheen;
But alas! it is gone
And the speller works on,
Neither tower nor cross now are seen.

Ah! how oft the sweet strain
Of the organ's refrain,
Brought us joy at the close of the day;
On the Sabbath all bright,
What a source of delight
Was the melody floating away.

Nevermore can we rest
In our heavenly nest,
Near the altar with incense perfumed;
Nor shoot upward with prayer
To the realms of air,
By the sunlight of heaven illumed.

Dear loved tower farewell,
When St. Peter's church bell
Calls the faithful to worship elsewhere.

Your Opportunity to Visit California

No doubt you would like to visit California this year, during the Exposition at San Diego and San Francisco.

But how to go, and what will it cost? I want to tell you all about our "Personally Conducted" Parties, and how you can join one, travel comfortably in through cars at much less cost than by the usual way, and at the same time see the most famous and interesting mountain scenery in the world. Call or write and let me tell you about these "Personally Conducted," low fare parties to California that have helped to make the "Burlington Route" service famous. Write to Alex. Stocks, New England Passenger Agent, C. B. & Q. R. R., 231 Washington St., Boston.

In a church vastly higher
With an elegant spire,
We'll be there, if alive, we'll be there.

Homeless now is each dove
From the haunts of its love,
On a treacherous world outcast;
Whither now shall we fly,
Must we perish or die?

Not a shelter from storm or blast,
Then alas for our home
In St. Peter's church dome,
For our beautiful home 'neath the cross.

It is ruined and gone,
And the speller works on

Anniversary of C. M. A. C.

The C. M. A. C. which in its younger days was known as L'Association Catholique, is 26 years old, a flourishing and influential organization with Capt. Arthur St. Hilaire, of The Sun pressroom at its head. It observed its first anniversary on May 13, 1890, in modest manner with a May festival, which was reported by the old Sun as follows:

"The grand Feteurs de Mai festival of L'Association Catholique to celebrate the first anniversary of the formation of the society was held Tuesday evening and was a grand success. The attendance was so large that the hall at times was uncomfortably crowded, and the entertainment was of a very pleasing character. The association band was in attendance and played several selections during the evening. There was a chorus from the association choir; a recitation by Miss Lizzie Skillington; a song by Cyrille Constantine; a performance on musical glasses by S. Lagasse; wire-walking by Arthur V. Vilen; club swinging by Mr. Carpenter and several tableaux. A medal that was sent from Rome was presented to Wilfred Barrette for the best work done for the society. The following are the tables with the names of the ladies in charge: Flower table: Mrs. Mongeau, Mrs. Jacques and Miss Jollet; apron and fancy work table, Miss V. Le Claire, assisted by Misses McDonald; Signery, Cossette and Guilmond; fruit table, Misses Raymond, Gill, Vigeant, Duplex and Gosselin; candy table, Miss Landry, Lanthier, Lamoreux, Laroche and More. The refreshment table was in charge of Miss Lucier."

Mr. Harris Ranked Highest

Says the old Sun:
"Six applicants appeared before the civil service examiners Tuesday, four being for the higher and two for the lower clerical service. The ranks obtained ranged from 65.3 to 83.5. The highest rank was obtained by Henry H. Harris. Those examined were Henry H. Harris, Fred A. Wright, Fred W. Coburn, Guy Morey, Carrie E. Hadley and John G. Noble." Mr. Harris evidently didn't need recourse to the civil service for a position, for subsequently he became a school teacher and at present is principal of one of Lowell's leading grammar schools, the Varnum. Fred Coburn and Guy Morey are associated at the C. B. Coburn company in Market street.

Reception to Departing Travelers

European travel was much safer quarter of a century ago than it is under existing conditions and there was considerable of it enjoyed by Lowell people in those days. The old Sun had the following item:

"A reception was tendered Monday evening to the members of the Kirk Street church, who are going abroad for the summer. Their names are: Mrs. Jacob Rogers and the Misses Rogers, Miss Melvin and party consisting of Mrs. and Miss Kilson, Miss Minnie Cunnock, Mrs. A. S. Lyon and son, Dr. and Mrs. Dana and their daughter, Miss Jeanne Rose, Mrs. Frank Battles, Mrs. D. W. C. Farrington, and Mr. and Mrs. Stratton."

Capt. Worthen Met Old Comrade
Says the Sun of quarter of a century ago:

"The annual competitive drill of the Mass. high school regiment took place at Wakefield on Saturday and was quite an important event for the young people. The Lowell battalion turned out in full numbers and was accompanied by Mayor Palmer, Principal Coburn, Assistant Sherburne and Irish; School

Committeemen Rev. R. A. Greene; A. G. Swapp, G. C. Brock, Walter Coburn, P. Keyes and George M. Harrigan. The competing companies were from Lynn, Woburn, Wakefield, Reading, Brookline, Malden, Gloucester and Medford. The exercises consisted of drilling in the manual of arms and company movements and after a 2-2 was over the judges gave the following ranks: Gloucester, 153; Wakefield, 154; Malden, 160; Brookline, 137; Medford, 136; Lowell, 126; Lynn, 116; Reading, 135; Woburn, 97. The winning company will have the colonelcy of the regiment for the coming year. There were noticed in the reviewing stand, the following well known Lowell people: Misses Webster, Watson, Baker, Allen, Melvin and Hadley of the high school; State Treasurer Marden, Capt. J. G. Hill, James Buttrick, Hamilton Burrage, E. J. Medina, J. W. B. Shaw, Com. Frank Pevey, Post 155. Among the military men present were Major J. P. Frost, 1st R. 2nd brigade; Major Ward, 5th Infantry, Capt. Taylor, 6th Infantry, Capt. Littlefield of the old 5th and 30th.

"A pleasing incident in connection with the drill was that Lieut. George F. Worthen should meet for the second time since the close of the war, a gentleman who was his tent-mate during the war and who now is military instructor of the Gloucester battalion as Lieut. Worthen is of the Lowell battalion."

The gentleman referred to by the old Sun is Lieut. Albert W. Bacheller, retired, now residing at New Hampton, New Hampshire, but then a resident of Gloucester. He was a member of the same company with Capt. Worthen, sharing his tent with him and the captain says he was a fine young fellow and a brave soldier.

Difference in Labor Conditions

Appropos of the labor forward movement in this city, in the interest of organization among the different crafts at which no less a light than Samuel Gompers has spoken, is a comparison with conditions existing quarter of a century ago as noted by different items in the old Sun. At that time the Sun contained several references to a general movement throughout the country for the eight-hour day which was then just coming into vogue. Now it is everywhere though of course there are many who still work a longer day.

The old Sun had the following:
"At the convention of Mule Spinners in Fall River, Tuesday, it was stated that the members of that craft in Lowell were paid the lowest wages of any in the United States. Resolutions were passed promising them aid as soon as they are thoroughly organized."

In those days unions were few and insignificant among the local textile crafts but they grew in numbers and influence with the years and as they grew the conditions under which their members labored became improved. Today the Lowell mule spinners cannot be called the poorest paid in the United States.

THE red, white and blue SOCONY sign is a new mark for motorists. Wherever it is displayed it means that you can get SOCONY Gasoline—the new name the Standard Oil Company of New York has given to its famous "Standard Gasoline."

It means you get a high-grade, uniform product. Not a mixture, not a cent-or-two-less preparation, but a straight-distilled refinery product—the kind that is cheapest in the end.

Here's another interesting item from the old Sun:

"On Wednesday John F. Lynch, a letter-carrier on the Belvidere route delivered 2336 pieces of mail, which it is believed goes far above the average record."

"On first thought it would seem impossible for one carrier to deliver that amount of mail in one day even quarter of a century ago when the letter-carriers were fewer in number and did more work, going from early morning until late in the evening. Yet that record of quarter of a century ago doesn't compare with the records of today for it is a fact that nowadays one carrier has delivered about 4000 pieces of mail in one day. The carriers in the down town district have much more mail to carry than those on the outskirts but the latter have much more walking to do than the other fellows and hence the work even itself up."

Speaking of labor matters, quarter of a century ago according to the old Sun, Cardinal Gibbons speaking on the question said he thought that the labor problem will be solved first in this country, "for here we submit everything of that nature to the test of reason, common sense and thorough criticism and truth is evolved from this full and free discussion of the social question."

HASSAM SUIT DISMISSED

Long Pending Suit Decided in Favor of City—Ald. Barrett First Objected to Paying Royalty

Among the actions recently dismissed in the United States district court was the action of the Hassam Paving company against the city of Lowell. In September, 1911, the city began to pay royalties for the alleged infringement of the Hassam patents on street paving.

It will be remembered that the city paid royalties at the rate of 10 cents per square yard for each yard of pavement laid during several years. The question of the propriety of such payments was then raised and after considerable discussion, Gen. Gardner W. Pearson was employed by the then city solicitor, William W. Duncan, as expert counsel on patent matters to determine whether or not the Hassam patents were valid. After careful study of the situation, General Pearson gave the opinion that the patents, if valid, were not being infringed and as a result thereof, the city refused to pay further royalties. The action above mentioned was then begun by the Hassam Paving company to enforce its payment, but after the answer was filed in defense of the city's position, no further action has been taken by the Hassam Co. and finally the bill was dismissed.

The firm stand taken by Alderman Barrett and other members of the city government on this matter has resulted in the saving of several thousand dollars to the city.

THE SICKABED LADY

To avoid spring colds, says Nurse, keep the house cool. Cool, moving air stimulates and tones up the circulation. Take a cold bath every morning, or at least cold sponging all over, followed by brisk rubbing with a rough towel. This is skin training, a fine tonic and good preventive of colds.

Wear sufficient, but not too heavy underclothing. Wool is best, as it allows evaporation and still keeps a warm cushion of air around the body. Take a little vigorous exercise each day. This keeps the circulation and the whole body healthy and enables it to ward off colds.

Observe moderation in eating and drinking. Colds in the head follow lowered vitality due to overeating.

Bad dieting or bad cooking, says Nurse, may and often does cause disease, even if the food itself is good; or it may arise from decayed or diseased food, from excessive use of large quantities of meat, or from irregularity in eating. Excess in the use of vegetable food, especially of starches and sugar, gives rise to flatulence, indigestion and commonly to fatness. Insufficiency of properly cooked food produces tissue starvation.

In the very young children is a frequent condition thus induced. Indigestion is often caused in very young children by the too abundant use of starch and other farinaceous foods. Milk is another food that is likely to produce disease or convey contamination when not properly handled.

Eat slowly and taste your food well, and will slide down and give more nourishment than food eaten quickly. Never eat when tired or over-exhausted, but lie down even if only for a few minutes before dining. For stomach trouble drink a cup of hot water, as hot as one can stand it, half an hour before breakfast.

Toothache, says Nurse, is essentially an inflammatory condition, and in 90 per cent of the cases there is a cavity in the tooth. In those cases where there is a cavity, but no nerve exposure, the treatment is simple—apply a sedative and exclude the secretions of the mouth from the cavity; prompt relief will follow, and then advise the patient to visit a competent dentist.

A very effective agent, and one always at hand, is the oil of cloves. It should be applied by saturating cotton with the remedy and introducing it into the cavity with toothpick or other pointed instrument; that being done, the secretions are kept out by filling the cavity with a little beeswax, or a household remedy always at hand.

The wax can be applied by warming over a lamp on the point of a knife and forcing into the cavity. The wax filling serves not only the purpose of keeping the secretions of the mouth out, but prevents thermal changes from affecting the nerve when hot and cold substances are taken into the mouth.

To prevent the skin from discoloring after a fall or blow, says Nurse, take a little dry starch, moisten it with cold water, and lay it on the injured part. If sweet oil be applied to the skin after a blow or bruise it will not turn black and blue.

For neuralgia in the face or head, sleep hops in vinegar, wet flannel cloth in mixture and apply very hot. For eyes that are weak and inflamed, try alcohol and water. Nurse tried this for my little girl when nothing else would help.

For felon, turpentine will drive it back if put on at the beginning. Wrap the finger with white cloth and pour on turpentine; repeat for a few days.

Nurse says the most exquisite neatness must be the order of the sick room. The slightest disorder is often intolerable to a nervous patient. Remember that all the patient would wish

TRADING WAS MODERATE

STOCKS TO RECORD DECLINE—CLOSING HEAVY

NEW YORK, May 10.—Taking its cue from London, where Americans showed a firm tone, the local stock market opened with no traces of the excitement which attended the later session of last week. There were gains of 1 to 3 1/2 points in prominent issues, including the international list and some specialties. Bethlehem Steel was the only way stock to record a severe decline, falling over four points. Initial advances were lost soon after the opening, but the setback was orderly. Trading was moderate, with an underlying note of caution.

Alarming but unconfirmed reports dealing with the situation at Washington and abroad contributed in large measure to the liquidation which ruled in the first hour and to a greater extent toward noon. Leading stocks, almost without exception, were then under last week's best negotiations and the list as a whole showed general weakness. The decline was checked for a time by announcement of the sale of practically all the new $500,000 Pennsylvania railroad issue, but fresh selling forced prices lower than before.

Steel's unfavorable April loanage statement coupled with highly sensational rumors provoked fresh liquidation and short selling in the early afternoon. Steel lost a total of 5 1/2 points and ran shares 5 to 15. Moderate rallies followed.

Prices fell away again in the later dealings but recovering of two to five points followed renewed support. The closing was heavy.

BOSTON MARKET

BOSTON, May 10.—There was more strength in local issues than in the opening today, but the market soon weakened and at the end of the first hour several of the favorites had lost a point. Butte & Superior fell to 45, and a Copper Range declined to 51. Trading was dull.

MONEY MARKET

NEW YORK, May 10.—Merchandise paper 3 1/2-3 3/4 per cent. Sterling exchange steady. Sixty day bills 4 1/2-4 3/4. For cables 4.80-4.95. Bar silver 50 1/2-50. Mexican dollars 38 1/2-39. Government bonds weak. Railroad bonds weak.

Time loans firm; 60 days 2 1/2-4 1/2; 90 days 3 1/2-4 1/2; six months 3 1/2-4 1/2. Call money firm; high 2 1/2-3; low 2; ruling rate 2; last loan 2 1/2; closing bid 2; offered at 2 1/4.

COTTON BROKE BADLY

NEW YORK, May 10.—Cotton broke badly just before noon today, losing in all 37 points as the result of alarming rumors which reached brokers from Washington and elsewhere. The reports were promptly denied, and the market quickly rallied, regaining in a short time from 15 to 20 points of the loss.

At one time during the break the long in October futures represented a decline of $2.35 per bale below the high level reached at the opening of the market.

FIRST NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON CHILD LABOR WILL BE HELD IN SAN FRANCISCO

UPPER—BOY WORKERS IN COTTON MILL. LOWER—CHILDREN IN SHRIMP CANNERY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—The first national conference on child labor ever held in the west will meet here the last four days of May. The chairman of the national child labor committee, Dr. Felix Adler, and Mrs. Florence Kelley, general secretary of the National Consumers' League, will be among the few easterners on the program. California is more largely represented among the speakers than any other part of the country. The general topic, "Child Labor, a National Problem," is considered significant in the light of the most recent census figures which show 1,900,000 children under sixteen at work in all occupations in this country. Of these nearly 100,000 children less than fourteen years old are engaged in other than agricultural work. Cotton mills and canneries are the largest single child employing industries, and the committee announces that findings of recent investigations in southern and western states will be given at the San Francisco conference. The possibility of securing a federal child labor law early in the first session of the new congress will be discussed by Senator Owen and others. The committee plans to have reintroduced the so-called Palmer-Owen bill which passed the last house of representatives by 233 to 43 and was defeated in the senate on the 4th of March by a single objection from Senator Overman of North Carolina. A special exhibit on "The High Cost of Child Labor and What Are You Going to Do About It?" has been installed at the San Francisco exposition in the Education building.

MOTHER OF TRIPLETS TO SEARCH FOR SURVIVORS

MR. AND MRS. A. E. JOHNSTON HAVE NAMED THEIR THREE BABIES

It was reported today that Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Johnston's triplets, who were born last week, an account of the birth having been published in The Sun the following day, are getting along very nicely.

MRS. A. E. JOHNSTON

The little fellows have been named as follows: Walter Varney, Ralph Wheeler and Franklin Warren. The three have increased in weight since birth and it is safe to state that their presence in the Johnston home is quite audible.

Mrs. Johnston is quite comfortable, and shares the rejoicing with her husband on the arrival of three boys. Mr. Johnston is the happiest man in Lowell. In conversation with a Sun reporter he said he now has seven boys and he hopes before many years to form a baseball aggregation. Besides the seven boys, there are also two girls in the Johnston family.

MURDER OF HUSBAND

SECOND TRIAL OF MRS. BUFFUM ON CHARGE OF KILLING HUSBAND BEGAN TODAY

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 10.—The second trial of Mrs. Cynthia Buffum, for the alleged murder of her husband near Little Valley in August, 1913, began today. The husband, Willis Buffum, died from the effects of poison from which several other members of the family also suffered.

Mrs. Buffum was convicted by a jury in Cattaraugus county, in February, 1914. The court of appeals granted a new trial on the ground that some of the methods used to obtain a so-called confession from the woman were improper and on the further ground that evidence regarding the death of her daughter Laura, also a victim of poison, had been improperly admitted.

At the first trial the prosecution tried to show that Mrs. Buffum's motive in ridding herself of her husband and family was to allow her to marry a young farm hand who was subsequently arrested and indicted, but later released because of lack of evidence.

THE CEMETERY COMMISSION

The cemetery commission, recently appointed by the mayor, met to organize yesterday but didn't organize. The members of the commission are Simon H. Harris, John A. Osgood, John L. Robertson, William H. Rigby and George H. Taylor. Mr. Taylor did not put in an appearance yesterday and it was on account of his absence that the commission adjourned without organizing.

Mayor Murphy called to order shortly before three o'clock and explained that his private secretary had found out, by telephone, that Mr. Taylor was out of town and would not return for a week or ten days. Mr. Rigby and Mr. Harris said they wished Mr. Taylor was present and a little later, on motion of Mr. Robertson, it was voted to adjourn the meeting until such time as Mr. Taylor would return. All of the cemetery commissioners have qualified before City Clerk Flynn except Mr. Taylor.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

AUTOMOBILE QUESTION BOX

EDITED BY GEORGE H. ROBERTSON

NOTE:—In these columns every Tuesday Mr. George H. Robertson, America's foremost automobile authority, will give expert advice to motorists on how to repair and operate their machines. Automobile readers of THE SUN are invited to send in questions or problems they may wish to have answered. Such questions will receive attention in due time. Address all communications: Automobile Editor, The Lowell Sun, Lowell, Mass. Communications must bear the signature and address of the sender, though not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Is the knuckle meant to drive the front wheels or is the axle meant to drive the same? What do the front wheels ride on? If there is an axle that goes through the front wheels, in what position does it lie?

F. T.

The steering knuckle is composed of the front axle yoke, the large vertical pin and the small axle arm. It is called upon which the front wheels ride. The axle arm runs through the bearings of the front wheel in a horizontal position.

I have an auto and do not know whether it has a carburetor or vaporizer. How can I tell?

J. E. L.

A carburetor has a float chamber, the float keeping the gasoline supply constant with the needs of the motor. A vaporizer is a mixing valve which has no float.

Will you kindly answer the following questions?

1. How can you tell when a valve needs grinding and how would you grind and test the valve?

2. How would you time the valve of an engine as to opening and closing relative to the position of the piston or crank pin?

3. How would you scrape in bearings of the crank shaft and how would you determine when they are properly set up?

4. Explain the procedure in fitting new connecting rod bearings to the crank pins.

5. If you put new gears in the transmission and they were noisy, what do you think is the trouble and how would you remedy it?

W. G.

1. The loss of compression generally denotes a leaky valve. Use a heavy grinding compound for the first cut and a fine compound for finishing. The valve, in order to be right, must be without "fil" marks.

2. It is good practice ordinarily to start to open the inlet valve when the piston is on its way up on the exhaust stroke about one-eighth of an inch before it reaches the top. The other openings and closings take care of themselves.

3. Crank shaft bearings should be hand scraped and fitted without scratches and cuts. When the proper fit has been attained, the shaft should be able to spin one or two revolutions by hand.

4. Scrape in these bearings in the same way. The connecting rod should make one complete turn when thrown over by hand.

5. It may be that the gears fit too snug. It is a hard matter to overcome a noisy transmission without trying a new set of gears. Some grease compounds will deaden the sound a little.

Will you kindly state in your column what benefit is derived from using oversize tires on a B-25, 1911 Buick?

E. J. G.

You will find by using oversize tires it will be possible to overcome to a great extent most of your tire trouble. Of course, punctures are always a bug-bear, but oversize tires will give a much easier riding car.

How would you time a twin cylinder Indian motor cycle?

H. T.

You will find everything marked. Line up the lives on both gears with the marks in the motor base. Line up the mark on the face of the flywheel with the mark on top of the motor base and drop the flywheel into position.

Which produces the better results, when the spark plug is on side of the cylinder or on top, and why?

H. L. M.

It is generally conceded that the greater number of sparking points there are distributed in a cylinder, the quicker the gas is ignited and the heavier the explosion. A plug situated in a position not squarely over the piston head will not explode a mixture as quickly as one set in the center of the combustion chamber, because it fires the charge from the side, causing a comparatively slow burning charge, while the plug set directly over the piston head will explode the center of the mixture, causing a faster burning charge. If two or three plugs were used in one cylinder the charge would be ignited in the two or three points, causing a very much faster burning charge and naturally increasing the power in proportion.

sands of people owning automobiles cannot afford it—not at all. It means rather, that a great percentage of the American public has come to look upon motoring as a comfort and a convenience that pays dividends in health and efficiency. EXPERT TO VISIT LOWELL—AUTO DIFFICULTIES EXPLAINED—OTHER AUTO NEWS

Thursday, Friday and Saturday there will be an expert from the Klaxon factory at Pitts, Hurd street, who will attend to the wants of all owners of Klaxon horns whether they were purchased at this popular shop or elsewhere. Mr. Pitts was fortunate indeed when he secured Mr. Peter Peiffer, Jr. of the Klaxon to come to Lowell. Mr. Peiffer, it will be remembered, was at Pitts last year and remained here for two days repairing and explaining in a very satisfactory way the Klaxon horns to owners. During his stay here on that occasion he made many friends by his willingness to please. No doubt many who met him last year will drop in this time to have a little chat and renew old acquaintances. Mr. Peiffer is one of the three men sent out by the service department of the Klaxon people. The Klaxon horn has the broadest kind of a guaranteed that possibly could go with any product. It is guaranteed for life and is insured against everything. There is no charge, no obligation for this service.

Hubert Girard, proprietor of the Howard street garage who hurt his hand recently is rapidly recovering and it is but a matter of a few days before he will be in trim once again.

Harry Pitts, chief marshal of the automobile parade predicts that at least one thousand cars will parade on the Fourth of July.

Anderson Tire shop, Paige street is making record sales of auto tires. These phenomenal sales are not confined to one make alone but all the different makes which are carried there are proving popular.

The automobile truck of Hose 4 is now at the Sawyer Carriage shop, Worthington street where it is being put into first class condition. At this same shop a large number of machines are in the paint department and are receiving new coats of paint. Every year this department turns out a surprisingly large number of painting jobs.

Harry Pitts and George H. Robertson, the well known racer were fast friends years ago when they were chauffeurs together in Boston.

Valuable Knowledge

If there is anything that you would like to know about your car you have but to send your query to the automobile editor of The Sun and the answer to your difficulty will be published on the automobile page on the following Tuesday. Your questions will be answered by George H. Robertson the famous racing driver who has won fame all over the country. In 1909, he was the winner of the race here in this city. A more complete knowledge of the care and operation of your car or motorcycle means a great saving and much auto trouble is done away with. Send in your questions as early in the week as possible and thus cooperate with the automobile editor in this matter.

MOTORDROME FOR NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 11.—New York is at last to have a motordrome. The Sheephead Bay Speedway corporation was incorporated recently with $2,500,000 capital. The famous Sheephead Bay race track, formerly owned by the Coney Island Jockey club has been purchased. Here will be built a two-mile motordrome, which it is proposed shall meet high speed requirements up to 140 miles an hour. Accommodations for 200,000 spectators will be provided.

On this course beginning next autumn it is proposed to hold annually at least two great international races for a $50,000 purse in each, a 24-hour mid-summer contest and a series of midweek events for stock cars. Carl G. Fisher, the founder of the Indianapolis Speedway, has consented to accept the presidency of the new company. Evarard Thompson, director of the Yale Bowl, will be general manager.

Frank Finnerty of the Saco-Lowell shops has a strenuous appeal for the "ladies" being present at the coming outing at the meeting held last night.

Electrician Jordan levered his connection at the local plant of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co. last Saturday to take up a new position in Hartford, Conn.

One of the most prominent members of the Labor Forward committee will undoubtedly be a candidate for the municipal council at the next election, and they do say he will have the undivided support of the labor men of the city.

The new buildings being erected for the U. S. Cartridge Co. in South Lowell are rapidly nearing completion, and the machinery will soon be installed. There are about 200 girls employed at the South Lowell plant at the present time.

Thomas Keyes, employed by Mullane & Co., plumbers is having the "clutch" on his one cylinder, Harley Davidson motor-cycle repaired at the Heinze Electric Co. The "spark" will be inspected next week, says Tom, and then the machine will be in excellent running condition, for the rest of the summer.

The following members of the Four of Clubs were appointed a committee to initiate the members of an incoming club at the meeting held last night: John Thomas, Dexter, William Lane, Fred Webster, John Farrell, John Joyce, George Lynch, John Hennessey, and James McEvoy. An organizing committee was also appointed. Remarks on the good of the union were made by several of the members and by Organizer Thomas F. McLaughlin.

Loomfixers' Union.

The Loomfixers' union, local 731 held its regular weekly meeting last evening in Carpenters' hall, Runels building, with a good attendance. President John Hanley was in the chair and called the meeting to order promptly at 8 o'clock. Considerable business of importance was transacted and three new members were initiated. The program of the session included remarks by James Carney and Frank LeClair. At the meeting to be held next Monday night the auditor will render his report on the financial standing of the union and all members should be in attendance. A number of applications for membership will also be acted upon.

Moulders' Conference.

Charles E. Anderson has returned to Lowell from the business session of the Eastern New England conference board of moulders held during the week end in Providence, R. I. For the next year, Mr. Anderson was chosen president of the board. He has served longer in his present position than any officer connected with the conference. The following officers were elected:

H. E. Bryant, Kingston, president; William J. Thornton, Worcester, first vice president; Henry J. Moller, Providence, R. I., second vice president; Daniel J. Sullivan, Nashua, N. H., third vice president; E. C. Appleby, Portland, Me., fourth vice president; Chas. E. Anderson, Lowell, secretary-treasurer; Eugene L. Murphy, Norwood, business agent.

Practically all the locals of the moulders in the Eastern New England district were represented in the conference. Among those present were International President Joseph P. Valentine of Cincinnati, O.; Second Vice President John R. O'Leary of Worcester; Business Agent J. A. Loveday of the Connecticut valley conference board; Business Agent William John of Boston; John Bradley of Portsmouth, N. Y.; and James H. O'Neill of Providence, the two latter being both former members of the international executive board. One of the most encouraging things about the convention was the fact that reports received from all parts of the country seemed to indicate a speedy return of prosperity. As a barometer the iron industry is the first to feel the trend of trade and indications from this source are therefore very trustworthy.

and how it actually works for you

The active principle of Gold Dust is a valuable antiseptic cleansing agent.

It actually works. It gets into the little corners and crevices where fingers and washcloths can't reach.

It permeates and dissolves dirt, grease and grime everywhere and it cleans and brightens everything.

THE LADY'S WORKBAG

Crepe de chine handkerchiefs are the last cry in that department of female accessories. Of course, one of the points which command them is that they may be laundered in the wash hand basin, since they need only be dried and shaken gently.

Clusters of dots in colors are at the corner of fine linen handkerchiefs such as ultra-smart dressers are wearing with shirt-waist costumes, also in colors. The border of the handkerchief matches either the shirt's stripe or its necktie, cuff links and belt.

Also, for mornings are handkerchiefs with inch-borders of pale green, blue, mauve or tan. If one is very particular about the smaller accessories, these are embroidered with initials at one corner with colored floss. In the case of other very new mouchoirs the coloring—a green, pale blue or neutral toned groundings—and a white border. Pale gray is considered very smart, indeed.

Darning stockings often becomes a problem when holes are large, and especially when one's eyesight has to be regarded. Why not patch them? Here is an easy way to do it: Place over the darned egg a piece of a discarded stocking, hold firm with your left hand, now slip the torn stocking over this, let the weave of the stocking run in same direction as the darn. Hold over the wooden egg, cut the raw edges from the hole and sew to the covered egg. Use silk as this doesn't cut the weave.

Now remove, turn and trim away the patch all but one-half to one inch. Slip over the darned egg again and sew the edges to the stocking good and firm. A little pressing will finish this easy and otherwise tedious job. This patch will not hurt a tender foot and it will match in color will not be noticed.

Silk stockings are always more expensive if purchased already embroidered, but plain ones can be obtained and given a touch of hand-work by the home needlewoman. Almost any spray, wreath of sprig pattern could be arranged with very good effect.

One can buy in the various stores initials by the yard, worked in red or blue outline stitch on narrow stripes of linen tape, three-eighths or a half-inch wide. These letters are used for marking plain underclothing, etc. They are of great use to the mother with a large family, who has neither money nor time to spare on embroidery, and who finds it necessary to have some distinguishing mark on the clothing, especially when there are two children of the same size.

The letters are cut off from the strip when needed and overcast on the inside of the garment, any place where it will be invisible when worn. When this system is used even stockings are easily paired. Sew each child's initials at the top of the stocking of the first pair, use a blue cross stitch on the second, yellow on the third, etc. It is an easy matter to sort even a large pile of stockings—two M's with red crosses—a pair for Mary; two M's with green crosses, another pair; while two J's with blue crosses are a pair of stockings belonging to Jack. If two children have the same initials

NORA AND THE FORGET-ME-NOT

Once upon a time, a great many, many years ago, a little girl lived with her parents in a small cottage near some deep woods. One day Nora, that was the little girl's name, went for a walk into the woods. After she had walked some ways she saw a beautiful little blue flower growing among some moss. She stopped to look at it for she had never seen such a flower before and, just as she was going to pick it to carry home, she heard a great rumbling noise and, looking up, saw a stone roll away from a cave in some rocks.

She was so eager to see what was in the cave that she forgot the flower and ran inside. There she found great piles of gold and some beautiful jewels so she took off her apron and filled it with the gold and jewels and turned to go out and run home to her parents.

As she did so the two stones rolled together and caught fast her apron with all of the gold and jewels. She was glad it was only her apron and not her that was caught between the stones and she started to run home and tell her mother about her adventure when, all at once, she heard a little voice say: "Don't forget me," and as she turned to look there she saw her little flower that she had thought so lovely.

Nora picked the flower very carefully and wrapped it in some of the moss and ran back to her home. When she told her mother what she had seen her mother said: "We must be very, very thankful that it was only your apron that was caught. I think you were a very lucky little girl to get back home safe."

Nora went out into the yard and very carefully planted her little flower and in a few weeks it had grown into a big plant and had many more blossoms. Nora called it "Forget-me-not" and that is how the little blue flower was named.

KEITH'S CLOSING SHOW

WHILE NOT AN EXPENSIVE ATTRACTION MADE HIT OF SEASON

Keith's theatre closed its vaudeville season last week with the most talked about and best attended attraction of the entire season and thereby hangs an interesting story relative to the tastes of lovers of vaudeville and the fickleness of vaudeville audiences.

Everybody who attended last week's show when asked about it expressed the same opinion: One of the best vaudeville bills I ever saw.

Others said: "Now if the Keith people would spend the money and get good people all the time they'd draw packed houses every week."

Now as a matter of fact last week's bill was one of the least expensive bills so far as cost to the management is concerned, of the entire season. Frequently Manager Pickett has presented bills that have cost him double what last week's attraction cost, and some of these, expensive bills that generated big money because of their general drawing ability, didn't draw at all in Lowell and weren't even considered good acts.

Then again from the standpoint of a manager or promoter, last week's bill was not strong, as it had too much sameness, there was a similarity of acts that precluded the variety that a vaudeville bill must have to make it popular, and yet the Lowell audiences simply "ate it up."

Having studied his audiences Manager Pickett has tried to impress the booking agencies that it was a bill like last week's that caught the crowd in Lowell—a bill with good, high class singing acts; a bill with plenty of laughter. He got what he wanted for the closing week and the receipts of the house for that week will convince the Keith "higher-up" officials that the local manager knows his audiences and incidentally his business. Many people stopped Manager Pickett during the week to assure him that that bill would fill the theatre for a second week, but he informed them all that they are all booked elsewhere and could not be secured, though they may return later.

Of course, the fact that a talented little Lowell girl, Miss Ethel Sharrow, was on the bill helped some in drawing the crowds but in the main the fact that each act was pleasing to all was what got the people going.

Manager Pickett is now going in for pictures and he says he thinks he

NIGHTLY BEAUTY RULES

The well-groomed business woman you meet in the train or car each morning is the one who has spent a few moments the night previous in the preparation of her daily toilet. Where the rising hour is an early one the business woman cannot afford to make a leisurely toilet. A few little attentions to oneself in the evening will mean much toward the hurried morning catching of trains.

One or two warm baths at night a week should be interlarded with those of tepid temperature. From five to ten minutes is sufficient in the daily bath. Where a tepid bath is desired, a sponge of tepid salt water is suggested. This followed by a short alcohol rub, prevents one from taking cold. A brisk rubbing should follow all baths in order to get the blood coursing more freely.

Sometimes a bath at night is found to be too relaxing or exhilarating, and accordingly a woman must determine this in accordance with its effect upon herself. While massaging the face one may rub the roots of the hair at the same time by taking out the pins and shaking it over the shoulders.

Under no circumstances, unless illness prevents, should a woman retire without washing or creaming her face. This is especially true where powder and rouge is used, for when these are permitted to remain, they clog the pores and encourage pimples.

Cleanse the face, neck, arms and hands with your favorite soap or prepared meal. The amount of soil and grime that it is possible to accumulate in a single day is surprising, especially when part of the time is spent in the city or traveling on trains.

Hotel Register Bill Hits Snag—Rep. Jewett in Speaker's Chair—Other Matters

BOSTON, May 11.—During the temporary absence of the Hon. Channing H. Cox of Boston, speaker of the house of representatives, Mr. Victor E. Jewett, of Lowell, was called to the chair yesterday to preside over the deliberations of the assembly. Representative Jewett wielded the gavel with the same dignity and regard for strict parliamentary procedure that marked his tenure as president of the common council in 1910 and received the congratulations of his colleagues at the end of the debate.

The sinking of the Lusitania and the situation which President Wilson faces are in probably the subject of a formal speech by Speaker Cox.

"Not since Fort Sumter was fired upon has public sentiment in this country been so inflamed as it is today," he said.

"The United States stands face to face with a grave situation, more grave perhaps than we realize. It is the hour when men of all faiths and beliefs should stand as one man behind President Wilson and testify to our confidence in him, and to our belief that he will cause an official inquiry to be made as to the responsibility for the slaughter of innocent Americans on the high seas and that then he will perform his full duty."

"But as men having influence in this old commonwealth, may I urge you to impress upon all your fellow men the danger that may arise from unbridled speech, and for the substitution of passion for reason. It is the hour when each of us should show by speech and by action that our first duty lies in loyal and unflinching support of the government in Washington."

"Herbal Healers" Eliminated
Mr. Nickerson of Haverhill moved to strike out of the senate bill regulating the registration of physicians three sections permitting herbal healers to practice, saying the house had rejected such legislation in another form. The amendment was adopted, 51 to 33, and the bill ordered to a third reading.

The House accepted the report of the Ways and Means committee that the petitioner for legislation to abolish the commission on economy and efficiency be granted leave to withdraw.

The bill to prohibit the sale or delivery of milk or cream produced under unhealthful conditions was again debated at length, but by a vote of 124 to 79 the House concurred with the senate in its amendment exempting common carriers from the provisions of the act, after it had defeated an amendment to extend the exemption to all licensed milk dealers.

The "True Name" Bill

In the state senate yesterday, Senator Ellis moved that the senate recede from its adoption of certain perfecting amendments to the bill requiring guests at hotels to register their own names and compelling the proprietors of hotels to keep an adequate record of guests.

Senator Ellis pointed out that Representative Donovan last week prevented the house from concurring with the senate in these amendments after the bill had been enacted and then recalled. Unless, therefore, the senate receded, the bill would fall between the two branches.

By a vote of 5 to 3 the senate refused to recede, and Senator Ellis could not secure a call of the yeas and nays. He then moved that the senate reconsider the vote refusing to recede, and his motion to reconsider went over to today.

Senator Sullivan urged the passage of the house bill to prohibit school committees from requiring teachers applicants to state their religious beliefs. Senator Sheehan of Holyoke opposed the bill as unnecessary and it was rejected, 5 to 23.

Senator McLane's bill to tax billboards was killed without division or debate. Senator Leonard offered a long, technical amendment to the bill about the construction and remodeling of buildings in Boston, and his motion for further action went over to today.

Quill Given to Monahan

Gov. Walsh yesterday signed the bill changing the workmen's compensation law in favor of younger employees, introduced by Representative John L. Monahan of South Boston, to whom Gov. Walsh has given the quill. It provides that the industrial accident board may, in fixing the compensation to an injured employee, consider the fact that the injured employee was of such age and experience when injured that under natural conditions his wages would be expected to increase.

BIG SEA FIGHTERS ON REVIEW IN NEW YORK HARBOR AS NATION FACES CRISIS

1-FLEET GOING UP NORTH RIVER--2-SAILOR SIGNALING ON WYOMING--3-ADMIRAL FLETCHER--4-BIG GUNS ON WYOMING

NEW YORK, May 11.—When the armada assembled in New York harbor for review everybody seemed to realize that in case the United States was called upon to assert its rights the Atlantic fleet would be the right arm of the government, and there was much speculation as to how Uncle Sam's warships would acquit themselves in time of need. Needless to say, the consensus was that the big fighters and their men would show themselves worthy of the glorious traditions of the American navy. This occasion is quite different from that of three years ago when the fleet was reviewed by President Taft. Then the mobilization was just a great, big, wonderful show, but this time it comes when half of the world is at war and at a moment when the country is horror stricken as a result of the frightful marine disaster, a disaster due to war and not to an accident, as was the case of the Titanic.

The Massachusetts senate gave a hearing yesterday on a resolve providing $15,000 for an investigation of telephone rates and service by the public service commission. Chairman Macleod of the public service commission said that although the commission did not appear as advocate of such an investigation, it believed $15,000 was necessary to pay for conducting one. William H. O'Brien, the commission's rate expert, said an investigation might clear the doubt over the basis for the rate schedule adopted in 1910.

Vice President E. K. Hall of the telephone company said the company was "neutral." Replying to questions, he said the company was paying 7 per cent. dividends and had a surplus of $125,000, or about $1.50 to every $1000 invested.

Representative Midland favored an investigation and Senator Halgus of Montague opposed investigation of the Heath Telephone company.

John McCormack, the Irish tenor, has rented a house and grounds at Tokeneke park, on the Sound, a short distance from Stamford, Conn., where he proposes to stay the latter part of October. In November he will join the Chicago Opera company for a limited number of engagements, after which he will make another extensive concert tour.

It is understood that Mr. McCormack has also concluded negotiations for the purchase of a historic castle and estate near the Vale of Avoca, in County Wicklow, Ireland. Mr. McCormack owns a fine home in Hampstead Heath, London, but it is closed up until the war shall end.

He is planning another extensive tour in 1915, when he hopes to visit Buenos Ayres, and other points in South America, in addition to Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, China, Japan and other parts of the Orient.

TOKIO, May 11.—The Japanese foreign office is drafting a treaty with China based on the acceptance of the provisions in Japan's ultimatum including the restoration of Kio Chau.

Admitting that the public is displeased with the results of the negotiations the conservative press is urging the Japanese to exercise self-restraint with regard to China.

Hub Police Think Man Caught at Hartford is Famous Lone Bandit

HARTFORD, May 11.—As the climax to a spectacular street chase through the busiest section of the city last evening, John R. Meakin, aged 35, of this city, believed to be the much-wanted Boston lone bandit, was shot in the back by Detective Lewis Melberger just as he was about to plunge into the Park river to seek freedom on the other side.

At the Hartford hospital last night it was said Meakin's wound, while serious, was not necessarily fatal.

The 32-calibre bullet entered the back, passed above one kidney and nearly through the body. It was easily removed.

Meakin is alleged by the Hartford police to have been one of the old "Sheldon street gang," now disrupted. He has been convicted of theft in this city.

Inspector Lynch of Boston was seated in Hartford police headquarters at the moment that Melberger, a crack shot, was chasing Meakin. He was mightily pleased last night, especially when a search of Meakin's room is alleged to have proved his identity and connection with Boston holdups.

When the Boston police after considerable work heard that the wanted might have come from Hartford, several names by which the man was known in Boston were submitted to the Hartford detective bureau. Looking over the list of eligibles, the local police selected Meakin's picture and sent it to Boston.

When it was shown to the lone bandit's victims it is alleged they readily identified Meakin.

"Duffy's a Lasting Benefit"

Her husband relieved of stomach trouble of 12 years standing, Mrs. Zink wrote us over two years ago as follows:

"My husband suffered, with stomach trouble for over 12 years, during which time he doctored with three doctors who gave him no relief. He kept growing worse, had to be very careful as to what he ate, as things always soured on his stomach, but thank God, after taking three bottles of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey he was entirely cured. He still takes it as a tonic and we would never be without it. He now looks fine and weighs 180 pounds. I can highly recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach trouble."—Mrs. Fred F. Zink.

She now writes that Duffy's is keeping them both in health:

"I am glad to say that my husband and I are still using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. He is as healthy as can be, and says that Duffy's is a flesh builder remedy that can be guaranteed to make any thin person stout. It is certainly increasing my weight fine."—(Signed Mrs. Fred F. Zink, 2228 Saratoga Street, New Orleans, La.)

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure tonic stimulant which should be in every home. It is made from sound grain thoroughly malted, including barley the most expensive grown. Repeated refinnings, or distillations, are resorted to in order that injurious by-products may be removed. This leaves only the sound wholesome soul of the grain which gives to Duffy's the healthful benefit so necessary for medical use. That's why it helps improve the appetite and digestion, aids in making new rich blood, assists in rebuilding worn-out tissues and feeding starved nerves. It's a medicine for all mankind which has stood the test for generations, and today men and women everywhere know from actual experience that they can always

$86,000 LOAN ORDER FOR PAWTUCKET BRIDGE

At the regular meeting of the municipal council today, Charles J. Moore, commissioner of streets and highways, brought in a loan order for $58,000 for a new Pawtucket bridge, and Walter M. Denman, of the Luten Engineering company of Springfield, presented a preliminary plan and discussed estimates and costs. No action was taken on the order.

The council also adopted the order for 550,000 granite paving blocks as originally drawn. The paving contract had been objected to by Frank Maloney and there was talk at one time that the contract would be changed and the order redrafted, but the proposition went through today in its original form.

The council voted to borrow $8,000 for sidewalk construction and put Commissioner Duncan's ordinance providing for the identification of automobiles belonging to the city of Lowell through all of the stages necessary for its ordination. All of this was preceded by a meeting in the mayor's reception room at which bills were approved.

Mayor Murphy called the regular meeting to order at about 11.30 o'clock with all members present except Commissioner Carmichael who is attending the annual convention of fire chiefs, being held in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The first business before the meeting had to do with gasoline and garage licenses and the following petitions ordered for a hearing: today were referred to Commissioner Carmichael and Fire Commissioners, Charles J. Swan, garage; Ardella M. Sanders, garage.

Damage Claims Entered

The following claims for damaged property and bodily injuries were referred to the mayor and the city solicitor: Mrs. Mary Long for damages to fence at 117 Third street.

LONDON, May 9.—The British official press bureau today issued this announcement:

The following statement dated Berlin, May 9, has been officially circulated through the German wireless stations and received by the American Marconi company:

"The main headquarters reported some weeks ago that a large number of enemy submarines which originated in Norway to the effect that near Bergen on the Norwegian coast during the night from the 7th to the 8th of April heavy sea fighting between English and German ships had taken place.

"Ships coming from that direction also reported that they had seen squadrons of warships. On the night in question gunfire by the air of illuminating rockets had been noticed.

"With regard to these reports, some light now has been thrown on the matter by the commander of the submarine AE-22 which was destroyed in the Danesland. According to a letter which came into our possession regarding the North Sea fight, which is said to have taken place, the British battleship Superb is said to have been sunk and the cruiser Warrior is said to have been sinking without the German navy having suffered any loss.

"On Friday, the 9th of April, a number of cruisers are said to have arrived to a badly damaged condition. The Lion was very badly damaged. Official reports say nothing of this.

"Similar reports have come to hand from reliable neutral sources to the effect that a number of badly damaged and slightly damaged ships had reached English ports for repairs. The manner in which they had been damaged has been left unexplained.

"An especially large number of aged ships ran into the Tyne, a German cruiser was towed into the Tyne, a ship of the Lion type with a board list and with her aft missing was towed into the Forth.

"The silence of the admiralty of us is easily to be understood. As the German navy took no part in anything on the night in question and fight with neutral vessels is out of question, a battle can only have taken place between ships of the British which did not recognize each other in the darkness."

The secretary of the British admiralty states there is not a word of this in this fabrication. It is, however, interesting as a mark of the anxiety Germany at the present moment make an impression on neutral

GERMANY FORCED TO IT

Official Statement Places the Responsibility for Loss of Lusitania on British Government

BERLIN, via London, May 11.—The following despatch has been sent by the German foreign office to the German embassy at Washington:

"Please communicate the following to the state department:

"The German government desires to express its deepest sympathy at the loss of lives on board the Lusitania. The responsibility rests, however, with the British government, which through its plan of starving the civilian population of Germany has forced Germany to resort to retaliatory measures.

"In spite of the German offer to stop the submarine war, in case the starvation plan was given up, British merchant vessels are being generally armed with guns and have repeatedly tried to ram submarines, so that a previous search was impossible.

"They cannot, therefore, be treated as ordinary merchant vessels. A recent declaration made to the British parliament by the parliamentary secretary in answer to a question by Lord Charles Zensford said that at the present practically all British merchant vessels were armed and provided with hand grenades.

"Besides it has been openly admitted by the British press that the Lusitania on previous voyages repeatedly carried large quantities of war material. On the present voyage, the Lusitania carried 400 cases of ammunition, while the rest of her cargo consisted chiefly of contraband.

"If England, after repeated official and unofficial warnings, considered herself able to declare that that boat ran no risk and thus light-hearted assumed responsibility for the human life on board a steamer which, owing to its armament and cargo, was liable to destruction, the German government, in spite of its heartfelt sympathy for the loss of American lives, cannot but regret that Americans felt more inclined to trust of English promises rather than to pay attention to the warnings from the German side.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better.

Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, barks and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

SURVIVORS OF LUSITANIA

DR. PEARL WAS SAVED WITH HIS WIFE AND TWO OF THEIR CHILDREN—TWO CHILDREN LOST

QUEENSTOWN, May 11.—Dr. P. Warren Pearl of New York, who was a surgeon major in the United States army during the Spanish-American war and was on the Lusitania bound for Belgium on Red Cross work, was saved with his wife, who has a broken arm, and two of their children. Two other children and two nurses employed by Dr. Pearl are missing.

In the rush to the deck one of the nurses and two of the children were separated from the remainder of the family. Dr. Pearl left his wife in the care of Herbert S. Stone and Lyndon W. Bates Jr., of New York, while he searched the ship for the missing members of the family.

Mrs. Pearl says that she saw Mr. Stone and Mr. Bates go down when a wave washed over the port side of the ship.

"I was lunching with Mr. Stone, Mr. Bates, Madame De Page and Doctor Houghton when I felt a shock," said Dr. Pearl. "On my way to the deck I saw Charles Frohman distributing life belts. Mr. Frohman evidently did not expect to escape as he said to a woman passenger: 'Why should we fear death? It is the greatest adventure man can have.'

"When I reached the deck I found that one nurse and two of my children were missing. I discovered later that they got into a boat which was launched safely on the starboard side. I returned to the port side and jumped overboard just before the ship went down.

"I saw no signs of panic. Officers and crew apparently were doing everything possible to save the passengers but the explosion rendered the engine useless and it was impossible to slow down the ship.

"I did not know whether any of my family was safe until I got ashore, after three hours in the water in which I floated in the greatest ease on my lifebelt. When I reached the land I found my wife at Admiralty house, suffering with a broken arm.

"I soon brought two of our children to her. Two are gone but thank God that so many of my family were saved, especially when I recall that whole families have perished. I saw a father, mother and three daughters, all dead, clasped in each others' arms."

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Noble Grand William T. Hutton presided at the regular meeting of Loyal Integrity lodge, 6630, I. O. O. F., M. U., held last evening in Odd Fellows hall. Two candidates were initiated and applications for membership were received and acted upon. Next Monday evening the gold degree will be worked and the following week the blue degree will be executed. It was announced that the last event in the card tournament between Integrity and Wameet lodges was won by Wameet lodge 118 to 83. Integrity won out in the tournament by the total score of 331 to 334.

The players and their scores were as follows: Integrity lodge, Silke and Boutwell, 29; Lench and Bailey, 21; Hutton and Hosty, 19; Gadsby and Henderson, 11; Batty and Freeman, 10. Wameet lodge: Humphries and Adams, 27; Smith and Atkinson, 25; McKinley and Brooks, 21; Lees and Bowden, 21; Mitten and Corbett, 22. The resignation of P. P. G. M. Edward T. Mackley from both staff and lodge was accepted as the condition of his health will not allow him to fill the duties of the office. Mr. Mackley has served as P. P. G. M. for 15 years and it was with sincere regret that his resignation was accepted.

Remarks of appreciation, eulogy and regret were made by N. G. William Hutton, D. S. Chadwick and others. President Boutwell called for a rising vote of thanks for P. P. G. M. Mackley's long and faithful service. Mr. Mackley spoke fittingly and said that he is ready and willing to assist in any time possible when he feels able to be present. Among the other speakers were President Boutwell and Brother Fletcher.

Party Got Off Here This Morning - Are Going North

A party of 24 Albanians, separated into three groups and led by three different leaders, stopped at the Boston & Maine depot in this city for a brief space early this morning waiting to entrain for Manchester, N. H., where they expect to secure work in the McMillan Shoe Co.

The party included three boys, who are seeing this country for the first time, while the majority of the older members have been here before, and have worked in various shoe shops throughout New England.

The men in the group were dressed about the same as the everyday foreigner one sees on the streets of this city, but the boys were dressed in their native costumes. All three wore long light-fitting breeches caught up below the knee, heavy woolen stockings, odd fitting jackets and funny-looking round hats. They attracted considerable attention.

One of the leaders spoke English fairly well and told the writer that the party had been on the water 29 days, during which time no trouble or sickness had been experienced. He said he was taking some of them to Manchester, N. H., where he expected to secure work for them and said that a Haverhill firm would give employment to a number of them.

J. A. HALL DEAD

Ex-Treasurer of Southbridge Bank a Cancer Victim

SOUTHBRIDGE, May 11.—Word was received here last night of the death at Stockton, Calif., of John A. Hall, once treasurer of the Southbridge Savings bank, whose absconding with the bank's funds and subsequent trial and conviction were a sensation five years ago. He was pardoned by the governor and council last December.

Mr. Hall was in his 47th year. Death followed an operation for what was supposed to be appendicitis, but proved to be cancer.

No defalcation of recent years caused the sensation or aroused such a commotion in the state as that of Hall in 1910. Hall, respected and honored in the community in which he moved as a conspicuous figure, was pointed out as one of the philanthropists of the town and county, a trusted servant and a man whose character was above suspicion until early in January, 1910, when the bank directors discovered a disappearance in the treasurer's accounts.

Hall, who had subsequently been sentenced to a term of 12 years in state prison on a charge of the larceny of $104,000, disappeared within a few days after the discrepancies were discovered in his accounts, but within a week returned from New York and surrendered himself to the state police at Worcester.

His sudden disappearance, during which all sorts of rumors were in circulation and a reward was offered for his apprehension; his subsequent trial, his sentence to imprisonment and his "confession," created no less a stir in the commonwealth than did his unexpected pardon last December.

FOR STATE HIGHWAY

RESIDENTS OF CHELMSFORD WAIVE ALL CLAIMS FOR LAND DAMAGES—MEETING HELD

At a hearing given last evening by the selectmen of Chelmsford to the abutters on Gorbham street, East Chelmsford and held at the East school, plans for the proposed state highway from Lowell to Billerica were discussed. The state has appropriated $20,000 for the construction of this highway, and is ready to award the contract just as soon as the town of Chelmsford gives the state a release from all liability for land damages which may arise. The meeting was held for the purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the abutters toward the project, which was found to be unanimously in favor.

A special town meeting will be held in the near future at which it is expected the selectmen will be authorized to proceed according to law to adjust claims for land damages.

SWIMMING LESSONS

Starting today, special swimming lessons for boys have been arranged by the Young Men's Christian association. These swimming lessons will take place in the spacious Y. M. C. A. tank twice each week and a competent instructor will be in charge of this new department. The response to the announcement of this valuable course was large for the advantages of it are readily apparent. Boys may register at any time. A large number were on hand today for the initial instruction.

FEDERATION OF ARTS

U. S. MUST SET PEACE EXAMPLE, SAYS WILSON

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—President Wilson gave to a gathering of 1000 naturalized Americans last night the first intimation of the course which the United States government probably will pursue in the situation resulting from the loss of more than a hundred lives on the British liner Lusitania. He spoke by implication, but his hearers interpreted his remarks as meaning that while the United States would remain at peace, it would seek to convince Germany of the injustice to mankind of the tragedy of last Friday.

"America," said the president, "must have the consciousness that on all sides it touches elbows and touches hearts with all the nations of mankind. The conclusion on page five

TWO LOWELL WOMEN ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED

Mrs. Eugene C. Dunbar is at the Lowell General hospital suffering from various injuries, including a broken shoulder as the result of an automobile accident near Point of Pines yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Lydia M. Stevens of 48 Highland street was with Mrs. Dunbar when the accident occurred and she, too, was injured but not as seriously as Mrs. Dunbar. They are not very sure as to the cause of the accident. They were driving toward Lynn when the machine overturned at Northern circle on the boulevard, near Point of Pines. Either the axle or a wheel collapsed, throwing the car over and pinning the women under it.

Arthur C. Pendergast, a tax collector of Revere, who was driving by, raised the car with the help of other men and lifted the women out. He took them to his own automobile to the park police station, where their injuries were treated by a physician.

Mrs. Dunbar had a cut over the left eye from the broken glass of the windshield, her right shoulder was broken and her right hip was injured if not fractured. Seven stitches were taken in her head after she was removed to the hospital. Mrs. Stevens, who had been driving, escaped with bruises to the head and arms. It was stated at the hospital this morning that Mrs. Dunbar had passed a fairly comfortable night. The accident was not due to fast driving as the auto was going at moderate speed when the crash came.

the flowers were a pillow inscribed "Husband," from wife, and a wreath inscribed "Brother," from the brothers. The bearers were William Graham, Irvin Peasey, James Stagg and Robert Standoff. Burial was in the Edison cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

GREENWOOD.—The funeral of Greenwood was held yesterday afternoon from his home, 132 Jewett street, Rev. W. Earl Pittenger, pastor of the Centralville M. E. church, conducted the services. The bearers were William Atkinson, Fred Beatty, John Whitehead, John McLean, John Marden and John Fernley, representing Wampanoag lodge, J. O. P. M. There were many floral offerings including: Anchor on base inscribed "shopmate," employees of Merrimack cloth room, and tributes from Myers family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cooper, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Quirk, and Little Quirk; pillow inscribed "Husband," wife, wreath inscribed "Papa," son, pillow inscribed "J. O. P. M.," Mrs. Wampanoag lodge, Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery where the services at the grave were conducted by the representatives of Wampanoag lodge. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker James W. McKenna.

LOWELL GUILD MEETING

MONTHLY REPORT READ YES-TERDAY SHOWS INCREASED SERVICE TO PUBLIC

The Lowell Guild held its monthly meeting at the Guild house, 17 Dutton street, yesterday afternoon. The business of the month was gone over and the superintendent read her report which showed that the high average of last month was surpassed, the total number of visits made by the nurses being 1214. This included the visits to the insurance company policy holders, sixty in all, and new cases for the month, and also the 171 visits made by the milk station nurses. Fifty-nine babies were brought to the conferences, equalling the high average of last month; six mothers were taught home modifications and four new modification stations were added on.

The conferences are held on Tuesdays and Fridays, from 3 to 5 p. m., and any mother wishing help and advice is welcome. There is no charge for the conferences and a doctor and nurses are in charge.

During the month, the Guild has co-operated with the following organizations: Board of health, board of charities, Humane society, transient officers, and the Lowell Social Service League. The temporary relief given during the month included: 12 grocery orders, 20 quarters of milk, 2 boxes of children's clothing, 1 box of women's clothing, 8 pairs of shoes, 2 sheets and 2 pillow cases. The steadily increasing demands for the district nurses show that the service is being much appreciated. Any one desiring a nurse can be accommodated by telephoning the Lowell Guild, 2121.

He filed from Park street to Blackpole street, was referred to Mr. Morse, as were petitions for the closing of Lane and Main streets.

The petition of Harriet M. Wakenfield to accept concrete sidewalk in front of 21 Harvard street was referred to Commissioner Morse.

Dummer Street Extension

Commissioner Duncan gave evidence of living up to his "progressive interview" of a few days ago when he said he favored the extension of Dummer street, a new high school and a new bridge at Pawtucket falls, by moving that the city engineer be instructed to prepare tentative plans for the Dummer street extension and bring in estimates of the cost. It was so voted.

Pawtucket Bridge Order

The order for a new Pawtucket bridge, as presented by Commissioner Morse was as follows:

Noted, that the city solicitor be and he is hereby directed and instructed to prepare an order pursuant to directions from the city engineer for the construction and building of a bridge over the Merrimack river at Pawtucket falls from School street to Main street, and that said order shall contain an appropriation of $86,000 to be borrowed for a term of years pursuant to law, and that said sum be appropriated shall cover the expenses, as well as cost of constructing said bridge, as well as all costs for land damages.

No action was taken on the order.

City Engineer Kearney said he had talked with Engineer Hiram F. Mills of the Locks & Canals Co., and Mr. Mills told him that the Locks & Canals would have no objections to offer relative to the construction of a new bridge, but that the company would insist upon the same waterway as is there at present. Mr. Kearney said the land damage would be very small. Mr. Denman, a visiting engineer was then called by Mr. Morse, and said he had been asked by a private citizen to give an estimate of the cost. He thought a concrete bridge could be built for $50,000.

Installation Is Accepted

The council voted to accept the Memorial Day committee's invitation to review the parade of the Spanish American War Veterans and to attend the annual banquet to be held in Elks hall on the evening of May 31. Mayor Murphy was given permission to buy, through the purchasing agent's office, a carload of oats for the health department. Adjourned.

PEACE, SAYS WILSON

example of America must be a special example. And must be an example, not merely of peace, because it will not fight, but because peace is a healing and elevating influence of the world and strife is not.

"There is such a thing as a man being too proud to fight. There is such a thing as being so right that it does not need to convince others by force that it is right."

Lustre not Mentioned

These remarks precipitated a tumult of applause and patriotic enthusiasm ending by the waving of thousands of small American flags. The president made no direct reference to the Lusitania tragedy, but the audience did not hesitate to read the application of his statement.

The sentiment expressed in the president's speech was epitomized later by one of his closest advisers as "humanity first." While it had not yet been determined, he said, exactly what steps would be taken by the United States in the present crisis, the idea uppermost in the president's mind was to show that whatever course is adopted—no matter how vigorous—it will have as its objective the good of humanity.

Introduced by Mayor Blakenburg, who, in distinctly German accent, spoke a welcome and an appeal for a single allegiance to the United States, the president carried forward the idea of the wedding of foreign blood in the make-up of America by pointing out the true goal of right American citizenship is to be loyal, not to the country of one's birth, but to the land of one's adoption.

"While you bring," he said, "all countries with you, you come with a purpose of leaving all other countries behind you—bringing what is best of their spirit, but not looking over your shoulder or seeking to perpetuate what you leave in them."

Finally he said that he would suggest that a man cease to love the place of his origin. It is one thing to love the place where you were born and another thing to dedicate yourself to the place where you go.

Think First of Humanity

"You can't be an American if you think of yourself in groups. America does not consist of groups. A man who considers himself as belonging to a national group is not yet an American."

"My advice to you is to think first not only of America, but think first of humanity, and you do not love humanity if you seek to divide humanity in jealous camps."

The president was constantly interrupted by outbursts of applause. He spoke clearly, and so quiet was his large audience that he could be heard distinctly in all parts of the great hall. Everywhere the American flag and red, white and blue bunting were displayed, and a band during the evening played patriotic airs.

Some of the passages in his speech which caused the greatest enthusiasm were these: "I am sorry for the man who seeks to make personal capital out of the passions of his fellow man. He has lost touch and ideal of America, for America was created to be ruled by the passions that lift and unite and not by the passions that separate and debase mankind."

Striking at Nation's Heart

"The man who seeks to divide man from man, group from group, interest from interest in the United States, is striking at its very heart."

"I was born in America. You dreamed of what America was to be, and I hope you brought the dreams with you."

"No man who does not see visions will ever realize any high hopes or undertake any great enterprise."

In his peroration, the president said that he had felt that he ought not to be away from Washington, but after coming here he found that the gathering had renewed his "spirit as an American."

"In Washington," he said, "men tell you so many things every day that are not so, and I like to come and stand in the presence of my fellow citizens and drink out of the common fountain with them, feeling the sense of their support."

There was a tremendous ovation as the president finished his speech. Afterward, he returned to the station and entered his private car.

Guarded by 750 Policemen

Because of the present status of international affairs, extraordinary precautions had been taken to guard the president during his stay in Philadelphia. Seven hundred and fifty policemen had been detailed for this duty.

Seven detectives acted as a personal bodyguard for Mr. Wilson and rode directly behind him through the streets. In addition, hundreds of policemen led the procession and brought up the rear. The City Troop acted as a guard of honor. This was the 45th time the president had thus visited a city.

On his return trip from the hall, the president rode for three miles along streets almost solidly lined with cheering people. Frequently he raised his hat and bowed. Automobile horns sounded a steady chorus. In the Broad street station of the Pennsylvania railroad, several thousand people cheered as the president stepped aboard his private car. He smiled and waved his hat to them. Soon afterward the president retired.

PUT TO DEATH

Falzone Executed This Morning for Murder of Lawrence Jeweler

BOSTON, May 11.—Penitent and fully reconciled to his fate, Biagio Falzone, who was 23 years old Saturday, was electrocuted in the state prison in Charlestown this morning.

The current was turned on at 4 minutes 29 seconds past 12, and at 12.13.21 he was officially pronounced dead.

The condemned man was led from his cell shortly after midnight and preceded by Rev. Michael J. Murphy, the Catholic chaplain, and Rev. Vito Gregory of the Sacred Heart church, North square walked to the electric chair. The prisoner showed no signs of weakness and walked with steady steps. Prayers were being read by the two priests as the prisoner officers adjusted the electrodes, and they remained at the end.

The execution was witnessed by Dr. George B. Magrath, medical examiner of Suffolk county; Dr. Joseph I. McLaughlin, prison physician; Surg. Gen. Frank P. Williams, Sheriff John R. Fairbairn of Middlesex county; Dr. Daniel J. Hurley of Charlestown, Chief of Police James J. Pollard of Wakefield; Warden N. D. Allen, Deputy Warden William Hendry, Fred I. Green, representing the Associated Press, and Rev. William Bradley Whitney, Protestant chaplain.

Yesterday Falzone made the following statement in Italian and it was given out as translated by Fr. Gregory:

"I, Biagio Falzone, about to die, wish to say that from the bottom of my heart I forgive all who have taken any part in this case, especially those who testified against me. I earnestly ask my relatives and friends not to grieve or molest in any way those who were associated with me. I ask God's forgiveness and beg my friends to pray for me."

Falzone was one of three men concerned in the murder last winter of Maurice A. Albertson of Lawrence, a jewelry salesman, whose body was found in a shack in Wakefield. Ignazio Merello is now serving life imprisonment and Luigi Grassano, who turned state's evidence, is serving a five-year sentence in state prison.

The electrocution was the first under the administration of Warden Nathan D. Allen and the 26th in Charlestown.

PREVENT ENTRY OF GERMANS

LONDON, May 11.—Between 200 and 300 British members of the stock exchange have mobilized to prevent, if necessary, the entry of any Germans who might be brave enough to attempt to make their way into the house in disregard of the warning issued on Saturday by the stock exchange committee advising them to remain away.

THREE YOUNG BANDITS

ROBBED A BOY OF 90 CENTS AFTER CUNNINGLY FINDING HE HAD THE MONEY

Three boys, between the ages of 9 and 13 years, will appear in the juvenile court Friday as a result of a hold-up in an alley off Middle street early last evening.

Ernest Auerbach, aged 10 years, reported to the police that he was robbed of 90 cents by three young bandits whom he could identify. He said he met the boys on the street yesterday and one tried to start an argument by saying he had more money than the victim. Young Auerbach accused the lad of being "dead broke" this was more than he could endure and he displayed 50 cents in change. As soon as the eager eyes of the three lads spied the money they lured Ernest to Middle street and there pounced upon him, taking the whole amount and making a quick get away. A report was made to the police and last evening Inspector Walsh captured the alleged guilty ones and put them through the third degree.

FOR PARDON OF ROSA

Man Serving Sentence for Bitterness Held Up May Have Term Reduced

A hearing will be given next Wednesday before the pardon committee of the executive council on the petition of Peter Rosa, now serving a sentence of from 15 to 25 years for holding up two men in Billerica in February, 1908, and assault with intent to murder two policemen who attempted to capture him afterward. Rosa had been in this country but three months when the crime was committed and claims that he was induced to go forward in the robbery by his companions. He now speaks the English language fluently.

SUPPORT YOUR PRESIDENT

Not since the dark days of Abraham Lincoln has an American president stood more in need of the unanimous support of the American people than now. For nine months or more our chief executive has had to wrestle with some of the gravest international problems that ever confronted the country—problems that in their solution will have a bearing on American history for all time. Many of these war questions have been so delicate and complicated that experts in international law have differed as to their solution, and on such solution the peace of the nation has hinged. Thus far our administration has been prudent, patient and wise beyond all expectation, but the gravest of all the war problems now clamors for immediate attention.

During these days of trial the ruling power in Washington is President Wilson. The secretary of state has undoubtedly a great moral force which he has occasionally exercised in the furtherance of ideals of peace and justice, but in all the intimate dealings with foreign governments, belligerent and neutral, the mind and hand which has shaped the American policies have been those of President Wilson. How heavy the load has been, we cannot now estimate, but history will surely give an exalted place to the man who in his quiet but masterful statesmanship has done everything possible to safeguard American liberties and stand for American rights without plunging us into the hellish struggle of Europe—a struggle which is, beyond question, the most fearful blight that has afflicted the world since the dawn of creation.

Not long ago, our government declared after grave deliberation that it would demand a strict accounting of any government that might injure American persons or property in the progress of the war. The time for such an accounting has arrived, and without passion or intemperance of thought or action, our government must carry out its announced policy. In their righteous indignation, the American people must do nothing that would embarrass their chosen representative or his advisers, but they must be ready to support him in any action that he may take. This is a time when all partisanship must be sunk, and when all patriotic Americans must give their absolute support to those at Washington who are face to face with an almost unprecedented responsibility.

It would be very easy for the administration at this time to take extreme aggressive action against the German government, with the approval of the American people. Many notable persons and influential papers have openly declared in favor of such a policy, but it would be inconceivably rash and premature. It is a time for patience and caution, and all who have any influence in shaping public opinion should recognize their awful responsibility to refrain from embarrassing their government by ill-considered appeals to passion. We may and we must voice the feeling of indignation which has swelled from shore to shore; we must express the natural feelings of sympathy that well up in our hearts on the recital of the wrong, but above all we must keep our heads at this most trying time. The nation's chief executive will in due time speak officially for the American people, and we must stand ready to support him in the wise course which he will undoubtedly take.

It has been announced from Washington that there will be no special session of congress. This means that the deliberations of the president and his cabinet will not be disturbed by the violent views of agitators on both sides of the question. It is intimated, however, that the calling of a special session of congress will depend on the possible answer of Germany to the protest which will undoubtedly be sent from this country. The administration must receive messages on the loss of the Lusitania with its precious American lives from both Germany and England, before acting, and it must also weigh well the possibility that any rash or radical action would be playing into the hands of a hostile government. By refraining from violence and hasty decisions, we may be a far more potent influence for restoring the peace of the world than by taking any action that would endanger the peace of this nation. The right attitude for the American people to assume is one of unbounded confidence in our powerful and patriotic directors—being ready the while to stand as a unit behind President Wilson when he ultimately voices the government's decision.

HIGH SCHOOL SITES

It has been announced more than once recently that the city officials will soon select a site for a new or enlarged high school, and the fear has been expressed that publication of the plan would deluge our officials with offers from real estate dealers and private individuals with available land. While undoubtedly a call for possible sites would entail some work of selection and rejection on those who are to decide, undue privacy must have far greater dangers. It is for the best interests of Lowell that such an intention be given the widest publicity and that the high school problems be thoroughly and openly discussed before any official action be taken.

In the first place, the educational interests of our children and the convenience of the public must be taken into consideration. We now suffer from undesirable congestion and crowding, and any adopted scheme of improvement should remedy this. Our new high school should be near the transportation center of the city if possible, and should be accessible to the pupils without undue hardship. If a second building is contemplated, it might well be erected at some distance from the present high school. Indeed, it might be necessary to erect it in the Highlands or some other comparatively distant point. It is easy to sound public opinion on these questions and they are serious enough to warrant a publication of preliminary plans so that Lowell citizens and taxpayers may signify their approval or disapproval. If an unpopular site be selected, criticism will surely be general, and unless the public approve, it is useless to formulate elaborate plans.

Then again, in the selection of sites, it is necessary that we have full publicity so that all available sites may be considered with a view to getting the most suitable at a reasonable price. We must have a site within the financial resources of the city and secrecy in selection will not encourage competition. This is a matter which affects all of our people, and every site which is in any way suitable should be considered before a final selection is made. Publicity is imperative, both on the ground of economy and for the protection of the public from the machinations of a few dealers or the mistaken judgment of a few officials. In the interest of Lowell, its school boys and girls, its parents and taxpayers, it is desirable that all who have possible sites to offer should write to the municipal council, through the city clerk, describing the site and all relating thereto and mentioning the cost. With a number of such offers before the public, it will be easy to judge them by the requirements of the case and decide on a few for final selection. It is only by the fullest publicity and the readiness of our officials to consider every desirable site, which is offered at a reasonable price, that the best interests of the city can be served. Any attempt to make a private matter out of the selection of a high school site, or to restrict it to the judgment of a very few, without sounding public opinion and leaving it open to competition, is not in line with the spirit of the city charter or sound municipal government.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets as a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do no harm after effect. They do not injure the teeth like strong liquids or cathartics. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "biliousness" and that tired feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "bilious" and heavy. Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At the end of a week you will feel like a new man.

The Olive Tablet Company, Cambridge, O.

ARE THESE YOUR SYMPTOMS?

Do you find your breath bad in the morning, a bad taste in the mouth, a coated tongue, a mean feeling in the head?

Constipation, which these symptoms denote, is dangerous because it means that poisonous materials which should have been expelled from the body are being retained. It is a condition which, if not corrected, becomes chronic.

The remedy is to stimulate the liver by the use of Pinkets, the gentle laxative pills that do not gripe or purge, but simply assist nature. Taken regularly for a time, they really do correct constipation.

Write Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free sample or get a full-size, 25-cent bottle of Pinkets from your own druggist.

and the threats of Germany can no longer be taken lightly. The English government does not seem to have made adequate preparation to meet the menace, especially in the case of the Lusitania, which was permitted to go into hostile waters unaccompanied, though a few days before at least two vessels had been torpedoed in that very locality. The revelations of the present war surely justify President Wilson's views that we should not plunge into any feverish naval preparations until time has demonstrated what is the most effective type of modern battleship. At present, many will allow that the submarine is the most efficient invention of naval warfare and that nothing has as yet been done to limit its efficacy.

HONOR THE HEROES

If there is any ray of comfort in the sad tidings from Europe, relative to the loss of the Lusitania, it is afforded by stories to the heroism displayed during the last moments of the doomed vessel. One survivor declared that he saw Alfred G. Vanderbilt give his life, self to a woman and the incident does not stand alone. Every story told by those who escaped the tragedy reflects the spirit of lofty service that actuated many of the passengers and crew, and it is evident that everything possible was done to save those on board, especially the women and children. Unfortunately many passengers seemed to rely on the alleged safety of the vessel which had been declared unsinkable, but with the calm sea, the sight of the beautiful Irish coast and the sunshine that shone over all, it was easy to hope for final rescue. Once again it is shown to the world that the day of the unsinkable ship is not here, and it is also shown that even in the presence of death, man will rise superior to his surroundings. The names of many heroes of the massacre will never be known, but it will enable all men to reflect on such self-sacrifice at a time that tried the souls of the bravest. There is a tendency to criticize men of wealth as heartless, but young Vanderbilt, worth $70,000,000, was so considerate for his fellows in the face of threatened death that he handed over to a woman the life belt that would have placed him among the survivors. It was a brave, a noble, a heroic act.

LADY LOOKABOUT

I am forced to believe that the cause of much of the criticism aimed by men at our head-gear may be laid safely at the door of Luther Burbank. At the lecture on Mr. Burbank's methods, held at the Middlesex Women's club last week we were shown white black-berries, blue roses, and black grapes and many mysteries were cleared up. The products of his wizard-mind are a boon to the milliner. No longer need she confine herself to nature's paint-pot for new effects. Mr. Burbank produces, in the shortest time, things that Dame Nature never thought of, and apparently his products are immediately snapped up as models. For each reason brings us flowers and fruit wonderfully made and colored. Long life to him. He came in a good time, just when the ladies needed him most to think up new ideas for their bonnets. He is a valuable man.

Auto Hand Signals

It is surprising to see how many automobile operators are indifferent or ignorant of hand signals. Just about half of them extend the left hand when they are turning to the right, and vice versa. It seems a very simple thing to remember, that the right hand must be extended when the machine is turning to the right, and the left hand when it is turning to the left. A wrong signal is much worse than no signal. Very few can make anything out of these hand signals and for all practical purposes, they had better be dropped than maintained in such an illogical manner as at present.

that Japan has modified its demands on China and that China has consequently accepted them. If such be the case, it indicates that China acquiesced more or less unwillingly in a situation that she could not well oppose. At a time of normal world relations, Japan would scarcely dare to make such pressing claims, and China would not show such a spirit of helpless subservience, but all great powers have present problems on hand which keep them from interfering in Oriental matters. Still, this nation and all interested nations will insist that the open door be maintained in China, and in this policy of the open door rests the germ of Chinese liberty. We cannot act hastily or openly oppose any power at this time. But if grave injustice has been done it will have to be undone at the dictation of world opinion when more pressing problems are settled. It may be the consciousness of this that has kept China so calm at a time when her most sacred rights were menaced and all her aspirations threatened.

BUSINESS LOOKING UP

Says the Springfield Union, referring to the improvement of business in all parts of the country:

The increase of the volume of bank clearings shown by the reports for April will be accepted as a further indication of an improvement of business, taking the country as a whole. The figures make the best showing thus far exhibited in the present year, running slightly larger than a year ago and 5 per cent. in excess of the corresponding month of 1914. For this favorable comparison with the two previous years the credit must be given to New York City, where much of the business is done. The main factor involved, but for the Metropolitan total clearings would have been 2-1/2 per cent. less than last year, and slightly less than in April, 1913. On the other hand, a falling off from last year in Boston is more than offset by a gain in several other New England cities, so that New England as a whole shows an advance. The most striking increase is that of Fall River where the clearings for the month were 23 per cent. greater than in April of last year, while Hartford and New Haven, which have had large orders from abroad for their report increases of 27 per cent. and 16 per cent. respectively.

Coincident with this report comes the encouraging indication of an exceptionally large yield of wheat and excellent crops. When the stock market, bank clearings, farm reports and trade journals that deal with manufactured products reflect such prosperity, it is hard to deny that prosperity is upon us.

The Emergency Meal

You can have a light substantial meal ready in a few minutes without fuss or preparation—if the afternoon call, the matinee or the picture show brought you homelate.

Booth's Sardines—enough for four—are the first aid in just such a domestic dilemma.

Have a can or two of each variety on your pantry shelves ready for these unexpected times.

Ready to serve—no heating. And they're easy to six times larger than the ordinary sardine. They're called Sardines only because Uncle Sam says they belong to the Sardine family. They are big in size and appetizingly delicious.

They come packed in three sauces—tomato, mustard and soured, six to eight in a can, enough for four.

Be sure to ask your grocer for "BOOTH'S" Sardines. Accept no others. There's no substitute—in kind or quality.

Ask for the Recipe Book

You will be surprised and pleased with the many suggestions in this little book for daily meals which you can prepare in ten minutes. Your grocer will have a copy or you can get one from V. H. Dudley & Co., 7 India St., Boston.

was to listen to Gov. Walsh when he addressed the Lowell Teachers' organization at the Normal school Tuesday evening, the plan for the extension of education must have made its appeal, and I cannot help feeling that if the governor's plan were more widely known, it would receive the sanction it so well deserves. We, of Massachusetts, are prone to point with pride to our system of public schools, both elementary and secondary. We love to boast that we offer to all, not only free, but compulsory education, and furnish all text books and supplies without cost. But in all our pride and all our boasting, we forget that great army of boys and girls, who by force of circumstances, are compelled to leave school as soon as they are of working age. We overlook the fact that our so-called free public schools are free only to those who can afford to avail themselves of it.

These facts were brought forcibly to the attention of Governor Walsh when he visited the great correspondence school of Scotland, Pa. He found that from Massachusetts alone, there are enrolled 30,000 students—men and women who feel within their capabilities of greater and better work than they now are doing. They are paying this private concern from their wages, often meagre, for the education which they were obliged to forego in their own state by reason of circumstances which will readily suggest themselves.

It is this condition which Governor Walsh aims to correct in his bill soon to come before the legislature. It would seem that every member of the general court should have the proper regard for his neighbors and use the word in its broadest sense—will give the bill his support.

Vile Perfumery

If I were a man and patronized a barber shop for my shave, I would object strongly to the heavy perfumery most barbers use on their customers' faces. Sometimes in a closed car, the odor of this perfume has come to me so strongly from a freshly shaved man, that I have been made positively ill by its strong, heavy, cloying, suggestive of tobacco and formalin. I fall to see the necessity of it anyway. It certainly does not add to the effect of a good shave, as far as I can see. Some women of course use perfumery to a nauseating extent and thereby make themselves ridiculous. In some cases the good, strong, healthy smell of onions is less offensive.

Speaking of shaving, the next time you see a freshly shaved man with many tiny cuts adorning his countenance, just ask him the cause. Invariably he will answer without a suggestion of a smile, "I did it with my safety razor," and he is absolutely unconscious of the humor of the situation.

Worthy Xenia

There are the makings of some good citizens in the Boston Newsboys' club. These lads, many of whom have a first hand acquaintance with want and poverty, have unanimously voted to forego their annual banquet, and use the money to give the crippled poor children of Boston an outing on Memorial Day. True charity involves sacrifice on the part of the donor. Surely these boys are making a sacrifice to give this treat to the crippled poor children of their city, and they deserve all the compliments and commendations they are receiving from the community.

"Look at that centerpiece," almost sobbed Marjorie as Marie dropped in one morning. "It is ruined and I tried so hard to wash it carefully."

"Perhaps you didn't do it right," comforted Marie. "You should never put fine laces, dollies, centerpieces, etc., into the regular wash. Don't wash these fancy linens without removing stains first. Fruit and berry stains can be removed by pouring boiling hot water over the linen. Tea, coffee, and claret stains will also yield to the boiling water. Salt and lemon juice will take out peach and mildew stains."

"Do not iron embroidered articles without first making a heavy pad of Turkish toweling or old blankets to lay underneath them. Always use a piece of thin muslin between the iron and the dolly and iron the wrong side. Do not iron lace trimmed articles until you have ironed the lace first. Otherwise you will wrinkle the lace and find it hard to iron."

"Do not fold your napkins the same way every time or they will wear out on the fold. Change the manner of folding now and then. The sameholds true of tablecloths. Get a flat dolly holder for your fancy linens. This you can make by covering two rounds of cardboard with odd bits of cretonne, linen or silk which you have in the piece bag."

"Well, what about those curtains?" queried Marjorie. "They look all pulled out of shape and so terribly stiff."

"Try having your curtains and over-curtains laundered without starching. They will hang in straight, natural folds, without the rakish strut that starch gives them," advised Marie.

"If your windows are short, do not drape your curtains back, but let them fall straight over the windows to the lower sill. If windows are unusually high the awkward length of the curtains may be lessened by draping them back a little below half-way down."

"Curtains at French windows and doors should not be allowed to hang loose, but should be run on rods at top and bottom of the glass pane, just as glass door curtains are arranged. If curtains are taken down and thoroughly brushed occasionally they will not require laundering so often," Marie replied.

FIRST QUARTERLY CONFERENCE

There were seventeen members present at the first quarterly conference of the year held at St. Paul's E. church last evening. The business session was presided over by Rev. George B. Dean, district superintendent, and a former pastor of the church. The recently appointed pastor, Rev. A. C. Skinner, was in attendance and spoke of the favorable impression he had formed of his new field, expressing optimism in the work of the church and praising many years of successful service. There were reports by various committees and departments on the work of the last quarter.

WILLIAM E. LIVINGSTON CO.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Twenty-five years ago Thursday of this week, the late James W. Bennett, then a well known contractor, began the work of tearing down the old St. Peter's church at the corner of Gorham and Appleton streets to make room for the present post office, the site of which at that point had been decided upon after a long-drawn-out but interesting controversy, the late Rev. Fr. Roman, pastor of St. Peter's, having presented the location to the government, without cost.

When St. Peter's parish decided to part with the old structure, at Fr. Roman's suggestion, one member of the parish raised decided objections to leaving the old edifice, his motives being based on sentimental grounds. He had been married there, had been christened there every Sunday and Holy day; his children had been baptized there and had been instructed in the principles of the faith within its walls; and there, too, had been solemn services over the remains of some of his dearest friends and he did not want to give up the dear old church for a new edifice. He admitted, however, and more splendid church undoubtedly would be soon forthcoming to succeed the old place of worship, but to him it seemed almost sacrilegious to demolish the old brick structure, about to be demolished. There were others who had similar feelings but they had implicit confidence in their pastor and agreed to the demolition of the old structure.

McCulloch Wouldn't Give Up

But there was one other man named McCulloch who held up the proceedings by persistently refusing to give up his post. He held a lease of the new for a year and defied the church authorities to evict him by law. He refused to accept compensation for his claim. The newspapermen made several visits to his house in Williams street trying to get him to discuss the matter but he steadfastly refused until one evening one of the reporters "got his goat" to use a modern expression, and immediately broke his silence, and probably would have broken the reporter's neck, had the latter not been a hasty retreat.

There had been opposition to the tearing of the church property to the government by members of the parish who were interested in other sites, and when Mr. McCulloch persisted in his opposition, it occurred to one of the reporters that the old gentleman might be acting in the interest of the other site-owners, and he decided to put his suspicion before the man. Accordingly accompanied by a couple of other newspapermen he went to Mr. McCulloch's house one evening and after the old gentleman had repeated that he had nothing to say on the matter, the reporter finally burst forth with:

"Is it true Mr. McCulloch that you are being paid by certain persons to object to giving up your post?"

Rushing for a huge poker that reposed beside the kitchen range, the irate old gentleman cried out: "Get out of my house, ye blackguards, and he made a rush for the scullery that for a moment was blocked only by that of the latter in getting down a flight of stairs into the street.

The allegation probably had the desired effect on the old gentleman for a short time afterward when the late Fr. Roman went to see him again, he withdrew his opposition and the work of demolishing the old church proceeded. St. Peter's parish was organized in 1811 by Bishop Fenwick on the suggestion of Rev. Fr. McDermott, then pastor of St. Patrick's, at that time the only Catholic parish in the city. At a meeting those in favor of building a new church were asked to subscribe towards its cost, and $3000 was pledged at that meeting. In August, 1811, the land at the corner of Gorham and Appleton streets was secured from the Hamilton company and a building was erected thereon at a cost of $22,000. On Christmas day, 1811, the first services were held in the unfinished church but it was not dedicated until October 6, 1812, and Rev. Fr. Conway, curate at St. Patrick's, was appointed its first pastor.

By procuring the original subscribers to the building fund had the prior right to the auctioning of the seats. A deed for each pew was issued in Bishop Fenwick's name and was held as any piece of personal property. A collection was immediately taken up for an organ and one was specially built while an excellent choir was organized by John Quinn, and a Mrs. Smith, a non-Catholic was engaged as the soloist.

Painting of Crucifixion

Few of the present parishioners of St. Peter's, especially among the younger generation, appreciate the value as a work of art and a relic of the great painting of The Crucifixion which in the present edifice is located in the vestibule on the left side as you enter at the stairway leading to the basement. This picture dates back to the founding of the parish and has an interesting history. Through the assistance of Mr. Charles Gilliland, an Italian resident of this city, and his brother, who at the time resided in Italy, the picture was contracted for when the parish was started in the early '10s. It was not placed in position in the church for some time later. Money was collected for it but when it was found that the picture could not be delivered at once the money was placed in the building fund to be taken out when the arrival of the picture demanded it. This did not occur until after or just before Fr. Conway's successor, the late Fr. Cruden, was appointed.

It is not known who the artist was but when the painting was removed from the old edifice by Harry J. Rock, a well known local artist of quarter of a century ago, and the first artist to furnish pictures and cartoons for the old Sun, he found indications that the picture was much older than was generally supposed. He found upon the inscription: "Pavil. di Michele Jerome, Rue-Paris" and "Restored 1812." Mr. Rock said the painting had every appearance of being a work of one of the old masters. Its size is 9x12 and it represents the Savior's death on the cross. At the foot of the cross are three women, Mary, the mother of Jesus, Mary Magdalene and another. The ravages of time had destroyed the flesh tints leaving a dull white body color, but there remained much in the drawing and general coloring to show that the work was one of more than ordinary merit. Michele Jerome is supposed to have been the artist of the name who died near the close of the 18th century. The painting according to Mr. Rock, at that time, was over a century old, although he expressed the opinion that it might have been only restored 100 years before. It was restored for St. Peter's church in 1812.

Another quarter of a century has elapsed since the above description of the painting was published yet it stands today in St. Peter's in comparatively good condition, apparently impervious to the effacing influence of time.

The Doves of St. Peter's

Surrounding the old St. Peter's church was a tower that was the favorite rendezvous of a large number of doves, and throughout the process of demolition the frightened birds hovered about the ruins and when all was gone but a few spars of the framework they perched on these as if to deplore the loss of their home. The pitiful sight of the doves suggested the following lines written in The Sun quarter of a century ago by Edward J. Gallagher, the present editor of The Sun:

LAMENT OF THE HOMELESS DOVES
Alas! for our home
In St. Peter's church dome,
For our beautiful home 'neath the cross;
Yet the spoiler works on.
Disregarding our terrible loss.
From the earth to the sky
In our sorrow we cry:
All around and around it we see,
As we see our loved tower,
Growing less every hour,
And the roof-tree appearing below.

There we lived many years
Free from danger and fears,
Just above the St. Peter's church
And we forth flew at will
Over valley and hill—
Far away on the wings of desire.

And wherever we'd roam
The gold cross on our home
Always beckoned us back by its shoe:
But alas! it is gone
And the spoiler works on,
Neither tower nor cross now are seen.

Ah! how oft the sweet strain
Of the organ's refrain,
Brought us joy at the close of the day,
On the Sabbath all bright,
What a source of delight
Was the melody floating away.

Nevermore can we rest
In our heavenly nest,
Near the altar with incense perfumed;
Nor shooed forward with prayer
The realms of air.
By the sunlight of heaven illumined.

Dear loved tower farewell,
When Peter's church bell
Calls the faithful to worship elsewhere.

In a church vastly higher
With an elegant spire,
We'll be there, if alive, we'll be there.

Homeless now is each dove
From the haunts of its love,
On a treacherous world outcast;
Whether now shall we fly,
Must we perish or die?
Not a shelter from storm or blast.

Then alas for our home
In St. Peter's church dome,
For our beautiful home 'neath the cross;
Yet the spoiler works on,

Anniversary of C. M. A. C.

The C. M. A. C. which in its younger days was known as L'Association Catholique, is 26 years old, a flourishing and influential organization with Capt. Arthur St. Hilaire, of The Sun pressroom at its head. It observed its first anniversary on May 12, 1889, in modest manner with a May festival, which was reported by the old Sun as follows:

"The grand Fete de Mat festival of L'Association Catholique to celebrate the first anniversary of the formation of the society was held Tuesday evening and was a grand success. The attendance was so large that the hall at times was uncomfortably crowded, and the entertainment was of a very pleasing character. The association band was in attendance and played several selections during the evening. There was a chorus from the association choir; a recitation by Miss Lizzie Skiffington; a song by Cyrille Constantineau; a performance on musical glasses by J. Langasse, wire-walking by Arthur Vivien; club swinging by Mr. Carpenter and several tableaux. A medal that was sent from Rome was presented to Wilfred Barrette for the best work done for the society. The following are the tables with the names of the ladies in charge: Flower table: Mrs. Mongeau, Mrs. Jacques and Miss Joliffe; Japan and fancy work table: Mrs. Le Claire, assisted by Misses McClelland, Misses Cossette and Guimond; fruit table: Misses Raymond, Gill, Vigeant, Duplessis and Gosselin; candy table: Miss Landry, Lanthier, Lamoureux, Lanthier and Moge. The refreshment table was in charge of Miss Lucier."

Mr. Harris Ranked Highest

Says the old Sun:
"Six applicants appeared before the civil service examiners Tuesday, four being for the higher and two for the lower clerical service. The ranks obtained ranged from 65.3 to 85.5. The highest rank was obtained by Henry H. Harris. Those examined were Henry H. Harris, Fred A. Wright, Fred W. Coburn, Guy Morey, Carrie E. Hadley and John G. Noble." Mr. Harris evidently didn't need recourse to the civil service for a position for subaltern, he became a school teacher and is present in principal of one of Lowell's leading grammar schools, the Varum. Fred Coburn and Guy Morey are associated at the C. B. Coburn company in Market street.

Reception to Departing Travelers

European travel was much safer quarter of a century ago than it is under existing conditions and a very considerable number of it enjoyed by Lowell people in those days. The old Sun had the following item:
"A reception was tendered Monday evening to the members of the Kirk Street church, who are going abroad for the summer. Their names are: Mrs. Jacob Rogers and the Misses Rogers, Miss Melvin and party consisting of Mrs. and Miss Elison, Miss Minnie Cummock, Mrs. A. S. Lyon and son, Dr. and Mrs. Dana and their daughter, Miss Jennie Rose, Mrs. Frank Battles, Mrs. D. W. C. Farrington, and Mr. and Mrs. Stratton."

Capt. Worthen Met Old Comrade

Says the Sun of quarter of a century ago:
"The annual competitive drill of the Mass. high school regiment took place at Wakefield on Saturday and was quite an important event for the young people. The Lowell battalion turned out in full numbers and was accompanied by Mayor Palmer, Principal Coburn, Assistant Sherburne and Irish School-

Committeemen Rev. R. A. Greene, A. G. Swapp, G. C. Brock, Walter Coburn, P. Keyes and George M. Harrigan. The competing companies were from Lynn, Woburn, Wakefield, Reading, Brookline, Malden, Gloucester and Medford. The exercises consisted of drilling in the manual of arms and company movements and after all was over the judges gave the following ranks: Gloucester, 153; Wakefield, 154; Malden, 159; Brookline, 139; Medford, 136; Lowell, 125; Lynn, 116; Reading, 105; Woburn, 97. The winning company will have the colonelcy of the regiment for the coming year. There were notified in the reviewing stand, the following well known Lowell people: Misses Webster, Watson, Baker, Allen, Melvin and Hadley of the high school; State Treasurer Marden, Capt. J. G. Hill, James Buttrick, Hamilton Burrage, E. J. Medina, J. W. B. Shaw, Com. Frank Pevey, Post 155. Among the military men present were Major J. P. Frost, 1st R. P. 2nd brigade; Major Ward, 5th Infantry, Capt. Taylor, 5th Infantry, Capt. Littlefield of the old 5th and 30th.

A pleasing incident in connection with the drill was that Lieut. George F. Worthen should meet for the second time since the close of the war, a gentleman who was his tent-mate during the war and who now is military instructor of the Gloucester battalion as Lieut. Worthen is of the Lowell battalion.

The gentleman referred to by the old Sun is Lieut. Albert W. Bacheller, retired, now residing at New Hampton, New Hampshire, but then a resident of Gloucester. He was a member of the same company with Capt. Worthen, sharing his tent with him and the captain says he was a fine young fellow and a brave soldier.

Difference in Labor Conditions

Approes of the labor forward movement in this city, in the interest of organization among the different crafts at which no less a light than Samuel Gompers has spoken, is a comparison with conditions existing quarter of a century ago as noted by different items in the old Sun. At that time the Sun contained several references to a general movement throughout the country for the eight-hour day which was then just coming into vogue. Now it is everywhere though of course there are many who still work a longer day. The old Sun had the following:
"At the convention of Mule Spinners in Fall River, Tuesday, it was stated that the members of that craft in Lowell were paid the lowest wages of any in the United States. Resolutions were passed promising them aid as soon as they are thoroughly organized."

In those days unions were few and insignificant among the local textile crafts but they grew in numbers and influence with the years and as they grew the conditions under which they members labored became improved. Today the Lowell mule spinners cannot be called the poorest paid in the United States.

Here's another interesting item from the old Sun:
"On Wednesday John F. Lynch, a letter-carrier on the Belvidere route delivered 2326 pieces of mail, which it is believed goes far above the average record."

On first thought it would seem impossible for one carrier to deliver that amount of mail in one day even quarter of a century ago when the letter carriers were fewer in number and did more work, going from early morning until late in the evening. Yet that record of quarter of a century ago doesn't compare with the records of today for it is a fact that nowadays one carrier has delivered about 4000 pieces of mail in one day. The carriers in the down town district have much more mail to carry than those on the outskirts but the latter have much more walking to do than the other fellows and hence the work even itself up.

Speaking of labor matters, quarter of a century ago according to the old Sun, Cardinal Gibbons speaking on the question said he thought that the labor problem will be solved first in this country. "For here we submit everything of that nature to the test of reason, common sense and thorough criticism and truth is evolved from this full and free discussion of the social question."

KLAXON MAN COMING

EXPERT TO VISIT LOWELL—AUTO DIFFICULTIES EXPLAINED—OTHER AUTO NEWS

Thursday, Friday and Saturday there will be an expert from the Klaxon factory at Pitts, Hurd street, who will attend to the wants of all owners of Klaxon horns whether they were purchased at this popular shop or elsewhere. Mr. Pitts was fortunate indeed when he secured Mr. Peter Peiffer, Jr. of the Klaxon to come to Lowell. Mr. Peiffer, it will be remembered, was at Pitts last year and remained here for two days repairing and explaining in a very satisfactory way the Klaxon horns to owners. During his stay here on that occasion he made many friends by his willingness to please. No doubt many who met him last year will drop in this time to have a little chat and renew old acquaintances. Mr. Peiffer is one of the three men sent out by the service department of the Klaxon people. The Klaxon horn has the broadest kind of a guarantee that possibly could be with any product. It is guaranteed for life and is insured against everything. There is no charge, no obligation for this service.

Hubert Girard, proprietor of the Howard street garage who has just had recently his rapidly receding hair and it is but a matter of a few days before he will be in trim once again.

Anderson Tire shop, Paige street is making record sales of auto tires. These phenomenal sales are not confined to one make alone but all the different makes which are carried there are proving popular.

The automobile trunk of Huse 4 is now at the Sawyer Carriage shop, Warren street where it is being put into first class condition. At this same shop a large number of machines are in the paint department and are receiving new coats of paint. Every year this department turns out a surprisingly large number of painting jobs.

Valuable Knowledge

If there is anything that you would like to know about your car you have but to send your query to the automobile editor of The Sun and the answer to your difficulty will be published on the automobile page on the following Tuesday. Your questions will be answered by George H. Robertson the famous racing driver who has won fame all over the country. In 1909, he was the winner of the race here in this city. A more complete knowledge of the care and operation of your car or motorcycle means a great saving and much auto trouble is done away with. Send in your questions as early in the week as possible and thus cooperate with the automobile editor in this matter.

MOTODROME FOR NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 11.—New York is at last to have a motodrome. The Sheepshead Bay Speedway corporation was incorporated recently with $2,500,000 capital. The famous Sheepshead Bay race track, formerly owned by the Coney Island Jockey club, has been purchased. Here will be built a two-mile motodrome, which it is proposed shall meet high speed requirements up to 140 miles an hour. Accommodations for 200,000 spectators will be provided.

On this course beginning next autumn it is proposed to hold annually at least two great international races for a $50,000 purse in each, a 24-hour mid-summer contest and a series of matinee events for stock cars. Carl G. Fisher, the founder of the Indianapolis Speedway, has consented to accept the presidency of the new company. Edward Thompson, director of the Yale Bowl, will be general manager.

The project soon after its conception began to take on larger and more comprehensive proportions. It quickly broadened into a scheme not only for a motodrome, but for a great arena for the promotion of outdoor sports on a gigantic scale, including polo, aviation, football, military tournaments, baseball and athletic games.

LUBRICATING CYLINDERS

In any car that has not been used for a number of weeks the lubricant in the engine gradually drains down to the bottom, so that the pistons, and piston rings especially, are practically not in contact with the cylinder walls, that is, they are entirely unlubricated.

It is obvious under these conditions that if the engine is started up, the moving parts are likely to run hot and seize before the oil has a chance to run through the engine.

Therefore, in starting up your car after it has been laid up for several weeks, put a big tablespoonful of lubricating oil in the cylinder before starting the engine. This, of course, should be added through the carburetor, and almost any grade of oil will answer this purpose, if a superior grade of lubricating oil is not available. That is, you can use a light or medium weight gas engine cylinder oil, or machine oil, or even castor or olive oil, as the only object of this lubrication is to interpose an oil film in the cylinders, breaking the metal-to-metal contact of pistons and cylinder walls for a few moments, until the regular lubricant has a chance to run down through the engine and work from its function.

AUTO AND INCOME TAX

The national income tax returns furnish a lot of food for thought, especially to those of modest resources who have hesitated about buying an automobile.

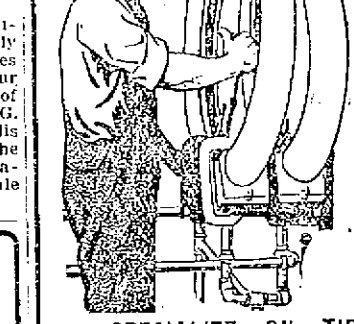

It appears that of the cars registered in the United States only about 400,000 are owned by persons having an income of $3000 a year or more, while about $57,000 are owned by those who receive less.

This does not mean that vast thousands of people owning automobiles cannot afford it—not at all. It means rather, that a great percentage of the American public has come to look upon motoring as a comfort and a convenience that pays dividends in health and efficiency. Most owners find that the expense of maintaining an automobile is easily met by pruning

NOTE—In these columns every Tuesday Mr. George H. Robertson, America's foremost automobile authority, will give expert advice to motorists on how to repair and operate their machines. Automobile readers of THE SUN are invited to send in questions or problems they may wish to have answered. Such questions will receive attention in due time. Address all communications: Automobile Editor, Sun, Lowell, Mass. Communications must bear the signature and address of the sender, though not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Is the knuckle meant to drive the front wheels or is the axle meant to drive the same? What do the front wheels ride on? If there is an axle that goes through the front wheels, in what position does it lay?

The steering knuckle is composed of the front axle yoke, the large vertical pin and the small axle arm, as it is called, upon which the front wheels ride. The axle arm carries through the bearings of the front wheel in a horizontal position.

I have an auto and do not know whether it has a carburetor or vaporizer. How can I tell?

A carburetor has a float chamber, the float keeping the gasoline supply constant with the needs of the motor. A vaporizer is a mixing valve which has no float.

Will you kindly answer the following questions:

1. How can you tell when a valve needs grinding and how would you grind and test the valve?
2. How would you time the valve of an engine as to opening and closing relative to the position of the piston or crank pin?
3. How would you scrape in bearings of the crank shaft and how would you determine when they are properly set up?
4. Explain the procedure in fitting new connecting rod bearings to the crank pins.
5. If you put new gears in the transmission and they were noisy, what do you think is the trouble and how would you remedy it?

1. The loss of compression generally denotes a leaky valve. Use a heavy grinding compound for the first cut and a fine compound for finishing. The valve, in order to be right, must be without "pit" marks.

2. It is good practice ordinarily to start to open the inlet valve when the piston is on its way up on the exhaust stroke about one-eighth of an inch before it reaches the top. The other openings and closings take care of themselves.

3. Crank shaft bearings should be hand scraped and fitted without sands of people owning automobiles cannot afford it—not at all. It means rather, that a great percentage of the American public has come to look upon motoring as a comfort and a convenience that pays dividends in health and efficiency. Most owners find that the expense of maintaining an automobile is easily met by pruning other indulgences, less attractive and beneficial.

A great majority of those of limited means who buy cars are thrifty folk, primarily moved by the fact that they have the money to buy a car in the first place. You will find most of them improving their condition during their ownership of the car, the next best possible proof.

Moulders' Conference Charles E. Anderson has returned to Lowell from the business session of the Eastern New England conference board of moulders held during the week end in Providence, R. I. For the fifth year, Mr. Anderson was chosen secretary of the board. He has served longer in the present position than any other connected with the conference. The following officers were elected:

H. E. Bryant, Kingston, president; William J. Thornton, Worcester, first vice president; Henry J. Moller, Providence, R. I., second vice president; J. Sullivan, Nashua, N. H., third vice president; E. C. Appleby, Portland, Me., fourth vice president; Chas. E. Anderson, Lowell, secretary-treasurer; Eugene L. Murphy, Norwood, business agent.

Practically all the locals of the moulders in the Eastern New England district were represented in the conference. Among those present were International President Joseph F. Valentine of Cincinnati, O.; Second Vice President John R. O'Leary of Worcester; Business Agent J. A. Lovejoy of the Connecticut valley conference board; Business Agent William J. John of Boston; John Bradley of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; and James H. O'Neil of Providence, the two latter being both former members of the International executive board. One of the most encouraging things about the convention was the fact that reports received from all parts of the country seemed to indicate a speedy return of prosperity. As a barometer, the Iron Industry is the first to feel the trend of trade and indications from this source are therefore very trustworthy.

LOWELL HAS GOOD CLUB

Pitching Staff to Blame for Early Reverses—Locals Should be in Pennant Fight

With more than a week of the New England league playing season passed into history, Lowell, on her showing thus far, looks to have a chance at the pennant. The team, as a whole, appears to have possibilities although it is very raw at present.

Consistent team work has not been apparent in the games played this season which is explained by the fact that both infield and outfield are unaccustomed to playing with each other. Deane and McCleskey worked together last season in the last few games but Myers and McMahon are both new men in the infield combination, and it takes time for an infield to accustom themselves to each other's style.

It is nearly time now, however, for Lowell to strike its most effective pit. In the outfield Harryway is becoming better acquainted with Swayne and Stimpson, his two playmates in the outer gardens, and the infielders are also rubbing off the rough edges. So that the team can expect a better appearing squad of ball tossers at Spaulding Park before long.

Lowell Team Strong

The Lowell team is a strong aggregation this season aside from its battery department. The pitchers, aside from Ziesen, have not shown better than fair caliber up to date. Lohman hasn't demonstrated himself to be any better than last season. In the game he worked against Worcester Friday night he did not look particularly good and was taken out of Saturday's game on account of poor control. Green complains of a sore arm. Houser made a fairly good Saturday's game, against Manchester by pitching a dock of ballers in a row. Mayhew was bumped severely by Manchester the day before. And there are our pitchers.

There is got to be something done with our pitching staff and done shortly if the local club expects to bring home the long end of the score. Of course, few pitchers are in shape now for their best work but they should be down fine enough to at least win a ball game when their estimates pile a dozen or more hits behind them.

Greenhalge is the only experienced catcher on the team. Miller, a recruit, goes ad right in Swayne's shoes—but he hasn't the experience or at least doesn't appear to have it. A catcher must have that faculty of keeping a ball club on its toes every minute and a backstop who can't do this is not a real backstop. Greenhalge will do very well but he isn't able to catch every game of the season. Perhaps Miller will prove to be the necessary second catcher but if he does not the local team will be obliged to get hold of a first class mitt and muck artist.

Myers looks O. K. at first base. He handles himself well around the bat, takes his throws in good style and shines up like a heavy stickler. He looks them over well at the plate and when he takes a swing he sure leans on that timber.

McCleskey hasn't come in to his own as yet. May showed that he was good infielder last season in the games he played. He hasn't played up to last year's form as yet. McCleskey comes from Georgia, however, and the fact may account for his slow development.

Dee at shortstop is going along in grand style. His figure in last week's batting last year '52. He has made two rather costly errors this season but they all do that. Dee, if he gets a good start, is liable to have the best season of his career.

McMahon at third has proved the fielding sensation of the league. Billy hasn't performed with the stick to any great extent but his happy work on fast grounders and difficult drives has cut off many runs.

In the outfield Swayne and Stimpson are showing the same speed of last season, chasing fly balls, however, and Swayne isn't as fast as either Stimpson or Swayne but his war club makes up for this. Stimpson and Swayne are also used from regularly in the hit column.

With more effective pitching and a little more co-operation among the infielders, there isn't any reason why Lowell should not win the large majority of her games. The local club looks much better than either Fitchburg or Manchester and at least as fast as an aggregation gathered by Jesse Burkett this season.

BROOKS WINS ANOTHER BOUT

Lowell Boxer Knocks Out Johnny Keely in Three Rounds

May Meet Frankie Burns in Near Future at New York Club

Gardner Brooks, the brilliant bantamweight boxer of this city, knocked out Johnny Keely of Allentown, Pa., last night in the third round of a scheduled ten round bout before the members of the Olympic A. C. of New York.

The Lowell boy entered the ring a favorite over Keely, but few thought that the bout would terminate so quickly. In fact, done but his manager, Jerry Pelton, and a few close advisors thought that Brooks could put his lanky opponent away.

Keely is a rugged, aggressive fighter and bared in from the top of the game. He bored in once too often last night, however.

Brooks boxed him at long range and jabbed him with his wonderful left hand until the Peasny lad did not know just where he was. In the second round he was nearly done for the pace proved too fast for him.

With the opening of the third session the local boxer began to use his right hand. Two right hand smashes coupled with one or two from the port side laid Keely on the canvas. He arose at the count of nine and gave a game exhibition, but the odds against him were too great. Brooks was (in the opinion of the spectators) too clever and proved that he could box as fully as hard if not harder. It was only a few moments before Keely once more struck the canvas and this time he was counted out.

Gardner Brooks has made a great name for himself since entering the pugilistic arena and is very popular today with the boxing public of the Metropolis. An attempt is now being made to match Brooks with Frankie Burns, the boy whom Kid Williams asked $5000 to meet.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

LYNN TRIMS LOWELL

LOU PIERP'S HAND CAPTURED ITS THIRD STRAIGHT VICTORY YESTERDAY

LYNN, May 11.—Lou Pierp's pet won their third straight victory in as many days yesterday afternoon at Deane park and incidentally moved a couple of notches higher in the league standing by overwhelming "Coke" Hargrave's henchmen in a nine inning struggle by the score of 8-2. The Lynn club showed great superiority over Lowell in all departments of the game and the outcome of the battle was never in doubt after the first two innings when Lynn scored enough runs to pack the game in the leg bag. By the victory Lynn is now tied with the Portland team for the fourth rung of the league ladder.

ATHLETES AND ATHLETICS

Lowell plays at home for the remainder of the week. Lewiston will be our guest here tomorrow and Thursday while Huxley Duffy and his Portland crew will be seen at Spaulding Park on Friday and Saturday. We can least get a line on the Maine clubs this week.

Chester Mariel, the local ally expert, stands high in the duck pin individual roll at the National Bowling Championships being held in Boston. Mariel has won a three string total of 352 which has as yet been unchallenged. Mariel and Poehler are also high in the two-man team competition on candlepins with 659.

Benny Kauff, the Fed who, aided and abetted by one Johnny McGraw, tried to be a Fed, lost the game for the Brooklyn-Feds yesterday. Kauff threw wildly from the outfield with two men on bases and the result was three runs for Kansas City and the game.

The signing of Jack Egan, the former New London catcher, for local backstop duty is music to our ears. We need a catcher and we will need a pitcher or two by the way things look. Lohman gave nine hits yesterday, passed three men and made a wild throw. Not a very good record for the Texan.

Weaver worked in fine style for Worcester yesterday until the ninth inning. Up to this session Weaver had allowed Manchester but two hits and a slunk run while Worcester collected 3 batters in the last inning the former Lowell twirler went to pieces and four runs were scored off his delivery before he was taken out. Worcester won, however, 5-3.

George Tyler had a pretty soft time of it yesterday. In the first inning his teammates went in and pounded two runs in. In the last inning he had to add scores every once in awhile thereafter. All Tyler was obliged to do was throw the ball through the groove. A hit or two didn't make any difference in that 1-9 game.

The Red Sox also won a game. Foster was stingy when generosity meant runs and the Yanks were forced to take 3 off Lohman 2. First base on errors: Lynn 2, Lowell 2. Struck out: By Durning 4, by Lohman 1. Wild pitches: Lohman, Durning, Time, 1:26. Umpire: McGauley. Attendance: 890.

Larry Burns of Lawrence knocked out Harry Dillon of Philadelphia last night without much difficulty. In the eighth session of what was supposed to be a twelve round match Burns sent a broadside of two-handed torpedoes most of which struck Dillon amidships. His seconds then lowered the small white flag and the fight was over. Burns had a course for Lawrence with another price in tow.

Here's one Englishman who is a real joker. Freddie Welsh was scheduled to fight a seven round bout before a throng in the New York federal district court in order to explain to his honor why his battle with Willie Ritchie in London on a pay day was not a prize fight but a pugilistic encounter. Welsh never lost his smile, though. The New York Americans will bear watching this season with "Wild" Bill at the helm.

neither he nor his lawyer put in an appearance. The hearing was part of an effort to gain an entrance into this country of the fight pictures.

The probable loss of Roos, the big weight man of the Yale track team, will hurt the Elis' chances against Harvard in the dual met of June 1. Roos was practically certain of placing in all the weight events and Yale will feel his loss if he cannot compete. Roos is said to be ineligible as he spent a year at Columbia before going to the New Haven university.

FARM INVESTIGATION

SHARON, May 11.—Thomas H. O'Neil, for the commission on economy and efficiency, spent yesterday here investigating the state farm of the Massachusetts Fish and game commission. At the assessors' office he saw the books which show that the property is assessed as belonging to Mary Bell, wife of Dr. George W. Field, chairman of the fish and game commission. This property has stood in her name since 1909, when it was transferred to her from Miss Ada Field, a sister of Chairman Field.

The investigation is being conducted preliminary to the hearing to be given Chairman Field today at the state house. He is charged with inefficiency in conducting the farm and with misappropriating the farm and property assessed for $10,000, comprising the house, barn and 200 acres of land, almost entirely covered with mortgages. At a local grocery store Mr. O'Neil investigated the charge accounts from the farm. He then interviewed H. Howard Treck, former superintendent of the farm for nearly six years, and Supt. Frederick Cushing. Then he made a tour of the farm.

Several owners of property on the west side of the railroad which separates their land from the state farm, complained to Mr. O'Neil of the state's setting aside their property and placing restrictions on it so they can neither hunt nor fish.

TWO BLIND ARTISTS

JOHN AND MARY McCAY, BROTHER AND SISTER, AT COLONIAL HALL NEXT FRIDAY

The blind musicians, artists and entertainers, John and Mary McCay of New York, brother and sister, who have been deprived of sight since early childhood, will appear at Colonial Hall Friday evening of this week in a delightfully interesting and varied program. It will consist in part of selections from favorite operas, Irish melodies, impersonations, humorous songs, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. McCay are highly spoken of by the press of New York and London. They both play the piano with skill and fine effect. Miss McCay possesses a pure, sweet and sympathetic soprano voice and her brother a rich baritone. He excites much laughter by his drollery and Irish wit, also by his ability as a story teller and his clever impersonations. His skill as an impersonator is all the more remarkable as he has never had the opportunity to gaze upon the facial expressions or actions of others.

The program includes several piano duets, including "Norma" by Bellini and "Il Trovatore" by Verdi, and "The Killarney" and "The Harp that Once Told Tara's Halls", several vocal duets, including "How Beautiful is Night" by Richards, "Sing, Sweet Bird," by Ganz, songs by Miss McCay, and many baritone songs by Mr. McCay, such as "The Old Rillaker" and "Off to Philadelphia," and many impersonations and character sketches.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Thursday, May 13, the Merrimack Square theatre will reopen under a new management. At this popular playhouse will be shown exclusively first-class Paramount pictures. During the period while the theatre was closed many important changes and improvements have been made. Everything has been done to add to the comfort of its patrons so that now the Merrimack Square theatre is today one of the most attractive and comfortable theatres in this section of the country. Two A. point projection machines have been installed. This type of projection machines has been pronounced to be the very best, giving a steady picture. Another notable addition is the gold fibre screen which is to be used in this theatre. The gold fibre screen has many qualities which make it superior to various other kinds of screens. It has the reflection qualities which bring out strongly the smallest details in any scene depicted upon it and does away with the necessity of having a supplementary screen behind as is the case when screens of less merit are used. The gold fibre screen also beautifies the picture as it lends to the garments of the actresses shown upon it a silken sheen and gloss and thus produces a very delightful effect. In a word nothing has been left untried by the new management that will increase the pleasure of those who patronize this theatre. The Merrimack Square has always been known to be a remarkable cool even on the hottest days of summer. This is due to the excellent ventilation system with which this theatre is equipped. In addition to this it has been noted for its clean condition and for its promptness in changing pictures. One can go to this theatre and enjoy a hours the unsurpassed pictures to be shown by this new management and upon leaving the theatre find that that stiff tired feeling is entirely lacking and on the other hand, one has a feeling of having rested.

The Lowell Theatre Co., which will manage the Merrimack Square is in debt to the public for the success of the picture business, having for the past twenty years managed some of the best theatres in this country. Mr. White has already shown his efficiency when he has brought to Lowell first release Paramount pictures and has sold all four hundred and fifty seats when he can offer them to the Lowell picture-loving public at 5 and 10-cent prices. The Paramount pictures are famous the world over as being the best word in picture perfection and here in Lowell they have won a host of supporters.

Each performance which will consist of one or other of the class pictures besides the feature, will show the new management will offer the people of Lowell at 5 and 10-cent prices with a few tickets at 15 cents. The initial feature attraction will be Mary Pickford, the inimitable

BOSTON, May 11.—During the temporary absence of the Hon. Channing H. Cox of Boston, speaker of the house of representatives, Mr. Victor F. Jewett, of Lowell, was called to the chair yesterday, to preside over the deliberations of the assembly. Representative Jewett, who was elected to the same dignity and regard for strict parliamentary procedure that marked his tenure as president of the common council in 1910 and received the congratulations of his colleagues at the end of the debate.

The sinking of the Lusitania and the situation which President Wilson faces as a result, was the subject of a formal speech by Speaker Cox.

"Not since Fort Sumter was fired upon has public sentiment in this country been so inflamed as it is today," he said.

"The United States stands face to face with a grave situation, more grave perhaps than we realize. It is the hour when men of all faiths and beliefs should stand as one man behind President Wilson and testify to our confidence in him, and to our belief that he will cause an official inquiry to be made as to the responsibility for the slaughter of innocent Americans on the high seas and that then he will perform his full duty."

"But as men having influence in this old commonwealth, may I urge you to impress upon all your fellow men the danger that may arise from unbridled speech, and for the substitution of passion for reason. It is the hour when each of us should show by speech and by action that our first duty lies in

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may have the most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken at a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity, in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisulphate of magnesia, which can be obtained at Liggett's pharmacy or from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. BIG SEA FIGHTERS ON REVIEW IN NEW YORK HARBOR AS NATION FACES CRISIS

1. FLEET GOING UP NORTH RIVER—2. SAILOR SIGNALING ON WYOMING—3. ADMIRAL FLETCHER—4. BIG GUNS ON WYOMING

NEW YORK, May 11.—When the armada assembled in New York harbor for review everybody seemed to realize that in case the United States was called upon to assert its rights the Atlantic fleet would be the right arm of the government, and there was much speculation as to how Uncle Sam's warships would acquit themselves in time of need. Needless to say, the consensus was that the big fighters and their men would show themselves worthy of the glorious traditions of the American navy. This occasion is quite different from that of three years ago when the fleet was reviewed by President Taft. Then the mobilization was just a great, big, wonderful show, but this time it comes when half of the world is at war and at a moment when the country is horror stricken as a result of the frightful marine disaster, a disaster due to war and not to an accident, as was the case of the Titanic.

of the Massachusetts senate gave a hearing yesterday on a resolve providing $15,000 for an investigation of telephone rates and service by the public service commission. Chairman Macleod of the public service commission said that although the commission did not appear as advocate of such an investigation, it believed $15,000 was necessary to pay for conducting one. William H. O'Brien, the commission's rate expert, said an investigation might clear the doubt over the basis for the rate schedule adopted in 1910.

Hub Police Think Man Caught at Hartford is Famous Lone Bandit

HARTFORD, May 11.—As the climax to a spectacular street chase through the busiest section of the city last evening, John R. Meakin, aged 38, of this city, believed to be the much-wanted Boston lone bandit, was shot in the back by Detective Lewis Melberger just as he was about to plunge into the Park river to seek freedom on the other side.

At the Hartford hospital last night it was said Meakin's wound, while serious, was not necessarily fatal. The 32-caliber bullet entered the back, passed above one kidney and nearly through the body. It was easily removed.

Meakin is alleged by the Hartford police to have been one of the old "Sheldon street gang," now disrupted. He has been convicted of theft in this city.

Inspector Lynch of Boston was seated in Hartford police headquarters at the moment that Melberger, a crack shot, was chasing Meakin. He was mightily pleased last night, especially when a search of Meakin's room is alleged to have proved his identity and connection with Boston holdups.

When the Boston police after considerable work heard that the man wanted might have come from Hartford, several names by which the man was known in Boston were submitted to the Hartford detective bureau. Looking over the list of eligibles, the local police selected Meakin's picture and sent it to Boston.

When it was shown to the lone bandit's victims it is alleged they readily identified Meakin.

"Duffy's a Lasting Benefit"

MR. FRED F. ZINK

Her husband relieved of stomach trouble of 12 years standing, Mrs. Zink wrote us over two years ago as follows:

"My husband suffered with stomach trouble for over 12 years, during which time he doctored with three doctors who gave him no relief. He kept growing worse, had to be very careful as to what he ate, as things always soured on his stomach, but thank God, after taking three bottles of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey he was entirely cured. He still takes it as a tonic and we would never be without it. He now looks fine and weighs 150 pounds. I can highly recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach trouble."—Mrs. Fred F. Zink.

She now writes that Duffy's is keeping them both in health:

"I am glad to say that my husband and I are still using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. He is as healthy as can be, and says that Duffy's is a flesh builder remedy that can be guaranteed to make any thin person stout. It is certainly increasing my weight fine."—(Signed Mrs. Fred F. FLIES DANGEROUS FOES

LONDON, May 1.—Flies are considered so dangerous a foe that a staff of entomologists have been engaged to inaugurate an anti-fly campaign at the British front. It is feared that the insects will carry the germs of epidemics from the eastern theatre of war to the western unless prompt measures are taken to exterminate the larvae. The army will be ordered to clear up and burn or destroy all rubbish near the camps, which might serve as fly breeders.

ALLIES GAIN GROUND AIR RAID NEAR PARIS

Berlin Admits Reverse

The newly inaugurated offensive movement of the allies over a long section of the front in Belgium and northwestern France has developed a general engagement of considerable intensity. The official statement from Berlin today concedes that the allies have won ground between Carancy and Neuville but attacks elsewhere are said to have been repelled. The Germans announce the capture of French trenches over a width of nearly one-fourth of a mile in the vicinity of Berry Au-Bac.

Allies Make Gains

The Paris war office states that the allies made gains yesterday in Belgium, near Arras, France, and at several other points and that German attacks were beaten back.

Germans Report Advance

Russian claims to victories in the Carpathians are offset by the German war office report that further striking gains have been made. It is said that attempts of the Russians to halt the pursuit of the Austro-German forces were defeated with heavy losses to the Russians.

Italy Ready to Enter

Italian officers and men in Switzerland up to the age of 31 were ordered yesterday to rejoin their regiments immediately. Austrian and Bavarian forces are concentrating in the Tyrol. War between Italy and the Teuton allies is now believed to be almost unavoidable. There is said to be only a slender chance that an agreement may be reached between these countries.

BARNES-ROOSEVELT CASE

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 11.—Justice William Andrews, presiding in the supreme court in the trial of William Barnes, suit for libel against Theodore Roosevelt, remarked in refusing today to strike from the record testimony concerning Mr. Barnes on the one hand and direct primaries legislation, race track legislation, franchise tax legislation, and the opposition to Governor Hughes on the other that such evidence did not show any corruption or impropriety on the part of Mr. Barnes and that it was allowed to remain in the record simply and solely to show the plaintiff's position in the republican party.

Justice Andrews added that he considered that some of the evidence might bear upon the election in 1911 of a United States senator to succeed Chauncey M. Depew and that it should remain for that reason also. He previously stated in a discussion of that election, that any combination between the leaders of opposite parties was improper.

The court struck out a stipulation to the effect that there was "rottenness" in many departments of the state government. This stipulation was formulated from a statement made by John A. Hennessy, who was investigator for former Governor William Sulzer. The court held that no evidence had been produced which in any way connected Mr. Barnes with the matter.

The testimony of H. H. Vreeland, former president of the Metropolitan Securities Co., also was struck from the record. Mr. Vreeland told of contributing to a republican campaign fund. He was not permitted to answer a question as to whether he had also contributed to the democratic fund during the same campaign.

The court refused to strike out the testimony of Roscoe Irwin, collector of internal revenue at Albany. Mr. Irwin told of seeing Charles S. Murphy of Tammany Hall about appointments. The court here held that Mr. Irwin's testimony should remain in simply to show the position of Mr. Murphy in the democratic party.

Neither would the court strike out the testimony given by Loyal W. France, who swore that Mr. Barnes had told him he could vote the "rotten" of the democrats in the republican primaries and to disgust the people that they would demand a repeal of the direct primaries law.

The jury was out of the room during all of the arguments upon these motions.

In a discussion with William M. Ivins chief counsel for Mr. Barnes, Justice Andrews remarked that he considered the article upon which the suit was based libel per se because it charged a corrupt alliance between Mr. Barnes and Mr. Murphy. He added that one of the reasons he had allowed evidence upon the printing situation in Albany was to give the defense an adequate opportunity to prove, if it could, a corrupt alliance between "crooked business" and "crooked politics."

While the chill breeze nipped his lean shanks through their covering of baseball hosiery, Louie Pieper, length, Lanky Lou, led his crowd of Shoemakers through Merrimack Square a few minutes before 4 o'clock today. The Lynn baseball club had arrived for its first local diamond clash with the Lowell aggregation of Barrows.

It seemed strange to see Louie at the head of the Lynn team today. Where for years one had looked around for the Lawrence club whenever Pieper put in an appearance today it was the Shoemakers who responded to his beck and call.

However, although times may change and ball clubs swap owners and players come and go and various other things happen in the baseball world of New England, Lou Pieper remains the same Louie as of old. His face was lighted up with the same sort of smile that greeted everyone last season as he inquired as to the health of baseball in this city.

Lynn's a great town," said Louie. "I always liked Lawrence, of course, but you can't beat the shoemaking village for baseball. It's the greatest in the league I think and we're going to give the fans down there a real ball club at last." And it looks as though Pieper is right. Lynn has a very likely looking crowd of ball tossers this season.

For several weeks Pieper has been trying to procure the services of John P. Porter, the first sacker of the New London club last season. Louie had a good chance to look Quinn over in the post season series last fall and at that time made up his mind to land him if there was an opportunity. The opportunity arrived but not Quinn.

The reason why Quinn won't sign a Lynn contract is a Federal league proposition which he is considering, or at least that rumor has been given credence. Newark is the Fed club which is after Quinn's services.

Egan, a new catcher signed by the Lowell club, was expected to report here today. Manager Barrows said this morning that with Egan on his staff of backstops the team would be the sun shone department. Egan and Greenhalge will be the two catchers retained for permanent duty.

Although Old Lou beamed his pleasant upon the local ball tossers, he is still far from a lame knee. He is still making baseball a matter of overcoats and gloves. The luckiest spectators at today's game were the first base bleachers. There they saw the brightest and the wind was not so noticeable as across the third base stands.

Fred Lake, supervisor of New England umpires, was present at today's game. Frederick was here to look over the work of McGauley, who officiated at the game. Williams, a right hander, who drew his salary in the last season, was picked for mound duty by Pieper, while Zieser, was delegated for the Lowell hilltop.

The lineup was as follows:

LYNN
Porter 1b
Barrows 2b
Gleason 3b
Hoy 4b
Orcutt 5b
McMahon 6b
Lynch 7b
Carey 8b
Haight 9b

First Inning

Porter, the fleet-footed outfielder for the Lynn club, was the first batter to face Zieser. Porter's feetness, however, was not bringing into play after fouling off several good ones, he fell a victim on strikes. Mike Lynch, last year's Lawrence shortstop and this season's Lynn second baseman, also struck out. As usual, Michael was disgruntled with the entire universe and threw his stick into the bat heap. Gleason was easy for Zieser and Meyers on his weak roller to the box. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Swayne swung at one of Williams' curves and the result was a pop fly to Lynch. The Lynn infield showed a whole lot of ginger as it fielded the ball about the diamond. McGauley sent up a high foul fly which Gleason and Haight both attempted to get under with the result that an Alphonse Gaston not followed and the ball dropped between them. Mc showed his appreciation of this by singling to left. Barrows lifted a fly to short left which Hoyer was under. McGauley went to the bat and hit a line drive. Haight's leg to Moulton holding perfect. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 0, Lynn 0.

Second Inning

After getting Hoyer in the hole for two strikes Zieser walked the former major leaguer. Matty made a great play when he took outt's work fly on the first base foul line when the Lynn center-fielder attempted a bunt. Moulton smashed one of Zieser's bunters to left field for a two base out and Hoyer entered home with the first run of the game. Moulton went to third while Zieser was throwing out Carey at first. Zieser then passed Haight and Williams the visiting twirler, was up. Haight stole second without interference. Williams went out on a grounder to Zieser. The local pitcher took part in each extreme of all three batters, having one put-out and two assists in this inning. One run, one hit, no errors.

Stimpson opened the second inning for Lowell with a base hit to center. A fast double play was pulled off by Lynn when Meyers smashed a line drive down toward Lynch. Mike leaped into the air and snatched the ball with his gloved hand. Stimpson had started for second thinking the ball was going safe and Lynch's throw to Carey completed the double play. McMahon struck out and Lynn went to bat once more. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 0, Lynn 1.

Third Inning

Porter opened the third by lifting a fly to short left which Stimpson was under. Lynch came through a moment later with a long smash to right field. The ball rolling nearly to the fence. Mike completed the circuit before the ball was returned to the diamond. It was a home run, but Dee was miserably slow in handling the ball from the outfield. Zieser was wild and passed Gleason. The latter went to second on Hoyer's infield out. McGauley took a grounder to second. Zieser covered the bag. Orcutt went out on an infield fly to McGauley. One run, one hit, no errors.

Williams nearly beamed Dee and finally awarded him a pass. Miller, who worked behind the plate, as Greenhalge is still laid up with a lame knee, struck out Miller did not make an effort to swing at the third strike. Dee was forced out at second when Zieser drove a hard grounder at Gleason. Matty reaching first in safety. Moulton's throw to Carey was slow. Umpire McGauley warned the players on both benches to keep quiet. Manager Barrows ordered the pitcher, who severely and McGauley told Louis that he'd see the rest of the game from behind the fence if he did not keep quiet. The bleachers sent out a cheer for the ump and Louis yelled, "Now you're a hero." Swayne worked McGauley for a pass and then McGauley called for a strike. Barrows had one With Barrows at the bat, the crowd yelled for a hit. The first two pitched balls to Barrows were bad ones and held Captain Lynch held a long time. Barrows once more caught. Barrows smashed a double to center, scoring all three base runners and putting Lowell in the lead by one run. Barrows' second base while Lynch was waiting for him with the ball. The umpire called him safe and Lynch started an argument. The ump hurried behind the plate where Long Louis took up the argument. Pieper was ordered from the park, but he refused to go and McGauley called for a strike. Pieper's assistant, Louis decided to beat it, however, before the cop's aid was necessary and climbed into the grandstand from where he watched the remainder of the game. It was the liveliest scene that Springfield park has furnished this season. With Barrows on second, Williams passed up Stimpson. The big league pitcher was very wild and nearly beamed Meyers. The latter closed the inning with a strike-out. Williams gave five bases on balls in this inning. Manager Barrows once more qualified as a pinch hitter and the three Lowell runs were the direct result of his long drive to center. Three runs, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 3, Lynn 2.

Fourth Inning

Moulton started off the fourth with a single but was forced at second when Carey laid down a bunt intended for a sacrifice. Zieser took the slow roller and used excellent judgment in playing the ball to second. Matty also forced Carey on Haight's roller to the box. Williams was the third out on an infield fly which Meyers was under. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Lynch was in front of McMahon's bounding grounder and his throw to first nailed Billy. Porter did not have

Fifth Inning

Swayne came in on the run and accepted Porter's fly to short right field. Lynch stroled to first on four consecutive bad ones. Gleason's fly to left center dropped into Stimpson's glove. Hoyer drove out a savage single to left which advanced Lynch to the next station. Lynch and Hoyer executed a double steal. The double steal was of no account, however, for Orcutt singled Swayne in short right. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Haight jogged back of the plate and took Meyers' high foul fly. Williams hit McMahon and Billy, then stole second. Dee went out on a foul fly which Gleason took. Miller reached second on a grounder to center. Zieser covered the bag. Orcutt went out on an infield fly to McGauley. One run, one hit, no errors.

McMahon nearly beamed Dee and finally awarded him a pass. Sixth Inning

Mike Lynch went on the third base coaching line and Michael and the bleachers exchanged compliments. Moulton was awarded his base by the ump. Lynch went out of the coaching box and McGauley ordered his line of the bleachers. Zieser was wild and walked Carey. The umpire chased Lynch from the coaching line. Zieser gave five bases on balls in this inning. Manager Barrows once more qualified as a pinch hitter and the three Lowell runs were the direct result of his long drive to center. $86,000 LOAN ORDER FOR PAWTUCKET BRIDGE

At the regular meeting of the municipal council today, Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, brought in a loan order for $86,000 for a new Pawtucket bridge, and Walter M. Denman, of the Luten Engineering company of Springfield, presented a preliminary plan, and discussed estimates and costs. No action was taken on the order.

The council also adopted the order for 550,000 granite paving blocks as originally drawn. The paving contract had been objected to by Frank Maloney and there was talk at one time that the contract would be changed and the order redrafted, but the proposition went through today in its original form.

The council voted to borrow $8000 for sidewalk construction and put Commissioner Duncan's ordinance providing for the identification of automobiles belonging to the city of Lowell through all of the stages necessary for its ordination. All of this was preceded by a meeting in the mayor's reception room at which bills were approved.

Mayor Murphy called the regular meeting to order at about 11:30 o'clock with all members present except Commissioner Carmichael who is attending the annual convention of fire chiefs, being held in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The first business before the meeting had to do with gasoline and garage licenses and the following petitions ordered for a hearing today, were referred to Commissioner Carmichael and Fire Chief Saunders: Adair P. Demers, garage and gasoline; A. J. Swan, garage; Ardella M. Sanders, garage.

Damage Claims Entered.

The following claims for damage to property and bodily injuries were referred to the mayor and the city solicitor: Mrs. Mary Long for damage to fence at 117 Third street.

Stephen Sabatjean gave notice of having been injured by falling on the ice about opposite No. 337 Central street; said injury alleged to have been caused by defect in sidewalk.

The court also refused to entertain the claim that Horn had been illegally removed from Maine to Massachusetts.

Horn is held in the jail at East Cambridge awaiting trial on an indictment charging violation of the laws regulating the interstate transportation of explosives.

SAILING OF SISTER SHIP OF LUSITANIA CANCELLED

LONDON, May 11.—The sailing of the Cunard line steamer Lusitania, sister ship of the Lusitania, advertised for May 29, has been cancelled.

SAILINGS FROM NEW YORK

No General Cancellations Here—2355 Passengers on Steamers That Pass Through War Zone

NEW YORK, May 11.—No general cancellations of the sailings of steamers or of passages engaged from New York to European ports has followed the sinking of the Lusitania, according to agents of steamship lines here. They say, however, that there has been an increase in the popularity of vessels flying neutral flags. The fact that the American line has stopped booking third class passengers for the St. Louis, which is due to leave here May 15, was cited as an evidence of this.

No Sailings Cancelled

The agent of the French line said that the sinking of the Lusitania would not prevent them from sending their steamers across as usual. At the offices of the Scandinavian-American and Holland-American lines it was stated that no sailings had been cancelled.

Olympic to Sail May 14

Agents of the White Star line said the Olympic would sail from New York for Liverpool next Friday, May 14, according to schedule. Forty cabin and 500 steerage passengers already are booked for that steamer.

The Cunard Liners

At the offices of the Cunard line it was said that no instructions have been received from Liverpool regarding the sailings of its steamers and there have been no cancellations.

GERMANY FORCED TO IT

Official Statement Places the Responsibility for Loss of Lusitania on British Government

BERLIN, via London, May 11.—The following despatch has been sent by the German foreign office to the German embassy at Washington:

"Please communicate the following to the state department:
"The German government desires to express its deepest sympathy at the loss of lives on board the Lusitania. The responsibility rests, however, with the British government, which through its plan of starving the civilian population of Germany has forced Germany to resort to retaliatory measures."

"In spite of the German offer to stop the submarine war, in case the starvation plan was given up, British merchant vessels are being generally armed with guns and have repeatedly tried to ram submarines, so that a previous search was impossible.

"They cannot, therefore, be treated as ordinary merchant vessels. A recent declaration made to the British parliament by the parliamentary secretary in answer to a question by Lord Charles Beresford said that at the present practically all British merchant vessels were armed and provided with hand grenades."

"Besides it has been openly admitted by the British press that the Lusitania on previous voyages repeatedly carried large quantities of war material. On the present voyage, the Lusitania carried 500 cases of ammunition, while the rest of her cargo consisted chiefly of contraband."

"If England, after repeated official and unofficial warnings, considered herself able to declare that that boat ran no risk and thus light-hearted assumed responsibility for the human life on board a steamer which, owing to its armament and cargo, was liable to destruction, the German government, in spite of its heartfelt sympathy for the loss of American lives, cannot but regret that Americans felt more inclined to trust of English promises rather than to pay attention to the warnings from the German side."

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality, just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better. Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, barks and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

SURVIVORS OF LUSITANIA

DR. PEARL WAS SAVED WITH HIS WIFE AND TWO OF THEIR CHILDREN—TWO CHILDREN LOST

QUEENSTOWN, May 11.—Dr. F. Warren Pearl of New York, who was a surgeon major in the United States army during the Spanish-American war and was on the Lusitania bound for Belgium on Red Cross work, was saved with his wife, who has a broken arm, and two of their children. Two other children and two nurses employed by Dr. Pearl are missing. In the rush to the deck one of the nurses and two of the children were separated from the remainder of the family. Dr. Pearl left his wife in the care of Herbert S. Stone and Lyndon W. Bates, Jr., of New York, while he searched the ship for the missing members of the family.

Mrs. Charles Frohman distributing life belts. Mr. Frohman evidently did not expect to escape as he said to a woman passenger: "Why should we fear death? It is the greatest adventure man can have."

"When I reached the deck I found that one nurse and two of my children were missing. I discovered later that they got into a boat which was launched safely on the starboard side. I returned to the port side and jumped overboard just before the ship went down."

"I saw no signs of panic. Officers and crew apparently were doing everything possible to save the passengers but the explosion rendered the engines useless and it was impossible to slow down the ship."

"I did not know whether any of my family was safe until I got ashore, after three hours in the water in which I floated in the greatest ease on my life. When I reached the land I found my wife at Admiralty house, suffering with a broken arm."

"I soon brought two of our children to her. Two are gone but thank God that so many of my family were saved, especially when I recall that whole families have perished. I saw a father, mother and three daughters, all dead, clasped in each others' arms."

It was announced that the last event in the card tournament between Integrity and Wameest lodges was won by Wameest lodge 116 to 53. Integrity won out in the tournament by the total score of 331 to 324.

The players and their scores were as follows: Integrity lodge: Silk and Boutlier, 29; Lynch and Bailey, 21; Hutton and Hosty, 19; Gadbois and Henderson, 11; Batty and Freeman, 10. Wameest lodge: Humphries and Adams, 27; Smith and Atkinson, 25; McKinley and Brooks, 21; Lee and Boyden, 21; Miller and Corbett, 22.

The resignation of P. G. M. Edward T. Mackley from both staff and lodge was accepted as the condition of his health will not allow him to fill the duties of the office. Mr. Mackley has served as P. G. M. for 15 years and it was with sincere regret that his resignation was accepted.

Remarks of appreciation, eulogy and regret were made by N. G. William Hutton, P. S. Chadwick and others. President Boutlier called for a rising vote of thanks for P. G. M. Mackley's long and faithful service. Mr. Mackley spoke fittingly and said that he is ready and willing to assist at any time possible when he feels able to be present. 24 ALBANIANS

A party of 24 Albanians, separated into three groups and led by three different leaders, stopped at the Boston & Maine depot in this city for a brief space early this morning waiting to transfer for Manchester, N. H., where they expect to secure work in the McBlain Shoe Co.

The party included three boys, who are seeking this country for the first time, while the majority of the older members have been here before, and have worked in various shoe shops throughout New England.

The men in the group were dressed about the same as the everyday foreigner one sees on the streets of this city, but the boys were dressed in their native costumes. All three wore long tight-fitting breeches caught up below the knee, heavy woolen stockings, odd fitting jackets and funny-looking round hats. They attracted considerable attention.

One of the leaders spoke English fairly well and told the writer that the party had been on the water 20 days; during which time no trouble or sickness had been experienced. He said he was taking some of them to Manchester, N. H., where he expected to secure work for them and said that a Haverhill firm would give employment to a number of them.

J. A. HALL DEAD

Ex-Treasurer of Southbridge Bank a Cancer Victim

SOUTHBRIDGE, May 11.—Word was received here last night of the death at Stockton, Calif., of John A. Hall, ex-treasurer of the Southbridge Savings bank, whose absconding with the bank's funds and subsequent trial and conviction were a sensation five years ago. He was pardoned by the governor and council last December.

Mr. Hall was in his 47th year. Death followed an operation for what was supposed to be appendicitis, but proved to be cancer.

No defalcation of recent years caused the sensation or aroused such a commotion in the state as that of Hall in 1910. Hall, respected and honored in the community in which he moved as a conspicuous figure, was pointed out as one of the philanthropists of the town and county, a trusted servant and a man whose character was above suspicion until early in January, 1910, when the bank directors discovered a discrepancy in the treasurer's accounts.

Hall, who had subsequently sentenced to a term of 12 years in state prison on a charge of the larceny of $104,000, disappeared within a few days after the discovery was made. He was returned from New York and surrendered himself to the state police at Worcester. His sudden disappearance, during which all sorts of rumors were in circulation and a reward was offered for his apprehension; his subsequent trial, his sentence to imprisonment and his "conviction," created no less a stir in the commonwealth than did his unexpected pardon last December.

FOR STATE HIGHWAY

RESIDENTS OF CHELMSFORD WAIVE ALL CLAIMS FOR LAND DAMAGES — MEETING HELD

At a hearing given last evening by the selectmen of Chelmsford to the abutters on Gosham street, East Chelmsford and held at the East school, plans for the proposed state highway from Lowell to Billerica were discussed. The state has appropriated $25,000 and is ready to award the contract just as soon as the town of Chelmsford gives the state a release from all liability for land damages which may arise. The meeting was held for the purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the abutters towards the project, which was found to be unanimously in favor.

A special town meeting will be held in the near future at which it is expected the selectmen will be authorized to proceed according to law to adjust claims for land damages.

U. S. MUST SET PEACE EXAMPLE, SAYS WILSON

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—President Wilson gave to a gathering of 4000 naturalized Americans last night the first intimation of the course which the United States government probably will pursue in the situation resulting from the loss of more than a hundred lives on the British liner Lusitania. He spoke by implication, but his hearers interpreted his remarks as meaning that while the United States would remain at peace, it would seek to convince Germany of the injustice to mankind of the tragedy of last Friday.

"America," said the president, "must have the consciousness that on all sides it touches elbows and touches hearts with all the nations of mankind. The

TWO LOWELL WOMEN ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED

Mrs. Eugene C. Dunbar is at the Lowell General Hospital suffering from various injuries, including a broken shoulder as the result of an automobile accident near Point of Pines yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Lydia M. Stevens of 45 Highland street was with Mrs. Dunbar when the accident occurred and she, too, was injured but not as seriously as Mrs. Dunbar. They are not very far from the cause of the accident. They were driving toward Lynn when the machine overturned at Northern circle on the boulevard, near Point of Pines. Either the axle or a wheel collapsed, throwing the car over and pinning the women under it.

Arthur C. Pendergast, a tax collector of Revere, who was driving by, raised the car with the help of other men and lifted the women out. He took them in his own automobile to the park police station, where their injuries were treated by a physician.

Mrs. Dunbar had a cut over the left eye from the broken glass of the windshield, her right shoulder was broken and her right hip was injured if not fractured. Seven stitches were taken in her head after she was removed to the hospital. Mrs. Stevens, who had been driving, escaped with bruises to the head and arms. It was stated at the hospital this morning that Mrs. Dunbar had passed a fairly comfortable night. The accident was not due to fast driving as the auto was going at moderate speed when the crash came.

the flowers were a pillow inscribed "Husband," from wife, and a wreath inscribed "Brother," from the brothers. The hearse was William Graham, Irvin Pessley, James Slog and Robert Standon. Burial was in the Edson cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

GREENWOOD.—The funeral of Greenwood was held yesterday afternoon from his home, 132 Jewett street, Rev. W. Earl Pittenger, pastor of the Centralville M. E. church, conducted the services. The bearers were William Atkinson, Fred Beatty, John Whitehead, John McNamee, John Marden and John Fennelly, representing Wameit lodge, I. O. O. F. M. L. There were many floral offerings including: Anchor on base inscribed "shopmate," employees of Merrimack cloth room; and tributes from Myers family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cooper, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Quirk and Little Quirk; pillow inscribed "Husband," wife; wreath inscribed "Papa," tributes from the family. Burial was in the Edson cemetery where the services at the grave were conducted by the representatives of Wameit lodge. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker James W. McKenna.

LOWELL GUILD MEETING

MONTHLY REPORT READ YES. TERDAY SHOWS INCREASED SERVICE TO PUBLIC

The Lowell Guild held its monthly meeting at the Guild house, 17 Dutton street, yesterday afternoon. The business of the month was gone over and the superintendent read her report, which showed that the high average of last month was surpassed, the total number of visits made by the nurses being 1214. This included the visits to the insurance company policy holders, sixty in all, and new cases for the month, and also the 174 visits made by the milk station nurses. Fifty-nine babies were brought to the conference, equalling the high average of last month; six mothers were taught home modifications and four new modification stations were added on.

The conference is held on Tuesdays and Fridays, from 3 to 5 p. m., and any mother wishing help and advice is welcome. There is no charge for these conferences and a doctor and nurses are in charge.

During the month, the Guild has cooperated with the following organizations: Board of health, board of charities, Humane society, infant colleges and the Lowell Social Service League. The temporary relief given during the month included: 13 grocery orders, 25 quarts of milk, 4 boxes of children's clothing, 1 box of women's clothing, 2 pairs of shoes, 2 sheets and 2 pillow cases. The steadily increasing demand for the district nurses show that the service is being much appreciated. Anyone desiring a nurse can be accommodated by telephoning the Lowell Guild, 2121.

BRIDGE STREET TO HILDETH STREET

The following petitions for garage and gasoline licenses were ordered for hearing Tuesday, June 1, at 11 a. m.: Florence A. McCurdy, et al, garage; William T. White, gasoline; Frank J. Sherwood, gasoline.

An order providing for a sidewalk of edge-stones and cinders or gravel on the westerly side of Fairmount street, in front of premises numbered 75, was adopted.

An order to lay a sidewalk of edge-stones and cinders or gravel on the easterly side of Merrill avenue, from Methuen street, southerly about 116 feet, was adopted.

An order to lay a sidewalk of edge-stones and cinders or gravel on the westerly side of Merrill avenue was adopted as were also orders for a concrete sidewalk in front of 72-80 Adams street and an order to lay out and accept Du Merle street, from Pine street to Light avenue.

The petition of the Bay State Street Railway company and the Electric Light company for the erection of 65 poles on Princeton street was read by the mayor and Mr. Morse said the petition ought to be held up for the time being, but the order accompanying the petition was adopted, it being stated by the inspector of wires that the new poles would simply take the place of old ones.

Commissioner Duncan's Ordinance providing for the identification of auto plates belonging to the city of Lowell, did not meet with much discussion and was passed unanimously. The only remark concerning it was made by Mr. Morse, who said he would vote for it, but that the ordinance was not necessary. The purpose of the ordinance has already been published.

Granite Paving Blocks.—In presenting the contract for the purchase of granite paving blocks, Commissioner Morse read a statement giving the dimension of the blocks and the number of each size.

Mr. Morse said that the contract had been signed by the contractor, the Hillside Granite company, and the price stated in the same as presented by the contractor was $25.50 for paving blocks of the first dimensions and $2.50 for the larger blocks.

Commissioner Duncan said that the original street paving schedule for the present year called only for 226,600 blocks and he couldn't understand why Mr. Morse wanted 330,000 blocks. Mr. Morse explained that the call for 330,000 was in keeping with the estimate given him by the city engineer for the construction of a new sidewalk on the blocks for Dutton street. But Mr. Morse said that to use old blocks here in the process of continuing the example of America must be a special example. And must be an example, not merely of peace, because it will not fight, but because peace is a healing and elevating influence of the world and strife is not.

"There is such a thing as a man being too proud to fight. There is such a thing as being so right that it does not need to convince others by force that it is right."

Insults not Mentioned

These remarks precipitated a tumult of applause and patriotic enthusiasm ending by the waving of thousands of small American flags. The president made no direct reference to the Lusitania tragedy, but the audience did not hesitate to read the application of his statement.

The sentiment expressed in the president's speech was epitomized later by one of his closest advisers as "humanity first." While it had not yet been determined, he said, exactly what steps would be taken by the United States in the present crisis, the idea uppermost in the president's mind was to show that whatever course is adopted—no matter how vigorous—it will have as its objective the good of humanity. Introduced by Mayor Blankenburg, who, in distinctly German accents, spoke a welcome and an appeal for a single allegiance to the United States, the president carried forward the idea of the welding of foreign blood in the make-up of America by pointing out

ROBBED A BOY OF 90 CENTS AFTER CUNNINGLY FINDING HE HAD THE MONEY

Three boys, between the ages of 9 and 13 years, will appear in the juvenile court Friday as a result of a hold-up in an alley off Middle street early last evening. Ernest Auerbach, aged 19 years, reported to the police that he was robbed of 90 cents by three young bandits whom he could identify. He said he met the boys on the street yesterday and one tried to start an argument by saying he had more money than the victim. Young Auerbach agreed with him but when the stranger accused the lad of being "dead broke" he was more than he could endure and he displayed 80 cents in change. As soon as the eager eyes of the three lads spied the money they lured Ernest to Middle street and there pounced upon him, taking the whole amount and making a quick get away. A report was made to the police and last evening Inspector Walsh captured the alleged guilty ones and put them through the third degree.

Rosa had been in this country but three months when the crime was committed and claims that he was induced to go forward in the robbery by his companions. He now speaks the English language fluently.

SUPPORT YOUR PRESIDENT

Not since the dark days of Abraham Lincoln has an American president stood more in need of the unanimous support of the American people than now. For nine months or more our chief executive has had to wrestle with some of the gravest international problems that ever confronted the country—problems that in their solution will have a bearing on American history for all time. Many of these war questions have been so delicate and complicated that experts in international law have differed as to their solution, and on such solution the peace of the nation has hinged. Thus far our administration has been prudent, patient and wise beyond all expectation, but the gravest of all the war problems now clamors for immediate attention.

During these days of trial the ruling power in Washington is President Wilson. The secretary of state has undoubtedly a great moral force which he has occasionally exercised in the furtherance of ideals of peace and justice, but in all the intimate dealings with foreign governments, belligerent and neutral, the mind and hand which has shaped the American policies have been those of President Wilson. How heavy the load has been, we cannot now estimate, but history will surely give an exalted place to the man who in his quiet but masterful statesmanship has done everything possible to safeguard American liberties and stand for American rights without plunging us into the hellish struggle of Europe—a struggle which is, beyond question, the most fearful blight that has afflicted the world since the dawn of creation.

Not long ago, our government declared after grave deliberation that it would demand a strict accounting of any government that might injure American persons or property in the progress of the war. The time for such an accounting has arrived, and without passion or intemperance of thought or action, our government must carry out its announced policy. In their righteous indignation, the American people must do nothing that would embarrass their chosen representative or his advisers, but they must be ready to support him in any action that he may take. This is a time when all partisanship must be sunk, and when all patriotic Americans must give their absolute support to those at Washington who are face to face with an almost unprecedented responsibility.

It would be very easy for the administration at this time to take extreme aggressive action against the German government, with the approval of the American people. Many notable persons and influential papers have openly declared in favor of such a policy, but it would be inconceivably rash and premature. It is a time for patience and caution, and all who have any influence in shaping public opinion should recognize their awful responsibility to refrain from embarrassing their government by ill-advised appeals to passion. We may and we must voice the feeling of indignation which has swelled from shore to shore; we must express the natural feelings of sympathy that well up in our hearts on the recital of the wrong, but above all we must keep our heads at this most trying time. The nation's chief executive will in due time speak officially for the American people, and we must stand ready to support him in the wise course which he will undoubtedly take.

It has been announced from Washington that there will be no special session of congress. This means that the deliberations of the president and his cabinet will not be disturbed by the violent views of agitators on both sides of the question. It is intimated, however, that the calling of a special session of congress will depend on the possible answer of Germany to the protest which will undoubtedly be sent from this country. The administration must receive messages on the loss of the Lusitania with its precious American lives from both Germany and England, before acting, and it must also weigh well the possibility that any rash or radical action would be playing into the hands of a hostile government. By refraining from violence and hasty decisions, we may be a far more potent influence for restoring the peace of the world than by taking any action that would endanger the peace of this nation. The right attitude for the American people to assume is one of unbounded confidence in our powerful and patriotic directors—being ready while to stand as a unit behind President Wilson when he ultimately voices the government's decision.

HIGH SCHOOL SITES

It has been announced more than once recently that the city officials will soon select a site for a new or enlarged high school, and the fear has been expressed that publication of the plan would deluge our officials with offers from real estate dealers and private individuals with available land. While undoubtedly a call for possible sites would entail some work of selection and rejection on those who are to decide, undue privacy must have far greater dangers. It is for the best interests of Lowell that such an intention be given the widest publicity and that the high school problems be thoroughly and openly discussed before any official action be taken.

In the first place, the educational interests of our children and the convenience of the public must be taken into consideration. We now suffer from undesirable congestion and crowding, and any adopted scheme of improvement should remedy this. Our new high school should be near the transportation centre of the city if possible, and should be accessible to the pupils without undue hardship. If a second building is contemplated, it might well be erected at some distance from the present high school. Indeed, it might be necessary to erect it in the highlands or some other comparatively distant point. It is easy to sound public opinion on these questions and they are serious enough to warrant a publication of preliminary plans so that Lowell citizens and taxpayers may signify their approval or disapproval. If an unpopular site be selected, criticism will surely be general, and unless the public approve, it is useless to formulate elaborate plans.

Then again, in the selection of sites, it is necessary that we have full publicity so that all available sites may be considered with a view to getting the most suitable at a reasonable price. We must have a site within the financial resources of the city and secrecy in selection will not encourage competition. This is a matter which affects all of our people, and every site which is in any way suitable should be considered before a final selection is made. Publicity is imperative, both on the ground of economy and for the protection of the public from the machinations of a few dealers or the mistaken judgment of a few officials.

boys and girls, its parents and taxpayers, it is desirable that all who have possible sites to offer should write to the municipal council, through the city clerk, describing the site and all relating thereto and mentioning the cost. With a number of such offers before the public, it will be easy to judge them by the requirements of the case and decide on a few for final selection. It is only by the fullest publicity and the readiness of our officials to consider every desirable site, which is offered at a reasonable price, that the best interests of the city can be served. Any attempt to make a private matter out of the selection of a high school site, or to restrict it to the judgment of a very few, without sounding public opinion and leaving it open to competition, is not in line with the spirit of the city charter or sound municipal government.

THE SUBMARINE

Apart from the tragedy of the Lusitania in its moral aspects is the terrible proof it affords of the deadly efficiency of the submarine as an instrument of naval warfare. The prophecy that it will eventually do away with the great battleships of the past seems to be justified. Its entry into the war has created new conditions and made the past impossible, and for the present it is the mightiest of all the dreadful instruments of death which man has consecrated to the god of battles. When one thinks of the immense bulk of the beautiful and swift passenger ship almost immediately sunk by a slight torpedo, the awful power of the under-water craft seems appalling. With submarines enough, under present conditions, any nation could assert its right to the command of the seas.

ARE THESE YOUR SYMPTOMS?

Do you find your breath bad in the morning, a bad taste in the mouth, a coated tongue, a mean feeling in the head? Constipation, which these symptoms denote, is dangerous because it means that poisonous materials which should have been expelled from the body are being retained. It is a condition which, if not corrected, becomes chronic. The remedy is to stimulate the liver by the use of Pinkettes, the gentle laxative pills that do not grip or purge but simply assist nature. Taken regularly for a time, they really do correct constipation. Write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady N. Y., for a free sample or get a full-size, 25-cent bottle of Pinkettes from your own druggist.

and the threats of Germany can no longer be taken lightly. The English government does not seem to have made adequate preparation to meet the case, it indicates that China acquiesced in the case of the Lusitania, which was permitted to go into hostile waters unaccompanied, though a few days before at least two vessels had been torpedoed in that very locality. The revelations of the present war surely justify President Wilson's views that we should not plunge into any feverish naval preparations until time has demonstrated what is the most effective type of modern battleship. At present, many would allow that the submarine is the most efficient invention of naval warfare, and that nothing has as yet been done to limit its efficacy.

HONOR THE HEROES

If there is any ray of comfort in the sad tidings from Europe, relative to the loss of the Lusitania, it is afforded by stories to the heroism displayed during the last moments of the doomed vessel. One survivor declared that he saw Alfred G. Vanderbilt give his life to a woman and the incident does not stand alone. Every story told by those who escaped the tragedy reflects the spirit of lofty service that actuated many of the passengers and crew, and it is evident that everything possible was done to save those on board, especially the women and children. Unfortunately many passengers seemed to rely on the alleged safety of the vessel which had been declared unsinkable, but with the calm sea, the sight of the beautiful Irish coast, and the sunshine that shone over all, it was easy to hope for a final rescue. Once again it is shown to the world that the day of the unsinkable ship is not here, and it is also shown that even in the presence of death, man will rise superior to his surroundings. The names of many heroes of the massacre will never be known, but it will enable all men to reflect on such self-sacrifice at a time that tried the souls of the bravest. There is a tendency to criticize men of wealth as heartless, but young Vanderbilt, worth $70,000,000, was so considerate for his fellow-men in the face of threatened death that he handed over to a woman the life belt that would have placed him among the survivors. It was a brave, a noble, a heroic act.

LADY LOOKABOUT

I am forced to believe that the cause of much of the criticism aimed by men at our head-gear may be laid safely at the door of Luther Burbank. As the lecture on Mr. Burbank's methods, held at the Middlesex Women's club last week, were shown white, black, berries, blue roses, and black grapes and many mysteries were cleared up. The product of his wizard mind are a boon to the milliner. No longer need she confine herself to nature's paint-pot for new effects. Mr. Burbank produces in the shortest time, things that Dame Nature never thought of, and apparently his products are immediately snapped up as models. For each season brings us flowers and fruit of new and novel and colored. Long life to him. He came in a good time—just when the ladies needed him most to think up new things for their bonnets! He is a valuable man!

Auto Hand Signals

It is surprising to see how many automobile operators are indifferent or ignorant of hand signals. Just about half of them extend the left hand when they are turning to the right, and vice versa. It seems a very simple thing to remember, that the right hand must be extended when the machine is turning to the right, and the left hand when it is turning to the left. A wrong signal is much worse than no signal. A sign can make anything out of these hand signals and for all practical purposes they had better be dropped than maintained in such an audacious manner as at present.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do not have a bad after effect. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "biliousness" and that "icky" feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "icky" and heavy. Note how they "perk up" the spirits. At the end of each box, all druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

that Japan has modified its demands on China and that China has consequently accepted them. If such be the case, it indicates that China acquiesced in the more or less unwillingly in a situation that she could not well oppose. At a time of normal world relations, Japan would scarcely dare to make such pressing claims, and China would not show such a spirit of helpless subversion, but all great powers have present problems on hand which keep them from interfering in Oriental matters. Still, this nation and all interested nations will insist that the open door be maintained in China, and in this policy of the open door rests the germ of Chinese liberty. We cannot act hastily or openly oppose any power at this time, but if grave injustice has been done it will have to be undone at the dictation of world opinion when more pressing problems are settled. It may be the consciousness of this that has kept China so calm at a time when her most sacred rights were menaced and all her aspirations threatened.

BUSINESS LOOKING UP

Says the Springfield Union, referring to the improvement of business in all parts of the country:

The increase of the volume of bank clearings shown by the returns for April will be accepted as a further indication of an improvement of business taking place in the country as a whole. The figures make the best showing thus far exhibited in the present year, running slightly larger than a year ago and a new record in excess of the amount in the corresponding month of 1913. For this favorable comparison with the two previous years the credit must be given to New York City, whose stock market boom of doubtless was the main factor involved. But for the Metropolitan the total clearings would have been 2 1/2 per cent less than last year, and slightly less than in April, 1913. On the other hand, a falling off from last year in Boston is more than offset by a gain in several other New England cities, so that New England as a whole shows an advance. The most striking increase is that of Fall River where the clearings for last month were 33 per cent greater than in April of last year, while Hartford and New Haven, which are also showing a gain, were up 10 per cent and 1 per cent, respectively.

Coincident with this report comes the encouraging indication of an exceptionally large yield of wheat and excellent crops. When the stock market, bank clearings, farm reports and trade journals that deal with manufactured products reflect such prosperity, it is hard to deny that prosperity is upon us.

was to listen to Gov. Walsh when he addressed the Lowell Teachers' organization at the Normal school Tuesday evening, the plan for the extension of education must have made its appeal, and I cannot help feeling that if the governor's plan were more widely known, it would receive the sanction it so well deserves. We, of Massachusetts, are prone to point with pride to our system of public schools, both elementary and secondary. We love to boast that we offer to all, not only free, but compulsory education, and furnish all text books and supplies without cost. But in all our pride and all our boasting, we forget that great army of boys and girls, who by force of circumstances, are compelled to leave school as soon as they are of working age. We overlook the fact that our so-called free public schools are free only to those who can afford to avail themselves of them.

These facts were brought forcibly to the attention of Governor Walsh when he visited the great correspondence school of Scranton, Pa. He found that from Massachusetts alone, there are enrolled 90,000 students—men and women who feel within them capabilities of greater and better work than they now are doing. They are paying this private concern for their wages, often meagre, for the education which they were obliged to forego in their own state by reason of circumstances which will readily suggest themselves. It is this condition which Governor Walsh aims to correct in his bill, so to come before the legislature. It would seem that every member of the general court who has the proper regard for his neighbor—use the word in its broadest sense—will give the bill his support.

Vile Perfumery

If I were a man and patronized a barber shop for my shave, I would object strongly to the heavy perfumery most barbers use on their customers' faces. Sometimes in a barber's shop, the odor of this perfume has come to me so strongly from a freshly shaved man, that I have been made positively ill by its strong, heavy sweetness, suggestive of tuberoses and geraniums. I fail to see the necessity of it anyway. It certainly does not add to the effect of a good shave, as far as I can see. Some women of extreme taste perfume to a nauseating extent and thereby make themselves ridiculous. In some cases the good, strong, "healthy" smell of onions is less offensive.

Speaking of shaving, the next time you see a freshly shaved man with many tiny cuts adorning his countenance, just ask him the cause. Invariably he will answer without a suggestion of a smile, "I did it with my safety razor," and he is absolutely unconscious of the humor of the situation.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

TO WASH FINE LINENS

"Look at that centrepiece," almost sobbed Marjorie as Marie dropped it one morning. "It is ruined and I tried so hard to wash it carefully."

"Perhaps you didn't do it right," comforted Marie. "You should never put fine laces, dollies, centrepieces, etc., into the regular wash. Don't wash these fancy linens without removing stains first. Fruit and berry stains can be removed by pouring boiling hot water through the linen. Tea, coffee, and claret stains will also yield to the boiling water. Salt and lemon juice will take out peach and mildew stains. "Do not iron embroidered articles without first making a heavy pad of Turkish toweling or old blankets to lay underneath them. Always use a piece of thin muslin between the iron and the dolly and iron the wrong side. Do not iron lace trimmed articles until you have ironed the lace first. Otherwise you will wrinkle the lace and find it hard to iron."

"Do not fold your napkins the same way every time or they will wear out on the fold. Change the manner of folding now and then. The same holds true of tablecloths. Get a flat dolly holder for your fancy linens. This you can make by covering two rounds of cardboard with odd bits of cretonne, linen or silk which you have in the place bag."

"Well, what about these curtains?" queried Marjorie. "They look all pulled out of shape and so terribly stiff."

"Try having your curtains and over-curtains laundered without starching. They will hang in straight, natural folds, without the rakish strut that starch gives them," advised Marie. "If your windows are short, do not drape your curtains back, but let them fall straight over the windows to the lower sill. If windows are unusually high the awkward length of the curtains may be lessened by draping them back a little below half-way down. "Curtains at French windows and doors should not be allowed to hang loose, but should be run on rods at top and bottom of the glass pane, just as glass door curtains are arranged. If curtains are taken down and thoroughly brushed occasionally they will not require laundering so often," Marie replied.

WILLIAM E. LIVINGSTON CO.

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

Twenty-five years ago Thursday of this week, the late James W. Bennett, then a well known contractor, began the work of tearing down the old St. Peter's church at the corner of Gorham and Appleton streets. The work was done for the present post office, the site of which at that point had been decided upon after a long-drawn-out but interesting controversy. The late Rev. Dr. Roman, pastor of St. Peter's, having presented the location to the government, without cost.

When St. Peter's parish decided to part with the old structure, at Fr. Roman's suggestion, one member of the parish raised decided objections to leaving the old edifice, his motives being based on sentimental grounds. He had been married there, had worshipped there every Sunday and holy day; his children had been baptized there and had been instructed in the principles of the faith within its walls; and there, too, had been held solemn services over the remains of some of his dearest friends and he did not want to give up the dear old church for a new edifice. He admitted that a new and more splendid church undoubtedly would be soon forthcoming to succeed the old place of worship, but to him it would have none of the hallowed memories of the old brick structure, about which he had similar feelings but they had implicit confidence in their pastor and agreed to the demolition of the old structure.

McCullough Wouldn't Give Up

But there was one other man named McCullough who held up the proceedings by persistently refusing to give up his pew. He held a lease of the pew for a year and defied the church authorities to evict him by law. He refused to consider compensation for his claim. The newspapermen made several visits to his house in Williams street trying to get him to discuss the matter but he steadfastly refused until one evening one of the reporters "led" his goat to use a modern expression, and immediately he broke his silence, and probably would have broken the reporter's neck, had the latter not beat a hasty retreat.

There had been opposition to the offering of the church property to the government by members of the parish who were interested in other sites, and when Mr. McCullough persisted in his opposition, it occurred to one of the reporters that the old gentleman might be acting in the interest of the other site-owners, and he decided to put his suspicion before the man. Accordingly accompanied by a couple of other newspapermen he went to Mr. McCullough's house one evening and after the old gentleman had repeated that he had nothing to say on the matter, the reporter finally burst forth with:

"Is it true Mr. McCullough that you are being paid by certain persons to object to giving up your pew?"

Rushing for a huge poker that reposed beside the kitchen range, the irate old gentleman cried out: "Get out of my house, ye blackguards," and he made a rush for the scribes that for speed was exceeded only by that of the latter in getting down a flight of stairs into the street.

The allegation probably had the desired effect on the old gentleman for a short time afterward when the late Fr. Roman went to see him again, he withdrew his opposition and the work of demolishing the old church proceeded.

St. Peter's parish was organized in 1841 by Bishop Fenwick on the suggestion of Rev. Fr. McDermott, then pastor of St. Patrick's, at that time the only Catholic parish in the city. At a meeting those in favor of building a new church were asked to subscribe towards its cost, and $8900 was pledged at that time. On August 1, 1841, the land at the corner of Gorham and Appleton streets was secured from the Hamilton company and a building was erected at a cost of $22,000. On Christmas day, 1841, the first services were held in the unfinished church but it was not dedicated until October 6, 1841, and Rev. Fr. Conway, curate at St. Patrick's, was appointed its first pastor.

By prearrangement the original subscribers to the building fund had the prior right to the auctioning of the seats. A deed for each pew was issued in Bishop Fenwick's name and was held as any piece of personal property. A collection was immediately taken up for an organ and one especially built while an excellent choir was organized by John Quinn, and Mrs. Smith, a non-Catholic was engaged as the soloist.

Painting of Crucifixion

Few of the present parishioners of St. Peter's, especially among the younger generation, appreciate the value as a work of art and a relic of the great painting of The Crucifixion which in the present edifice is located in the vestibule on the left side as you enter at the stairway leading to the basement. This picture dates back to the founding of the parish and has an interesting history. Through the assistance of Mr. Charles Gilliam, an Italian resident of this city, and his brother, who at the time resided in Italy, the picture was contracted for when the parish was started in the early '40s. It was not placed in position in the church for some time later. Money was collected for it but when it was found that the picture could not be delivered at once the money was placed in the building fund to be taken out when the arrival of the picture demanded it. This did not occur until after or just before Fr. Conway's successor, the late Fr. Cruden was appointed.

It is not known who the artist was but when the painting was removed from the old edifice by Harry J. Rock, a well known local artist of a quarter of a century ago, and the first artist to furnish pictures and cartoons for the old Sun, he found indications that the picture was much older than was generally supposed. He found upon it the inscription: "Pupil of Michele Jerome, Rue-Paris and 'Restored 1812'." Mr. Rock said the painting had every appearance of being a work of one of the old masters. Its size is 2x12 and it represents the Saviors death on the cross. At the foot of the cross are three women, Mary, the mother of Jesus, Mary Magdalen and another. The ravages of time had destroyed the flesh thus leaving a dull white body color, but there remained much in the drawing and in the coloring to show that the work was one of more than ordinary merit. Michele Jerome is supposed to have been the artist of that name who died near the close of the 18th century. The painting according to Mr. Rock, at that time, was over a century old, although he expressed the opinion that it might have been only restored 100 years before. It was restored for St. Peter's church in 1843.

Another quarter of a century has elapsed since the above description of the painting was published yet it stands today in St. Peter's in comparatively good condition, apparently impervious to the effacing influence of time.

The Doves of St. Peter's

Surmounting the old St. Peter's church was a tower that was the favorite rendezvous of a large number of doves, and throughout the process of demolishing the old church, the birds hovered about the ruins and when all was gone but a few spears of the framework they perched on these as if to deplore the loss of their home. The pitiful plight of the doves suggested the following lines written in The Sun quarter of a century ago by Edward J. Gallagher, the present editor of The Sun:

LAMENT OF THE HOMELESS DOVES

Ah! for our home
In St. Peter's church dome.
For our beautiful home 'neath the
It is ruined and gone.
Yet the speller works on,
Disregarding our terrible loss.
From the earth to the sky
In our sorrow we cry—
All around and around it in woe,
As we watch the tower
Growing less every hour,
And the roof-tree appearing below.

There we lived many years
Free from danger and fears,
Just above the St. Peter's church chapel;
And we forth flew at will
Over valley and hill,
Far away on the wings of desire.
And wherever we'd roam
The gold cross on our house
Always beckoned us back by its sheep;
But alas! it is gone
And the speller works on,
Neither tower nor cross now are seen.
Ah! how oft the sweet strain
Of the organ's refrain,
Brought us joy at the close of the day;
On the Sabbath all bright,
What a source of delight
Was the melody floating away.

Nevermore we can rest
In our heavenly nest,
Near the altar with incense perfumed;
Nor shoot upward with prayer
To the realms of air,
By the sunlight of heaven illumed.
Dear loved tower (farewell,
When St. Peter's church bell
Calls the faithful to worship elsewhere.

Denver—the Colorado Rocky Mountains—Salt Lake City and the Sierra Nevada. That's the Route, and our special all the way conductor is on hand to tell you about it and look after all the details.

Call or write and let me tell you about these "Personally Conducted," low fare parties to California that have helped to make the "Burlington Route" service famous.

Homeless now is each dove
From the beams of its love.
On a treacherous world outcast,
Whither now shall we fly,
Must we perish or die?
Not a shelter from storm or blast.

Then alas for our home
In St. Peter's church dome,
For our beautiful home 'neath the cross.

It is ruined and gone,
And the speller works on,
Disregarding our terrible loss.

Anniversary of C. M. A. C.

The C. M. A. C. which in its younger days was known as L'Association Catholique, is 25 years old, a flourishing and influential organization with Capt. Arthur St. Hilare, of The Sun pressroom at its head. It observed its first anniversary on May 13, 1890, in modest manner with a May festival, which was reported by the old Sun as follows:

"The grand Fete de Mal festival of L'Association Catholique to celebrate the first anniversary of the formation of the society was held Tuesday evening and was a grand success. The attendance was so large that the hall at times was uncomfortably crowded, and the entertainment was of a very pleasing character. The association band was in attendance and played several selections during the evening. There was a chorus from the association choir; a recitation by Miss Lizzie Sullivan; a song by Cyrille Constantineau; a performance on musical glasses by S. Lagasse; wire-walking by Arthur V. Vilen; club swinging by Mr. Carpenter and several tableaux. A medal that was sent from Rome was presented to Wilfred Barrette for the best work done for the society. The following are the tables with the names of the ladies in charge: Flower table: Mrs. Mongeau, Mrs. Jacques and Miss Jolli; apron and fancy work table: Miss V. Le Claire, assisted by Misses McColl; Sincery, Cosette and Guimond; fruit table: Misses Raymond, Gill, Vigeant, Duplessis and Gosselin; candy table: Miss Andrieu, Lambert, Lamont, Langue and Nogue. The refreshment table was in charge of Miss Lucier."

Mr. Harris Ranked Highest

Says the old Sun:
"Six applicants appeared before the civil service examiners Tuesday, four being for the higher and two for the lower clerical service. The ranks obtained ranged from 65.2 to 83.5. The highest rank was obtained by Henry H. Harris. Those examined were Henry H. Harris, Fred A. Wright, Fred W. Coburn, Guy Morey, Carrie E. Hadley and John G. Noble. Mr. Harris evidently did not need recourse to the civil service for a position for subsequently he became a school teacher and at present is principal of one of Lowell's leading grammar schools, the Varnum. Fred Coburn and Guy Morey are associated at the C. B. Coburn company in Market street."

Reception to Departing Travelers

European travel was much safer quarter of a century ago than it is under existing conditions and there was considerable of it enjoyed by Lowell people in those days. The old Sun had the following item:

"A reception was tendered Monday evening to the members of the Kirk Street church, who are going abroad for the summer. Their names are: Mrs. Jacob Rogers and the Misses Rogers. Miss Melvin and party consisting of Mrs. and Miss Kilson, Miss Minnie Cumnock, Mrs. A. S. Lyon and son, Dr. and Mrs. Dana and their daughter, Miss Jennie Rose, Mrs. Frank Battles, Mrs. D. W. C. Farrington, and Mr. and Mrs. Stratton."

Capt. Worthen Met Old Comrade
Says the Sun of quarter of a century ago:
"The annual competitive drill of the Mass. high school regiment took place at Wakefield on Saturday and was quite an important event for the young people. The Lowell battalion turned out in full numbers and was accompanied by Mayor Palmer, Principal Coburn, Assistant Sherburne and Irish School

SOCONY MOTOR GASOLINE

The GASOLINE of QUALITY

THE red, white and blue SOCONY sign is a new mark for motorists. Wherever it is displayed it means that you can get SOCONY Gasoline—the new name the Standard Oil Company of New York has given to its famous "Standard Gasoline."

It means you get a high-grade, uniform product. Not a mixture, not a cent-or-two-less preparation, but a straight-distilled refinery product—the kind that is cheapest in the end.

influence with the years and as they grew the conditions under which they members labored became improved. Today the Lowell mule spinners cannot be called the poorest paid in the United States.

Here's another interesting item from the old Sun:

"On Wednesday John F. Lynch, a letter-carrier on the Belvidere route delivered 2535 pieces of mail, which it is believed goes far above the average record."

On first thought it would seem impossible for one carrier to deliver that amount of mail in one day even quarter of a century ago when the letter carriers were fewer in number and did more work, going from early morning until late in the evening. Yet that record of quarter of a century ago doesn't compare with the records of today for it is a fact that nowadays one carrier has delivered about 4000 pieces of mail in one day.

The carriers in the down town district have much more mail to carry than those on the outskirts but the latter have much more walking to do than the other fellows and hence the work even itself up.

Speaking of labor matters, quarter of a century ago according to the old Sun, Cardinal Gibbons speaking on the question said he thought that the labor problem will be solved first in this country, "for here we submit everything of that nature to the test of reason, common sense and thorough criticism and truth is evolved from this full and free discussion of the social question."

KLAXON MAN COMING

EXPERT TO VISIT LOWELL—AUTO DIFFICULTIES EXPLAINED—OTHER AUTO NEWS

Thursday, Friday and Saturday there will be an expert from the Klaxon factory at Pitts, Hurd street, who will attend to the wants of all owners of Klaxon horns whether they were purchased at this popular shop or elsewhere. Mr. Pitts was fortunate indeed when he secured Mr. Peter Peiffer, Jr. of the Klaxon to come to Lowell. Mr. Peiffer, it will be remembered, was at Pitts last year and remained here for two days repairing and explaining in a very satisfactory way the Klaxon horns to owners. During his stay here on that occasion he made many friends by his willingness to please. No doubt many who met him last year will drop in this time to have a little chat and renew old acquaintances. Mr. Peiffer is one of the three men sent out by the service department of the Klaxon people. The Klaxon horn has the broadest kind of a guarantee that possibly could be with any product. It is guaranteed for life and is insured against everything. There is no charge, no obligation for this service.

Hubert Girard, proprietor of the Howard street garage who hurt his hand recently is rapidly recovering and it is but a matter of a few days before he will be in trim once again.

Harry Pitts, chief marshal of the automobile parade, predicts that at least one thousand cars will parade on the Fourth of July.

Anderson Tire shop, Paige street is making record sales of auto tires. These phenomenal sales are not confined to one make alone but all the different makes which are carried there are proving popular.

The automobile truck of Boss 4 is now at the Sawyer Carriage shop. Written street where it is being painted into first class condition. At this same shop a large number of machines are in the paint department and are receiving new coats of paint. Every year this department turns out a surprisingly large number of painting jobs.

Harry Pitts and George H. Robertson, the well known racer, were last friends years ago when they were chauffeurs together in Boston.

Valuable Knowledge
If there is anything that you would like to know about your car you have but to send your query to the automobile editor of the Sun and the answer to your difficulty will be published on the automobile page on the following Tuesday. Your questions will be answered by George H. Robertson the famous racing driver who has won over the course of his 1500 races the winner of the race here in this city. A more complete knowledge of the care and operation of your car or motorcycle means a great saving and much auto trouble is done away with. Send in your questions as early in the week as possible and thus cooperate with the automobile editor in this matter.

MOTORCROME FOR NEW YORK
NEW YORK, May 11.—New York is at last to have a motorcrome. The Sheephead Day Speedway corporation was incorporated recently with $2,500,000 capital. The famous Sheephead Bay race track, formerly owned by the Coney Island Jockey club, has been purchased. Here will be built a two-mile motorcrome, which it is proposed shall meet high speed requirements up to 140 miles an hour. Accommodations for 200,000 spectators will be provided.

On this course beginning next autumn it is proposed to hold annually at least two great international races for a $50,000 purse in each, a 24-hour mid-summer contest and a series of matinee events for stock cars. Carl G. Fisher, the founder of the Indianapolis Speedway, has consented to accept the presidency of the new company. Evan Thompson, director of the Yale Bowl, will be general manager.

Patrick Flannery of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co. will participate in several track events this coming summer.

The Carpenters' union, local 49 will meet tonight in Carpenters' hall and business of much importance will come up for transaction.

Frank Bacheller, formerly one of the leading orchestra drummers of the city has accepted a position with the U. S. Cartledge Co.

Foreman Coughlin of the woolen carding department of the Bigelow-Hartford Co. has severed his connection with that concern.

The many friends of Miss Anna Burrows, of 174 West Sixth street, will be pained to hear that she is lying seriously ill at her home.

It is reported that Louis Desrosiers, the popular floor walker at the J. L. Chaffoux store, will purchase a touring car of the latest model.

Frank Finnerty of the Saco-Lowell shops made a strenuous appeal for the "Indies" being present at the coming outing at the meeting held last night.

Electrician Jordan, covered his connection at the local plant of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co. last Saturday to take up a new position in Hartford, Conn.

One of the most prominent members of the labor forward committee, who undoubtedly is a candidate for the municipal council at the next election, and they do say he will have the undivided support of the labor men of the city.

The new buildings being erected for the U. S. Cartledge Co. in South Lowell are rapidly nearing completion, and the machinery will soon be installed. There are about 200 girls employed at the South Lowell plant at the present time.

Thomas Keyes, employed by Mullaney & Co., plumbers is having the "clutch" on his one cylinder, Harley Davidson motor-cycle repaired at the Helme Electric Co. The "spark" will be inspected next week, says Tom, and then the machine will be in excellent running condition, for the rest of the summer.

Bottlers' Union
A routine meeting of the Bottlers' union was held last night in Cotton Spinnery hall, Middle street at which number of reports and communications were read and referred to the proper committees. The financial and numerical standing of the organization was reported to be in splendid condition.

Municipal Employees' Union
The Municipal Employees' union held a largely attended meeting last night in Trades & Labor hall, Middle street but only business of minor importance was transacted. William Gordon reported on the work being done by the labor forward committee and the sec-

The project soon after its conception began to take on larger and more comprehensive proportions. It quickly broadened into a scheme not only for a motorcrome, but for a great arena for the promotion of outdoor sports on a gigantic scale, including polo, aviation, football, military tournaments, baseball and athletic games.

LUBRICATING CYLINDERS
In any car that has not been used for a number of weeks, the lubricant in the engine gradually drains down to the bottom, so that the pistons and piston rings especially are practically metal to metal contacts with the cylinder walls, that is, they are entirely unlubricated.

It is obvious under these conditions that if the engine is started up, the moving parts are likely to run hot and seize before the oil has a chance to run through the engine.

Therefore, in starting up your car, after it has been laid up for several weeks, put a big tablespoonful of lubricating oil in the cylinder before starting the engine. This, of course, should be admitted through the priming cocks, and almost any grade of oil will answer this purpose. If a superior grade of lubricating oil is not available, that is, you can use a light or medium weight gas engine cylinder oil, or machine oil, or even castor oil, as the only object of this lubrication is to interpose an oil film in the cylinders, breaking the metal-to-metal contact of pistons and cylinder walls for a few moments, until the regular lubricant has an opportunity to work down through the engine and perform its function.

AUTO AND INCOME TAX
The national income tax returns furnish a lot of food for thought, especially to those of modest resources who have hesitated about buying an automobile.

It appears that of the cars registered in the United States only about 100,000 are owned by persons having an income of $3000 a year or more, while about 851,000 are owned by those who receive less.

"This does not mean that vast thousands of people owning automobiles cannot afford it—not at all. It means rather, that a great percentage of the American public has come to look upon motoring as a comfort and a convenience that pays dividends in health and efficiency. Most owners find that the expense of maintaining an automobile is easily met by pruning other indulgences, less attractive and beneficial.

A great majority of those of limited means who buy cars are thrifty folks, primarily proved by the fact that they have the money to buy a car in the first place. You will find most of them improving their condition during their ownership of the car, the next best possible proof.

MOTORCYCLES IN MANY FIELDS
On May 16 the Crotona Motorcycle club of the Bronx, New York city, will hold its first annual endurance run. The course will cover 224 miles, to Monticello and return.

A 100 per cent. F. A. M. motorcycle club has just been organized at Homestead, Pa.

AUTOMOBILE QUESTION BOX

EDITED BY GEORGE H. ROBERTSON

NOTE—In these columns every Tuesday Mr. George H. Robertson, America's foremost automobile authority, will give expert advice to motorists on how to repair and operate their machines. Automobile readers of THE SUN are invited to send in questions or problems they may wish to have answered. Such questions will receive attention in due time. Address all communications: Automobile Editor, Sun, Lowell, Mass. Communications must bear the signature and address of the sender, though not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Is the knuckle meant to drive the front wheels or is the axle meant to drive the same? What do the front wheels ride on? If there is an axle that goes through the front wheels, in what position does it lay?

F. T.

The steering knuckle is composed of the front axle yoke, the large vertical pin and the small axle arm, as it is called, upon which the front wheels ride. The axle arm runs through the bearings of the front wheel in a horizontal position.

I have an auto and do not know whether it has a carburetor or vaporizer. How can I tell?

J. E. L.

A carburetor has a float chamber, the float keeping the gasoline supply constant with the needs of the motor. A vaporizer is a mixing valve which has no float.

Will you kindly answer the following questions?

1. How can you tell when a valve needs grinding and how would you grind and test the valve?

2. How would you time the valve of an engine as to opening and closing relative to the position of the piston or crank pin?

3. How would you scrape in bearings of the crank shaft and how would you determine when they are properly set up?

4. Explain the procedure in fitting new connecting rod bearings to the crank pins.

5. If you put new gears in the transmission and they were noisy, what do you think is the trouble and how would you remedy it?

W. G.

1. The loss of compression generally denotes a leaky valve. Use a heavy grinding compound for the first cut and a fine compound for finishing. The valve, in order to be right, must be without "pl" marks.

2. It is good practice ordinarily to start to open the inlet valve when the piston is on its way up on the exhaust stroke about one-eighth of an inch before it reaches the top. The other openings and closings take care of themselves.

3. Crank shaft bearings should be hand scraped and fitted without scratches and cuts. When the proper fit has been attained, the shaft should be able to spin one or two revolutions by hand.

4. Scrape in these bearings in the same way. The connection rod should make one complete turn when thrown over by hand.

5. It may be that the gears fit too snug. It is a hard matter to overcome a noisy transmission without trying a new set of gears. Some grease compounds will deaden the sound a little.

Will you kindly state in your column what benefit is derived from using oversteered tires on a B-26, 1911 Buick?

E. J. G.

You will find by using oversize tires it will be possible to overcome to a great extent most of your tire trouble. Of course, punctures are always a bug-bear, but oversize tires will give a much easier riding car.

How would you time a twin cylinder Indian motor cycle?

H. T.

You will find everything marked. Line up the lives on both gears with the marks in the motor base. Line up the mark on the face of the flywheel with the mark on top of the motor base and drop the flywheel into position.

Which produces the better results, when the spark plug is on side of the cylinder or on top, and why?

H. L. M.

It is generally conceded that the greater number of sparking points there are distributed in a cylinder, the quicker the gas is ignited and the heavier the explosion. A plug situated in a position not squarely over the piston head will not explode the mixture as quickly as one set in the center of the combustion chamber, because it fires the charge from the side, causing a comparatively slow burning charge, while the plug set directly over the piston head will explode the centre of the mixture, causing a faster burning charge.

If two or three plugs were used in one cylinder the charge would be ignited in the two or three points, causing a very much faster burning charge and naturally increasing the power in proportion.

LOWELL HAS GOOD CLUB

Pitching Staff to Blame for Early Reverses—Locals Should be in Pennant Fight

With more than a week of the New England league playing season passed into history, Lowell, on her showing thus far, looks to have a chance at the flag. The team, as a whole, appears to have possibilities, although it is very raw at present.

Consistent team work has not been apparent in the games played this season, which is explained by the fact that both infield and outfield are unaccustomed to playing with each other. Dec and McCleskey worked together last season in the last few games but Myers and McCallum are both new men in the infield combination, and it takes time for an infield to accustom themselves to each other's style.

It is nearly time now, however, for Lowell to strike its most effective pit in the outfield Barrows is becoming better acquainted with Swayne and Stimpson, his two playmates in the outer garden, and the infielders are also rubbing on the rough edges. So that the fans can expect a better appearing squad of ball tossers at Spalding Park before long.

Lowell Team Strong
The Lowell team is a strong aggregation this season, aside from its battery department. The pitchers, aside from Zieser, have not shown better than fair calibre up to date. Lohman hasn't demonstrated himself to be any better than last season. In the game he worked against Worcester, Paddy Green did not look particularly good and was taken out of Saturday's game on account of poor control. Green complains of a sore arm. Houser made a force of Saturday's game against Manchester, by passing a flock of batters in a row. Mayhew was banged severely by Manchester the day before. And there are our pitchers.

There's got to be something done with one pitching staff and done shortly if the local club expects to bring home the long end of the score. Of course, few pitchers are in shape now for their best work but they should be down here enough to at least win a ball game when their clubmates pile a dozen or more hits behind them.

Greenhalge is the only experienced catcher on the team. Miller, a recruit, goes all right in Stimpson's shoes—but he hasn't the experience or at least doesn't appear to have it. A catcher must have that faculty of keeping a ball club on its toes every minute and a backstop who can do this is not a real backstop. Greenhalge will do very well but he isn't able to catch every game of the season. Perhaps Miller will prove to be the necessary second catcher but if he does not the local team will be obliged to get hold of a first class milt and maul artist.

Myers looks O. K. at first base. He handles himself well around the bag, takes his throws in good style and shapes up like a heavy stickler. He looks them over well at the plate and when he takes a swing he sure leans on that timber.

At second McCleskey hasn't come into his own yet. Mac showed that he was good infielder last season in the games he played. He hasn't played up to last year's form as yet. McCleskey comes from Georgia, however, and this may account for his slow development.

Dec at shortstop is going along in great style. His figure in last week's batting list read .522. He has made two rather costly errors this season but they all do that. Dec, if he gets a good start, is liable to have the best season of his career.

McCallum at third has proved the holding sensation of the league. Billy hasn't performed with the stick to any great extent but his snappy work on fast grounders and difficult drives has cut off many runs.

In the outfield Swayne and Stimpson are showing the same speed of last season chasing fly balls. Manager Barrows isn't as fast as either Swayne or Stimpson but his war club makes up for this. Stimpson and Swayne are also heard from regularly in the hit column.

With more effective pitching and a little more co-operation among the infielders there isn't any reason why Lowell should not win the large majority of her games. The local club looks much better than either Fitchburg or Manchester and is at least as fast an aggregation as that gathered by Jesse Buckett this season.

Lowell Boxer Knocks Out Johnny Keely in Three Rounds

May Meet Frankie Burns in Near Future at New York Club

Gardner Brooks, the brilliant bantamweight boxer of this city, knocked out Johnny Keely of Allentown, Pa. last night in the third round of a scheduled ten round bout before the members of the Olympic A. C. of New York.

The Lowell boy entered the ring a favorite over Keely, but few thought that the bout would terminate so quickly. In fact none but his manager, Jerry Patton, and a few close advisors thought that Brooks could put his husky opponent away.

Keely is a rugged, aggressive fighter and botes in from the top of the ring, he forced in once too often last night, however.

Brooks boxed him at long range and poked him with his powerful left hand until the Pennsylvanian was just where he was. In the second round Keely was nearly done for the pace proved too fast for him.

With the opening of the third session the local boxer began to use his right hand. Two right hand smashes were landed on the Pennsylvanian's side of the head and a few close advisors thought that Brooks could put his husky opponent away.

THE LADY'S WORKBAG

Crepe de chine handkerchiefs are the last cry in that department of feminine accessories. Of course, one of the points which commends them is that they may be laundered in the wash hand basin, since they need only be dried and shaken gently.

Clusters of dots in colors are at the corner of fine linen handkerchiefs such as ultra-smart dressers are wearing with shirt-waist costumes, also in colors. The border of the handkerchief matches either the shirt's stripe or its necktie, cuff links and belt.

Also, for mornings are handkerchiefs with inch-broad borders of pale green, blue, mauve or tan. If one is very particular about the smaller accessories, these are embroidered with initials at one corner with colored floss. In the case of other very new mouchoirs the coloring—a green, pale blue or neutral toned ground—with a white border. Pale gray, is considered very smart, indeed.

Darning stockings often becomes a problem when holes are large, and especially when one's eyesight has to be regarded. Why not patch them? Here is an easy way to do it: Place over the darned egg a piece of a discarded stocking, hold firm with your left hand, now slip the torn stocking over this, let the weave of the stocking run in same direction as the part you hold over the wooden egg, cut the raw edges from the hole and sew to the covered egg. Use silk as this doesn't cut the weave.

Now remove, turn and trim away the patch all but one-half to one inch. Slip over the darned egg again and sew the edges to the stocking good and firm. A little pressing will finish this easy and otherwise tedious job. This patch will not hurt a tender foot and if well matched in color will not be noticed.

Silk stockings are always more expensive if purchased already embroidered, but plain ones can be obtained and given a touch of hand-work by the home needlewoman. Almost any spray, wreath or scroll pattern could be arranged with very good effect.

One can buy in the various stores initials by the yard, woven in red or blue outline stitch on narrow stripes of linen tape. These letters are used for marking plain underclothing, etc. They are of great use to the mother with a large family, who has neither money nor time to spare on embroidery, and who finds it necessary to have some distinguishing mark on the clothing, especially when there are two children the same size.

The letters are cut off from the strip when needed and overcast on the inside of the garment, any place where it will be invisible when worn. When this system is used even stockings are easily paired. Sew each child's initials at the top of the stocking of the first pair, use a blue cross stitch on the second yellow on the third, etc.

It is an easy matter to sort even a large pile of stockings; two A's with red crosses—a pair for Mary; two M's with green crosses, another pair; while two J's with blue crosses are a pair of stockings belonging to Jack. If two children have the same initials—

SLEEPYTIME TALES

BY VIRGINIA VALE

FOR THE LITTLE READERS OF THE SUN

NORA AND THE FORGET-ME-NOT

Once upon a time, a great many, many years ago, a little girl lived with her parents in a small cottage near some deep woods. One day Nora, that was the little girl's name, went for a walk into the woods. After she had walked some ways she saw a beautiful little blue flower growing among some moss. She stopped to look at it for she had never seen such a flower before and, just as she was going to pick it to carry home, she heard a great rumbling noise and, looking up, saw a stone roll away from a cave in some rocks.

She was so eager to see what was in the cave that she forgot the flower and ran inside. There she found great piles of gold and some beautiful jewels so she took off her apron and filled it with the gold and jewels, and turned to go out and run home to her parents.

As she did so the two stones rolled together and caught fast her apron with all of the gold and jewels. She was glad it was only her apron and not her that was caught between the stones and she started to run home and tell her mother about her adventure when, all at once, she heard a little voice say: "Don't forget me," and as she turned to look there she saw her little flower that she had thought so lovely.

Nora picked the flower very carefully and wrapped it in some of the moss and ran back to her home. When she told her mother what she had seen her mother said: "We must be very, very thankful that it was only your apron that was caught. I think you were a very lucky little girl to get back home safe."

Nora went out into the yard and very carefully planted her little flower and in a few weeks it had grown into a big plant and had many more blossoms. Nora called it "Forget-me-not" and that is how the little blue flower was named.

A shirred shade is made in one piece and then adjusted over the wire frame. Fringe makes an excellent finish for the gathered or shirred shades, with rather wide galleon at the top. If tan is the dominant tone in your room, a very beautiful shade could be made of a reddish tan silk covered with gold tinsel.

KEITH'S CLOSING SHOW

WHILE NOT AN EXPENSIVE ATTRACTION MADE HIT OF SEASON

Keith's theatre closed its vaudeville season last week with the most talked about and best attended attraction of the entire season and thereby hangs an interesting story relative to the tastes of lovers of vaudeville and the fickleness of vaudeville audiences.

Everybody who attended last week's show when asked about it expressed the same opinion: One of the best vaudeville bills I ever saw.

Others said: "Now if the Keiths could would spend the money and get good people all the time they'd draw packed houses every week."

Now as a matter of fact last week's bill was one of the least expensive bills as far as cost to the management is concerned, of the entire season. Frequently Manager Pickett has presented bills that have cost him double what last week's attraction cost, and some of these expensive bills that demand big money because of their general drawing ability did not draw at all in Lowell and weren't even considered good acts.

Then again from the standpoint of a manager or promoter, last week's bill was not strong, as it had too much sameness, there was a similarity of acts that precluded the variety that a vaudeville bill must have to make it popular, and yet the Lowell audiences simply "ate it up."

Having studied his audiences Manager Pickett has tried to impress the booking agencies that it was a bill like last week's that caught the crowd in Lowell—a bill with good, high class singing acts; a bill with plenty of laughter. He got what he wanted for the closing week and the receipts of the house for that week will convince the Keith "higher-up" officials that the local manager knows his audiences and incidentally his business. Many people stopped Manager Pickett during the week and assure him that they would fill the theatre for a second week, but he informed them all that they are all booked elsewhere and could not be secured, though they may return later.

Of course the fact that a talented little Lowell girl, Miss Ethel Sharrow, was on the bill helped some in drawing the crowds but in the main the fact that each act was pleasing to all was what got the people going.

Manager Pickett is now going in for pictures and he says he thinks he knows what the Lowell audiences want for pictures and is going to supply them. He has started out well for the first week's attraction.

NIGHTLY BEAUTY RULES

The well-groomed business woman you meet in the train or car each morning is the one who has spent a few moments the night previous in the preparation of her daily toilet. Where the rising hour is an early one the business woman cannot afford to make a leisurely toilet. A few little attentions to oneself in the evening will mean much toward the hurried morning catching of trains.

One or two warm baths at night a week should be interlarded with those of tepid temperature. From five to ten minutes is sufficient in the daily bath. Where a tub bath is not desired, a sponge off in tepid salt water is suggested. This followed by a short alcohol rub, prevents one from taking cold. A brisk rubbing should follow all baths in order to get the blood coursing more freely.

Sometimes a bath at night is found to be too relaxing or exhilarating, and accordingly a woman must determine this in accordance with its effect upon herself. While massaging the face one may rest the roots of the hair at the same time by taking out the pins and shaking it over the shoulders.

Under no circumstances, unless illness prevents, should a woman retire without washing or creaming her face. This is especially true where powder and rouge is used, for when these are permitted to remain, they clog the pores and encourage pimples.

Cleanse the face, neck, arms and hands with your favorite soap or prepared meal. The amount of soil and grime that it is possible to accumulate in a single day is surprising, especially when part of the time is spent in the city or traveling on trains.

BIG SEA FIGHTERS ON REVIEW IN NEW YORK HARBOR AS NATION FACES CRISIS

Hotel Register Bill Hits Snag—Rep. Jewett in Speaker's Chair—Other Matters

BOSTON, May 11.—During the temporary absence of the Hon. Channing H. Cox of Boston, speaker of the house of representatives, Mr. Victor F. Jewett, of Lowell, was called to the chair yesterday, to preside over the deliberations of the assembly. Representative Jewett, who was elected to the speaker's chair in 1910 and received the congratulations of his colleagues at the time of the election, presided over the session with the same dignity and grace as he has shown in the past.

The sinking of the Lusitania and the situation which President Wilson faces as a result, was the subject of a formal speech by Speaker Cox.

"Not since Fort Sumter was fired upon has public sentiment in this country been so inflamed as it is today," he said.

"The United States stands face to face with a grave situation, more grave perhaps than we realize. It is the hour when men of all faiths and beliefs should stand as one man behind President Wilson and testify to our confidence in him, and to our belief that he will cause an official inquiry to be made as to the responsibility for the slaughter of innocent Americans on the high seas and that then he will perform his full duty."

"But as men having influence in this old commonwealth, may I urge you to impress upon all your fellow men the danger that may arise from unbridled speech, and for the substitution of passion for reason. It is the hour when each of us should show by speech and by action that our first duty lies in

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probably nine cases out of ten already evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, is the most important and effective remedy. The best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity, in a few moments. Fermentation, in a few minutes, is dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisulphate of magnesia, which can be obtained at Liggett's pharmacy or from any drug store, and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. P.

1. FLEET GOING UP NORTH RIVER. 2. SAILOR SIGNALING ON WYOMING. 3. ADMIRAL FLETCHER. 4. BIG GUNS ON WYOMING.

NEW YORK, May 11.—When the armada assembled in New York harbor for review everybody seemed to realize that in case the United States was called upon to assert its rights the Atlantic fleet would be the right arm of the government, and there was much speculation as to how Uncle Sam's warships would acquire themselves in time of need. Needless to say, the consensus was that the big fighters and their men would show themselves worthy of the glorious traditions of the American navy. This occasion is quite different from that of three years ago when the fleet was reviewed by President Taft. Then the mobilization was just a great, big, wonderful show, but this time it comes when half of the world is at war and at a moment when the country is horror stricken as a result of the frightful marine disaster, a disaster due to war and not to an accident, as was the case of the Titanic.

DEMANDS OF ITALY

WANTS ALL OF TRENT, TRIESTE, AND ISTRIA—WILL GIVE AUSTRIA COMMERCIAL GUARANTEE

PARIS, May 11, 1.40 a. m.—Another version of the territorial concessions Austria is said to have proposed to Italy has been printed by the Matin of Naples and telegraphed to the Havas agency by its Rome correspondent. According to this report, Austria is willing to cede part of the province of Trent to Italy together with a strip of territory in the region of the Isosno river which empties into the gulf of Trieste. Trieste itself is absolutely excluded as well as Istria and Pola.

The Italian cabinet is said to have considered these concessions insufficient and made a counter proposition demanding all of Trent up to Brenner (a mountain pass of Tyrol on the railroad line connecting Innsbruck with Bozen, and offering the shortest route between central Germany and Italy) together with Trieste and Istria, including Pola. Italy, the paper asserts, will insist upon obtaining Trieste but is ready to give Austria commercial guarantees.

The Havas correspondent says he is able to state that the Italian government has demanded of Vienna a definite answer with a fixed time. He adds that in the best informed circles there is no real hope of a peaceful settlement although Pope Benedict has sent Emperor Francis Joseph an autograph letter asking him to yield in order to avoid another war.

John McCormack Negotiating for Famous Estate in Ireland

John McCormack, the Irish tenor, has rented a house and grounds at Tokeneke park, on the Sound, a short distance from Stamford, Conn., where he proposes to stay the latter part of October. In November he will join the Chicago Opera company for a limited number of engagements, after which he will make another extensive concert tour.

It is understood that Mr. McCormack has also concluded negotiations for the purchase of a historic castle and estate near the Vale of Avoca, in County Wicklow, Ireland. Mr. McCormack owns a fine home in Hampstead Heath, London, but it is closed up until the war shall end.

He is planning another extensive tour in 1916, when he hopes to visit Buenos Ayres, and other points in South America, in addition to Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, China, Japan and other parts of the Orient.

Hub Police Think Man Caught at Hartford is Famous Lone Bandit

HARTFORD, May 11.—As the climax to a spectacular street chase through the busiest section of the city last evening, John R. Meakin, aged 38, of this city, believed to be the much-wanted Boston lone bandit, was shot in the back by Detective Lewis Melberger just as he was about to plunge into the Park river to seek freedom on the other side.

At the Hartford hospital last night it was said Meakin's wound, while serious, was not necessarily fatal.

The 32-caliber bullet entered the back, passed above one kidney and nearly through the body. It was easily removed.

Meakin is alleged by the Hartford police to have been one of the old "Sheldon street gang," now disrupted. He has been convicted of theft in this city.

Inspector Lynch of Boston was seated in Hartford police headquarters at the moment that Melberger, a crack shot, was chasing Meakin. He was mightily pleased last night, especially when a score of Meakin's cronies is alleged to have proved his identity and connection with Boston holdups.

When the Boston police after considerable work heard that the man wanted might have come from Hartford, several names by which the man was known in Boston were submitted to the Hartford detective bureau. Looking over the list of clichés, the local police selected Meakin's picture and sent it to Boston.

When it was shown to the lone bandit's victims it is alleged they readily identified Meakin.

TOKIO, May 11.—The Japanese foreign office is drafting a treaty with China based on the acceptance of the provisions in Japan's ultimatum including the restoration of Kio Chau.

Admitting that the public is displeased with the results of the negotiations the conservative press is urging the Japanese to exercise self-restraint with regard to China.

Advices from Peking state that it is believed there Russia will demand privileges in North Manchuria similar to those granted Japan in South Manchuria.

"Duffy's a Lasting Benefit"

Her husband relieved of stomach trouble of 12 years standing, Mrs. Zink wrote us over two years ago as follows:

"My husband suffered with stomach trouble for over 12 years, during which time he doctored with three doctors who gave him no relief. He kept growing worse, had to be very careful as to what he ate, as things always soured on his stomach, but thank God, after taking three bottles of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey he was entirely cured. He still takes it as a tonic and we would never be without it. He now looks fine and weighs 180 pounds. I can highly recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach trouble."—Mrs. Fred F. Zink.

She now writes that Duffy's is keeping them both in health:

"I am glad to say that my husband and I are still using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. He is as healthy as can be, and says that Duffy's is a flesh builder remedy that can be guaranteed to make any thin person stout. It is certainly increasing my weight fine."—(Signed Mrs. Fred F. Zink, 2223 Saratoga Street, New Orleans, La.)

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

That's why it helps improve the appetite and digestion, aids in making new rich blood, assists in rebuilding worn-out tissues and feeding starved nerves. It's a medicine for all mankind which has stood the test for generations, and today men and women everywhere know from actual experience that they can always
